Lost Drum The Myth Of Sexuality In Papua New Guinea Beyond:

The Lost Drum James F. Weiner, 1995 A fascinating sophisticated anthropological psychoanalytic consideration of certain Papuan myths that deal with lost or detached objects which although destined to complete the missing parts of persons instead elude their control or incorporate the whole person rather than being reincorporated themselves Like sexual organs they have their own embarrassing powers of extensibility intrude themselves into people's desire swallow other objects organs persons and discourses Introduction Paper edition unseen 19 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Dreams, Gender, and Artisanal Mining in Papua New Guinea Dan Moretti, 2025-10-01 Up to 200 000 Melanesian men women and children work as artisanal miners yet their lifeworlds are seriously under researched This ethnography of a multigenerational community of migrant miners in Papua New Guinea shows that dreaming mediates how they experience and manage gold mining Men argue that they alone can mine successfully by forming oneiric marriage bonds with the spirits of the land Women draw on their own dream experience to challenge this asserting their equal capacity to marry spirits and their right to mine For women and men alike dreams provide legitimations of agency and commentaries on mutual dependencies and moral obligations in the domestic domain and between humans and nonhumans Out of Place Michael Goddard, 2011-04-01 The Kakoli of the Western Highlands of Papua New Guinea PNG the focus of this study did not traditionally have a concept of mental illness They classified madness according to social behaviour not mental pathology Moreover their conception of the person did not recognise the same physical and mental categories that inform Western medical science and psychiatry in particular was not officially introduced to PNG until the late 1950s Its practitioners claimed that it could adequately accommodate the cultural variation among Melanesian societies This book compares the intent and practice of transcultural psychiatry with Kakoli interpretations of and responses to madness showing the reasons for their occasional recourse to psychiatric services Episodes involving madness as defined by the Kakoli themselves are described in order to offer a context for the historical lifeworld and praxis of the community and raise fundamental questions about whether a culturally sensitive psychiatry is possible in the Melanesian context Gender in Amazonia and

Melanesia Thomas Gregor, Donald Tuzin, 2001-11 Amazonia and Melanesia are half a world in distance yet their cultures bear similarities in the areas of sex and gender This work looks at ways in which sex and gender are elaborated obsessed over and internalized Papua New Guinea's Last Place Adam Reed, 2004 What kind of experience is incarceration How should one define its constraints The author who conducted extensive fieldwork in a maximum security jail in Papua New Guinea seeks to address these questions through a vivid and sympathetic account of inmates lives Prison Studies is a growing field of interest for social scientists As one of the first ethnographic studies of a prison outside western societies and Japan this book contributes to a reinterpretation of the field's scope and assumptions It challenges notions of what is punitive about imprisonment by exploring the creative as well as negative outcomes of detention separation and loss Instead of just coping the prisoners in Papua New Guinea's Last Place find themselves drawing fresh critiques and new approaches to contemporary living Creative Land James Leach, 2004 What is creative in kinship How are people connected to places James Leach answers these questions through formulating creativity as an integral part of kinship on the north coast of Papua New Guinea The book contains a new critique of the genealogical model of kinship suggesting that this model prevents us from grasping the way generative relations including those to land and place constitute persons on the Rai Coast Analytic attention is focused upon the life cycle marriage exchange and artistic production as the activities in which substantial connection is generated The argument made in relation to detailed ethnography yields a fresh perspective on the connections people trace to each other Oral Traditions of Southeast Asia and Oceania Herman C. Kemp, 2004 Tree Leaf Talk James F. Weiner, 2021-01-07 This is the first book to explore the relationship between Martin Heidegger's work and modern anthropology Heidegger attracts much scholarly interest among social scientists but few have explored his ideas in relation to current anthropological debates The disciplines modernist foundations the nature of cultural constructionism and of art even what an anthropology of art must include are all informed and illuminated by Heidegger's work The author argues that many contemporary anthropologists in their concern to return subjectivity and voice to their interlocutors neglect to recognize that language and other representational practices conceal the world and human subjectivity as much as reveal it The author also suggests that Heidegger's critique of western technology provides the basis for a return to anthropological sociological foundations Emerging from over ten years of original research and drawing on a rich knowledge of Australian and Melanesian ethnography this book reassesses the underlying framework of modern and particularly visual anthropology Innovative and provocative it will be of interest to all anthropologists philosophers and students of art and culture

Masculinity, Motherhood, and Mockery Eric Kline Silverman, 2001 An important ethnographic analysis of motherhood in one Melanesian society Making Sense of AIDS Leslie Butt, Richard Eves, 2008-05-09 In Melanesia rates of HIV infection are among the highest in the Pacific and increasing rapidly with grave humanitarian development and political implications There is a great need for social research on HIV AIDS in the region to provide better insights into the sensitive issues surrounding HIV transmission This collection the first book on HIV and AIDS in the Pacific region gathers together stunning and original accounts of the often surprising ways that people make sense of the AIDS epidemic in various parts of Melanesia The volume addresses substantive issues concerning AIDS and contemporary sexualities relations of power and moralities themes that provide a powerful backdrop for twenty first century understandings of the tensions between sexuality religion and politics in many parts of the world
