Love And Infertility:

Journey of Hope: Love, Marriage, and Overcoming Infertility at 40 Samantha Fitts, Ed.D.,2020-08-16 There are some women who don't have a desire to get married and have children. However, Samantha was not one of them. Many women in their late 30s and early 40s postpone marriage or childbearing to obtain their education, establish their careers, and become financially secure. Unfortunately, this sometimes leads to difficulties in finding Mr. Right or conceiving or both. This can be an arduous and heartbreaking time of life when it seems lifelong hopes and dreams of family may not be possible. Samantha delayed marriage until the age of 36 after she'd pursued advanced degrees and established her career, not entirely by choice, since Mr. Right hadn't entered her life sooner. At times she wondered if it would ever happen. Once married, she and her husband wanted kids right away, only to suffer a miscarriage and the devastating diagnosis of infertility. In this book, Samantha shares her extraordinary journey of hope. You will discover how her faith in God and perseverance led her to the right husband and overcoming infertility to have their first baby at 40. Don't give up on your dreams; whatever they are, you still have time. Author Dr. Samantha Fitts is an educator, specialist, special education, literacy, education leadership, and adult learning professional, development presenter, and motivator. She has been in education for over twenty years. She is extremely passionate about helping others reach their professional and personal goals in life. Love someone who is Infertile is a guidebook for the husband, sister, friend, or parent who can't fix a loved one's infertility and may feel helpless. What you do when she is facing the greatest crisis of their life can either lessen her pain or add to her grief, but in either case, the relationships will be changed profoundly. This book invites the reader into her world and gives specific and practical guidance: what to say, what to do, and what to never say. One of the most consistent statements made by infertile women about friends and family is they just don't get it: the devastation, the loneliness, anxiety, and pain. This guidebook brings hope to the reader who finally understands what an infertile woman needs and how to walk alongside her. This book is readable and inviting; it uses a magazine-type layout to draw in the reader with pictures, quotes, stories, and practical advice.

Claire: A Mother's Journey from Infertility to Love Claire Jager de, 2024-11-02. After trying, longing, and waiting for the gift of motherhood, Claire shares her raw and emotional story of infertility, loss, and unwavering hope. Her journey takes us through the devastating lows of failed fertility treatments and the incredible highs of finding love through adoption and embracing a bi-racial family that challenged societal and familial expectations. This book is not just about the pain of infertility; it's about the power of love, resilience, and family bonds built from the heart, not just from blood. Claire opens up about the joys and challenges of raising children from different racial backgrounds while facing the prejudices and misunderstandings that came with her decision. Sex, Love, and Families Julie Hanlon Rubio, Jason Edward King, 2020-03-30. 2021 Association of Catholic Publishers first place award in theology; 2021 Catholic Media Association

Award first place award in marriage and family living Six years into the papacy of Pope Francis Catholics are still figuring out how to respond to his image of the church as a field hospital a church that goes into the streets rather than remaining locked up behind closed doors Marriage and family are primary sites of the field hospital called to meet people's need for healing and accompaniment with compassion and love The authors of this collection all lay a mix of single and married traditional and progressive Catholics take up this work They offer practical wisdom from and critical engagement with the Catholic tradition but avoid rehashing decades old theological debates Instead their essays engage with and respond to realities shaping contemporary family life like religious pluralism technology migration racism sex and gender incarceration consumerism and the call to holiness The result is a collection that envisions ways that families can be places of healing and love in and for the world

Love, Joy, and Sex Stan Chu Ilo, 2019-07-30 There is no papal document that has generated as much interest controversy and debate in recent times as Pope Francis's Amoris Laetitia This document which came out of two very divisive synods of Catholic bishops and leaders in Rome in 2014 and 2015 will probably be the most discussed document ever produced by a pope in modern Catholicism on marriage and family life This volume has gathered seminal commentaries on Amoris Laetitia by African Catholic theologians social scientists and pastoral workers They offer African theological and pastoral responses to the principles and practices proposed by Pope Francis and the Synod on the family on such contested issues as same sex relations divorce and remarriage and reception and denial of Holy Communion in the church among other divisive issues These important essays and commentaries show the strengths and weaknesses of this papal commentary and point out the missing link in the global conversation on marriage family and same sex relations

Their argument for the inclusion of African perspectives and moral traditions in the search for a third way in finding an inclusive and integrated pastoral art of accompaniment is very compelling. The authors here also call for the inclusion of Africa's own unique challenges like polygamy, childless marriages and the impact of migration, civil conflict, diseases, ecological and population crises and the rights of African women in the global discussion on marriage and family life. They also challenge uncritical clichés in world Christianity that Africa's opposition to same sex marriages or Western propaganda about population or birth control and contraception are conservative while showing diverse African conversations on these topics in the search for abundant life on this beautiful continent.

