Power Of Contestation:

Maurice Blanchot on Poetry and Narrative Kevin Hart, 2023-05-18 Blanchot and his writings on three major poets Mallarmé Hölderlin and Char provide a decisive new point of departure for English language criticism of his philosophical writings on narrative in this study by leading Blanchot scholar Kevin Hart Connecting his work to later leading figures of 20th century French philosophy including Emmanuel Levinas Simone Weil and Jacques Derrida Hart highlights the importance of Jewish philosophy and political thought to his overall conception of literature Chapters on community and negation reveal Blanchot's emphasis on the relationship between narrative and politics over the more commonly connected narrative and aesthetics By fully discussing Blanchot's elusive concept of the Outside for the first time this book progresses scholarly understandings of his entire oeuvre further This central concept engages Franz Rosenzweig's work on Abrahamic faiths enabling a reckoning on the role of suffering and literature in the wake of the Shoah with significant implications for Jewish studies more generally

Maurice Blanchot Ullrich M. Haase, William Large, 2001 Without Maurice Blanchot literary theory as we know it today would have been unthinkable Jacques Derrida Paul de Man Michel Foucault Roland Barthes Gilles Deleuze all are key theorists crucially influenced by Blanchot's work This accessible guide works idea by idea through Blanchot's writings anchoring them in historical and intellectual contexts examines Blanchot's understanding of literature death ethics and politics and the relationship between these themes unravels even Blanchot's most complex ideas for the beginner sketches the lasting impact of Blanchot's work on the field of critical theory For those trying to come to grips with contemporary literary theory and modern French thought the best advice is to start at the beginning begin with Blanchot and begin with this guide

The Narrative Turn in Fiction and Theory H. Meretoja, 2014-10-06 The Narrative Turn in Fiction and Theory explores the philosophical and historical underpinnings of the postwar crisis and return of storytelling and shows their relevance for the ongoing debate on the significance of narrative for human existence

The Disappearance of Literature Aaron Hillyer, 2013-09-26 In this book Aaron Hillyer considers the implications of Maurice Blanchot's strange formulation Literature is heading to its essence which is its disappearance This quest leads Hillyer to stage a dialogue between the works of Blanchot and Giorgio Agamben Despite being primary points of reference for literary theory no significant critical work has examined their literary writings together The Disappearance of Literature initiates this new trajectory through readings of Blanchot's The Unavowable Community and Agamben's The Open two short books that harbor their most enigmatic writings A series of related concepts study community mysticism and friendship emerges from this pairing and Hillyer argues forms the basis of a new vein of contemporary literature found in the novels and hybrid fictions of Enrique Vila Matas Anne Carson and Cesar Aira

The Event of Style in Literature M. Aquilina, 2014-09-16 The Event of Style in Literature brings discussions about the question of style up to date by schematising the principal issues relating to the topic through a critical overview of the canon of style studies It reads the work of Jacques Derrida Maurice Blanchot and

