Power And Privilege At An African University:

Power and Privilege at an African University Pierre L. van den Berghe, 2019-07-30 To the best of the author's knowledge this study conducted from July 1968 to June 1969 is the first comprehensive sociological survey of an African university This study did not begin with a set of specific hypotheses to be tested nor does the research include everything of conceivable relevance to the University of Ilosho U I Instead the focus is on the political structure of U I on social stratification and mobility and on problems of ethnicity These closely interrelated problems are of great importance to the development of Nigeria where U I is located Power and Privilege at an African University Pierre L Van Den Berghe, 1973-01-01 Power and Privilege at an African University Pierre Louis VanDenBerghe, Paul Albai, 1973 Power and privilege at an African university, 1973 Power and Privilege Gerhard E. Lenski, 2013-04-01 Power and Privilege seeks to answer the central question of the field of social stratification Who gets what and why Using a dialectical view of the development of thought in the discipline Gerhard Lenski describes the outlines of an emerging synthesis of theories He shows that perspectives as diverse and contradictory as those of Marx Spencer Sumner Veblen Mosca Pareto Sorokin Parsons and Dahrendorf are parts of an evolving and systematic body of theory Religious Beliefs and Knowledge Systems in Africa Toyin Falola, Nicole Griffin, 2021-09-21 Key to African studies is understanding the knowledge systems of the continent and her diaspora The representation and understanding of Africa are dependent on the observer's definition of knowledge Afrocentric knowledge is comprised of a collection of political religious and indigenous belief systems Religious Beliefs and Knowledge Systems in Africa begins with deconstructing the Western philosophy of knowledge before defining and exploring the epistemic disciplines of Africa It transcends postcolonial critique through an Afrocentric approach to knowledge divided into three key themes The first of these is the African worldview exploring knowledge through eldership witchcraft and divination This is followed up by kingship ideology and epistemologies exploring discussing how politics religion and belief shape African society Finally the world religion chapter examines Christianity Islam and Pentecostalism in their impact on African ways of knowing This book calls to action new fields of study in universities encouraging a greater understanding of African ways of knowing through more nuanced disciplines Nationalism and Development in Africa James S. Coleman, 2023-04-28 James Smoot Coleman was the leading theorist of his time in African political studies His work fused liberal democratic idealism and scientific realism These essays represent the evolution of his thought from deep insight into African nationalism to a refined theory of modernization The collection is an indispensable contribution to the intellectual history of comparative African politics essential to scholars and others who grapple with problems in African development James Smoot Coleman was the leading theorist of his time in African political studies His work fused liberal democratic idealism and scientific realism These essays represent the evolution of his thought from deep insight into African nationalism to a r Knowledge and Change in African Universities Michael Cross, amasa ndofirepi, 2017-01-28 Besides the ongoing concern with the epistemological and theoretical hegemony of the West in African academic practice the book aims at understanding how knowledge is produced and controlled through the interplay of the politics of knowledge and current intellectual discourses in universities in Africa In this regard the book calls for African universities to relocate from the position of object to subject in order to gain a form of liberated epistemological voice more responsive to the social and economic complexities of the continent In itself this is a critical expos of contemporary practices in knowledge advancement in the continent Broadly the book addresses the following questions How can African universities reinvent knowledge production and dissemination in the face of the dominant Eurocentricism so pervasive and characteristic of academic practice in Africa to enhance their relevance to the contexts in which they operate How can such change particularly at knowledge production and distribution levels be undertaken without falling into an intellectual and discursive ghettoization in the global context What then is the role of academics policy makers and curriculum and program designers in dealing with biases and distortions to integrate policies knowledge and pedagogy that reflect current cultural diversity both local and global Against this backdrop while some contributions in this book argue that emancipatory epistemic voice in African universities is not yet born or it is struggling with little success many dissenting voices charge that if Africans do not take responsibility and construct knowledge strategies for their own emancipation who will

themselves as having had the agency to interrupt and transform them despite their rigidity this book describes the nuances of social action and agency within the South African higher education institutional context and the ways in which contextual histories may provide enabling limiting conditions to individuals within them This book makes an important contribution to the field of agency and social transformation theoretically methodologically and geographically as it details the motivations for transformation how individuals become agents of change and the practical experiences of these individuals from a localised perspective Agency and Social Transformation in South African Higher Education will be of interest to scholars and students of African higher education transformation studies and postcolonial studies Nailing It Nicole Massie

Resistance in an African Society Les Switzer,1993 Imagine a history of the United States written from the perspective of the African American community Imagine that the story of this community is told not only from the viewpoint of its leaders the middle class elites but also from the viewpoint of sharecroppers industrial workers and others living on the margins of American culture And finally imagine that this is not only about political and economic relations but also about race class gender and religious relations about the lived experiences of one community that both reflect and represent fundamental issues of power and resistance in an entire society This is what Les Switzer has tried to do with his book Power and Resistance in an African Society Scholars who have read it suggest that this is the first attempt to write a history of South Africa from the perspective of one subordinate community in South Africa The result is a transformed history from below The names dates events and issues of conventional textbook history lose their meaning in the process of reconstructing a history that seeks to free the African from the domain of South Africa's ruling culture The book also offers a unique contribution to African studies in sub Saharan Africa because it explores the material and symbolic manifestations of power and resistance in a pre colonial colonial and post colonial setting The Ciskei region in the eastern Cape was selected as the case study This was the historic zone of conflict between European and Bantu speaking African in southern Africa the Cape Xhosa wars in this region lasting a century The contemporary African nationalist movement in South Africa first emerged in a variety of organizational forms in the Ciskei during the 1870s and 1880s The strategy of petitionary protest probably persisted longer here than anywhere else in South Africa in the post colonial period but popular resistance found a variety of windows outside organized African politics The Ciskei for example was a focal point of rural resistance in the 1920s and early 1930s and again between the early 1940s and early 1960s The gap between rural and urban dissidents in South Africa moreover was first bridged in the Ciskei and its environs during the 1952 Defiance Campaign Finally the Ciskei's segregated African reserve where economic conditions were judged to be most serious emerged as a primary site of struggle on South Africa's periphery

during the 1970s and 1980s The focus of this study is on the Xhosa speaking peoples who lived in the Ciskei region in the first century after conquest To highlight the linkages between regional and national issues the Xhosa in the Ciskei are examined in the context of unfolding events in the Cape Colony and in the unified settler state of South Africa after 1910 A distinct plurality of voices would be formed in the complex interplay between color consciousness and class as this community sought space for itself within the domain of South Africa s ruling culture Planning Power Ambe Njoh,2007-01-24 With an unusually nuanced view of African planning systems in a time of upheaval and political change Planning Power examines British and French colonial town and country planning efforts in Africa to provide valuable reading for researchers and students in a wide range of disciplines Power and Class in Africa Irving Leonard Markovitz,1977