Eat Pray Love Elizabeth Gilbert, 2006-02-16 One of the most iconic, beloved and bestselling books of our time. This beautifully written, heartfelt memoir touched a nerve among both readers and reviewers. Elizabeth Gilbert tells how she made the difficult choice to leave behind all the trappings of modern American success, marriage, house in the country, career and find instead what she truly wanted from life. Setting out for a year to study three different aspects of her nature amid three different cultures, Gilbert explored the art of pleasure in Italy and the art of devotion in India and then a balance between the two on the Indonesian island of Bali. By turns rapturous and rueful, this wise and funny author whom Booklist calls Anne Lamott's hip yoga practicing, footloose younger sister is poised to garner yet more adoring fans.

African Women and the Shame and Pain of Infertility Damasus C. Okoro,2020-06-24 In African Women and the Shame and Pain of Infertility An Ethico Cultural Study of Christian Response to Childlessness among the Igbo People of West Africa Okoro discusses the shipwreck that is associated with infertility in marriage in Africa Within this space childlessness places a big question mark on a woman s femininity and the self esteem of the man The stigma of infertility most often leads to social isolation and humiliation particularly of married women even when the source of infertility may not have come from them Unfortunately this situation goes against the highly valued Igbo ethical principle of onye aghala nwanne ya meaning no kith or kin should be left behind Therefore the purpose of the book is to help married people in Igbo land and Africa at large to appropriate this indigenous principle in their response to the problem of infertility To attain this the author critically evaluates discrimination and oppression of infertile couples particularly women and shedding light on the paradoxes found in Igbo cultural expressions He employs a constructive ethical cultural religious contextual and theological approach that explores important Igbo religious paradigms like Chi an Igbo religio cultural understanding of personal destiny and Ani the feminine deity in charge of the land and fertility to argue the case for the liberation and integration of infertile couples

The New Arab Man Marcia C. Inhorn, 2012-03-25 Middle Eastern Muslim men have been widely vilified as terrorists religious zealots and brutal oppressors of women The New Arab Man challenges these stereotypes with the stories of ordinary Middle Eastern men as they struggle to overcome infertility and childlessness through assisted reproduction Drawing on two decades of ethnographic research across the Middle East with hundreds of men from a variety of social and religious backgrounds Marcia Inhorn shows how the new Arab man is self consciously rethinking the patriarchal masculinity of his forefathers and unseating received wisdoms This is especially true in childless Middle Eastern marriages where contrary to popular belief infertility is more common among men than women Inhorn captures the marital moral and material commitments of couples undergoing assisted reproduction revealing how new technologies are transforming their lives and religious sensibilities And she looks at the changing manhood of husbands who undertake transnational egg quests set against the backdrop of war and economic uncertainty out of devotion to the infertile wives they love Trenchant and emotionally gripping The New Arab Man traces the emergence of new masculinities in the Middle East in the era of biotechnology

Labor of Love Heather Jacobson, 2016-03-15 While the practice of surrogacy has existed for millennia new fertility technologies have allowed women to act as gestational surrogates carrying children that are not genetically their own While some women volunteer to act as gestational surrogates for friends or family members others get paid for performing this service The first ethnographic study of gestational surrogacy in the United States Labor of Love examines the conflicted attitudes that emerge when the ostensibly priceless act of bringing a child into the world becomes a paid occupation Heather Jacobson interviews not only surrogate mothers but also their family members the intended parents who employ surrogates and the various professionals who work to facilitate the process Seeking to understand how gestational surrogates perceive their vocation she discovers that many regard surrogacy as a calling but are reluctant to describe it as a job In the process Jacobson dissects the complex set of social attitudes underlying this resistance toward conceiving of pregnancy as a form of employment Through her extensive field research Jacobson gives readers a firsthand look at the many challenges faced by gestational surrogates who deal with complicated medical procedures delicate work family balances and tricky social dynamics Yet Labor of Love also demonstrates the extent to which advances in reproductive technology are affecting all Americans changing how we think about maternity family and the labor involved in giving birth For more visit <http://www.heatherjacobsononline.com>