Hans Georg Gadamer as groundbreaking and eventful interventions Political Writings, 1953-1993 Maurice Blanchot, 2010 Maurice Blanchot is a towering yet enigmatic figure in 20th century French thought Both his fiction and his criticism played a determining role in how postwar French philosophy was written This volume collects his political writings from 1953 and 1993 Poetics of Singularity Timothy Clark, 2019-06-01 This polemical book reveals the basic tenets of what may be called a poetics of singularity in Martin Heidegger Maurice Blanchot Jacques Derrida and the strange late essays of Hans Georg Gadamer At issue is the at first simple even familiar idea that literary or poetic meaning cannot be stated in terms other than its own that a text strives towards the status of being an example if of anything only of itself sole witness of what it alone projects This issue opens a series of powerful questions concerning basic features of Western thought about the nature of understanding on Kierkegaard's singular individual that is yet each human life in its exceptionality of the uniqueness of historical testimony the nature of community The Poetics of Singularity forms an ethically compelling alternative to the currently dominant cultural social studies paradigm in literary criticism a neo Darwinian understanding of art and life which is sometimes only a disguised version of American nationalism Features An original work of scholarship combining elucidation research and polemics Identifies a forceful tradition of twentieth century poetics which differs from received ideas of deconstruction which the author names the poetics of singularity Makes available in English some previously untranslated material in the chapters on Heidegger and Gadamer and covers relatively unknown texts by Blanchot and some very recent work by Derrida Contesting Media Power James Curran, Nick Couldry, 2003-09-22 Contesting Media Power is the most ambitious international collection to date on the worldwide growth of alternative media that are challenging the power concentration in large media corporations Media scholars and political scientists develop a broad comparative framework for analyzing alternative media in Australia Chile China Indonesia Malaysia Russia Sweden South Africa the United Kingdom and the United States Topics include independent media centers gay online networks and alternative web discussion forums feminist film political journalism and social networks indigenous communication and church sponsored media This important book will help shape debates on the media's role in current global struggles such as the anti globalization movement Contesting Illness Katherine Anne Teghtsoonian, Pamela Moss, 2008-01-01 Contesting Illness offers valuable insights into the assumptions practices and interactions that shape illness in the twenty first century Genre and Extravagance in the Novel Jed Rasula, 2021 Examines the form of the novel capaciously defined and across its history exploring the interplay of conformity and experimentation in classic and outlier examples of the genre with a focus on Joseph Conrad Henry James and Virginia Woolf Geo-economics and Power Politics in the 21st Century Mikael Wigell, Sören Scholvin, Mika Aaltola, 2018-07-06 Starting from the key concept of geo economics this book investigates the new power politics and argues that the changing structural features of the contemporary international system are recasting the strategic imperatives of foreign policy practice States increasingly practice power politics by economic means Whether it is about Iran's nuclear programme or Russia's annexation of Crimea. Western states prefer economic sanctions to military force. Most rising powers have also become cunning agents of economic statecraft. China for instance is using finance investment and trade as means to gain strategic influence and embed its global rise. Yet the way states use economic power to pursue strategic aims remains an understudied topic in International Political Economy and International Relations. The contributions to this volume assess geo economics as a form of power politics. They show how power and security are no longer simply coupled to the physical control of territory by military means but also to commanding and manipulating the economic binds that are decisive in today's globalised and highly interconnected world. Indeed as the volume shows the ability to wield economic power forms an essential means in the foreign policies of major powers. In so doing the book challenges simplistic accounts of a return to traditional military driven geopolitics while not succumbing to any unfounded idealism based on the supposedly stabilising effects of interdependence on international relations. As such it advances our understanding of geo economics as a strategic practice and as an innovative and timely analytical approach. This book will be of much interest to students of security studies international political economy foreign policy and International Relations in general.

Friendship Maurice Blanchot, Elizabeth Rottenberg, 1997. For the past half century Maurice Blanchot has been an extraordinarily influential figure on the French literary and cultural scene. He is arguably the key figure after Sartre in exploring the relation between literature and philosophy. This collection of 29 critical essays and reviews on art, politics, literature and philosophy documents the wide range of Blanchot's interests from the enigmatic paintings in the Lascaux caves to the atomic era. Essays are devoted to works of fiction: Louis Ren des For ts, Pierre Klossowski, Roger Laporte, Marguerite Duras to autobiographies or testimonies: Michel Leiris, Robert Antelme, Andr Gorz, Franz Kafka or to authors who are more than ever contemporary: Jean Paulhan, Albert Camus. Several essays focus on questions of Judaism as expressed in the works of Edmond Jab s, Emmanuel, Levinas and Martin Buber. Among the other topics covered are Andr Malraux's imaginary museum, the Pl iade Encyclopedia project of Raymond Queneau, paperback publishing, the work of Claude L vi Strauss, Benjamin's Task of the Translator, Marx and communism, writings on the Holocaust and the difference between art and writing. The book concludes with an eloquent invocation to friendship on the occasion of the death of Georges Bataille.

Contested World Orders Matthew D. Stephen, Michael Zürn, 2019-07-11. World orders are increasingly contested. As international institutions have taken on ever more ambitious tasks they have been challenged by rising powers dissatisfied with existing institutional inequalities, by non governmental organizations worried about the direction of global governance and even by some established powers no longer content to lead the institutions they themselves created. For the first time this volume examines these sources of contestation under a common and systematic institutionalist framework. While the authority of institutions has deepened at the same time it has fuelled contestation and resistance. In a series of rigorous and empirically revealing chapters the authors of Contested World Orders examine systematically the demands of key actors in the contestation of international institutions Ranging in scope from the World Trade Organization and the Nuclear Non proliferation Regime to the Kimberley Process on conflict diamonds and the climate finance provisions of the UNFCCC the chapters deploy a variety of methods to reveal just to what extent and along which lines of conflict rising powers and NGOs contest international institutions Contested World Orders seeks answers to the key questions of our time Exactly how deeply are international institutions contested Which actors seek the most fundamental changes Which aspects of international institutions have generated the most transnational conflicts And what does this mean for the future of world order

Regional Powers and Contested Leadership Hannes Ebert, Daniel Flemer, 2018-03-19 When do rising powers fail to establish legitimate regional leadership and instead face contestation by their regional challengers This book investigates how and why the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa project leadership in South America post Soviet Eurasia South and Southeast Asia and sub Saharan Africa respectively and in what ways their main regional challengers respond Based on a systematic conceptualization of the types and drivers of leadership and contestation the authors assess the impact of the rise of regional powers on weaker states security sovereignty and status as well as the consequences of contestation for regional economic development and stability and the regional powers bid for greater voice in global governance By illuminating the sources and effects of power politics in five regions that are increasingly pivotal for the emerging world order the volume offers a global comparative analysis of contemporary regional contested leadership that will interest scholars and students of international affairs foreign policy and area studies

