Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress. It is published daily when Congress is in session. The Congressional Record began publication in 1873. Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789-1824, the Register of Debates in Congress 1824-1837, and the Congressional Globe 1833-1873. Hawthorne's Habitations draws on letters, manuscripts, and the author's little studied French and Italian notebooks to present a portrait of four fascinating locations in the middle of the nineteenth century and offer a convincing portrait of the way place informed Hawthorne's melancholy psychology and dark style. News, Gender and Power Stuart Allan, Gill Branston, Cynthia Carter, 2002-01-31. How do gender relations affect the practice of journalism? Despite the star status accorded to some women reporters and the dramatic increase in the number of women working in journalism, why do men continue to occupy most senior management positions? And why do female readers, viewers, and listeners remain as elusive as ever? News, Gender and Power addresses the pressing questions of how gender shapes the forms, practice, institutions, and audiences of journalism. The contributors, who include John Hartley, Pat Holland, Jenny Kitlinger, and Myra MacDonald, draw on feminist theory and gender-sensitive critiques to explore media issues such as ownership and control, employment and occupation status, the representation of women in the media, the sexualization of news, and audience research. Within this framework, the contributors explore media coverage of the trial of O.J. Simpson, British beef and the BSE scandal, the horrific crimes of Fred and Rosemary West, child sexual abuse, and false memory syndrome, the portrayal of women in TV documentaries such as Modern Times and Cutting Edge. Chicago Tribune, 1973.

This book explores our changing relationship with meat as food. Half storytelling and half historic work, it analyzes the way in which humans have dealt with the idea of eating animals in the Western world from 1900 to the present. The story part of the book follows the rise and fall of meat and illustrates how this type of food has become a problem in a more emotional way. The historical component informs and offers readers key data. The author draws on theories of circular societies, smart cities, and smart countries to explain how and why forms of meat production that were common in the past have since all but disappeared. Both components, however, explain why meat has been important and why it has now become a problem. In tracing the fall of meat, the author identifies a host of dilemmas. These include fossil energy, pollution, illnesses caused by eating meat, factory farming, and processed foods. Lastly, the book offers a possible solution. The answer focuses on new forms of meat obtained without killing animals and, in a sense, resembles renewable energy. Overall, this unique cultural history offers revealing insights into how meat affects social relations.