Restoring Forests and Improving Livelihoods in Nepal Hemant Ojha, Krishna K. Shrestha, Naya S. Paudel, Rahul Karki, Dil Khatri, Sony Baral, Mani Ram Banjade, Ian Nuberg, 2025-09-30 This book presents a comprehensive review of new research and practice based insights from Nepal's four decades of community forestry development delving into when and how community based management can lead to forest landscape restoration and equitable livelihoods With over four decades of formal program history Nepal's community forestry is a rare case from the Global South showcasing the trajectories and outcomes of a community based environmental management initiative It offers historically proven lessons of what it takes to restore degraded forests in a way that empowers local communities to make decisions The book showcases research and experiential insights of those who became part of Nepal's community forestry movement from the early years to the current stage Tracing stories of change from the era of Himalayan degradation in the 1970s to the globally hailed success of community forestry in the 2000s the book demonstrates how the policy political economy and changing community dynamics have shaped the everyday practice of community forestry and its contribution to livelihoods and forest restoration It reveals how small scale work in the early years evolved into a complex system of community forestry exposing the challenges associated with social exclusion resource management and policy environment As such it makes an important contribution to the global knowledge on community driven forest landscape restoration in the Global South where forest ecosystems are inseparable from the everyday life and livelihoods of local communities This book will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners working on forest restoration and conservation community development environmental policy and planning and sustainable development more widely Political Settlements and Agricultural Transformation in Africa Martin Atela, Abdul Raufu

Mustapha, 2022-12-30 This book explores the ways in which political settlements can contribute to positive changes in Africa's agricultural and manufacturing sectors Contemporary Africa has seen many governments donors and commercial private enterprises supporting innovative agricultural and agroprocessing schemes with the purpose of diversifying economies However many of the schemes collapse or at best fail to generate the needed jobs Focusing on case studies in Kenya Nigeria and Ethiopia this book takes an interdisciplinary approach that combines economic analysis life histories policy approaches methods and political economy theory to reframe the field with new questions The contributors offer alternative explanations for the failure of employment creation schemes in Africa and show how political settlements can bring together stakeholders to settle on win win approaches to productive employment schemes and inclusive development Providing new insights on the political economy of agrarian and labour relations in Africa this book will be of interest to policy actors and development practitioners wishing to support inclusive growth in Africa as well as to scholars of African politics and economics public policy and development

Accommodating Rising Powers T. V. Paul, 2016-03-10 Addresses how to accommodate and integrate rising powers peacefully into the international order in the nuclear and globalized age A Theory of Master Role Transition Feliciano de Sá Guimarães, 2020-05-17 In this book Feliciano de S Guimarães offers an original application of Role Theory He proposes a theory of master role transitions to explain how small powers can change regional powers master roles without changing the regional material power distribution Master role transition is the replacement of an active dominant master role by a dormant or inactive role located within one's role repertoire Guimarães argues that only a combination of four necessary conditions can produce a full master role transition asymmetrical material interdependence altercasting domestic contestation and regional contestation In each one of these conditions a small power uses material and ideational tools to promote a master role transition within the regional power role repertoire To test his model Guimarães turns to five case studies in Latin America Southern Africa and South Asia the 2006 2007 Bolivia Brazil gas crisis the 2008 2009 Paraguay Brazil Itaip Dam crisis the 2008 2009 Ecuador Brazil Odebrecht crisis the 1998 South Africa Lesotho military intervention crisis and the 1996 India Bangladesh Ganges water crisis A Theory of Master Role Transition is an excellent resource for those studying both theory and method in International Relations and foreign policy analysis Restraining Great Powers T. V. Paul, 2018-09-18 How subtler forms of balance of power politics can help states achieve their goals against aggressive powers without wars or arms races At the end of the Cold War the United States emerged as the world's most powerful state and then used that power to initiate wars against smaller countries in the Middle East and South Asia According to balance of power theory the bedrock of realism in international relations other states should have joined together militarily to counterbalance the United States rising power Yet they did not Nor have they united to oppose Chinese aggression in the South China Sea or Russian offensives along its western border This does not mean balance of power politics is dead argues renowned international relations scholar T V Paul instead it has taken a different form Rather than employ familiar strategies such as active military alliances and arms buildups leading powers have engaged in soft balancing which seeks to restrain threatening powers through the use of international institutions informal alignments and economic sanctions Paul places the evolution of balancing behavior in historical perspective from the post Napoleonic era to today s globalized world This book offers an illuminating examination of how subtler forms of balance of power politics can help states achieve their goals against aggressive powers without wars or arms races
