In Transforming Our Teaching Through Reading Writing Connections Regie Routman shows how to raise students achievement in reading and writing through a model that interconnects these two literacies. The opening sessions ask teachers to articulate their beliefs about reading and writing and then align them with their practices. Subsequent sessions show how students literacy understandings are deepened when children s work in writing is used to enhance their reading and vice versa s. Research shows that high level on site and ongoing professional development is the surest route to school improvement in literacy and Transforming Our Teaching Through Reading Writing Connections delivers it directly to your teachers. Transforming Our Teaching Through Reading Writing Connections is based on four foundational ideas s1 Change begins with defining common beliefs and setting high expectations about teaching and learning. For lasting schoolwide change and high achievement teachers across grade levels must develop common beliefs about what student writers are capable of and which practices best advance children s writing s2 An Optimal Learning Model provides an effective unified model for teaching and learning. Teachers can plan teach and assess with greater ease and effectiveness with an Optimal Learning Model ensuring that teaching always nudges students toward independence s3 Responsive teaching engages students and raises their achievement. Research indicates that when children write for authentic reasons achievement goes up. Writing leads to success in reading so we can raise achievement in both by asking students to write for real audiences and purposes s4 Applying new ideas leads to lasting significant change. This is true for students and for teachers. Transforming Our Teaching Through Writing for Audience and Purpose gives teachers consistent opportunities to discuss analyze and try out with their students what they ve seen in each session. By applying what they learn their teaching is transformed and so is students learning. Transforming Our Teaching Through Writing for Audience and Purpose gives teachers consistent opportunities to discuss analyze and try out with their students what they ve seen in each session. The Learning and Teaching of Reading and Writing Naomi Flynn, Rhona Stainthorp, 2006-07-11 This book provides a unique description of teacher pupil interaction during the Literacy Hour in good schools It is based on detailed observations in inner city primary schools that were recognised as effective and improving The analysis is informed by contemporary research into the development and teaching of early literacy The book provides practice based examples of how teachers and schools might adapt their delivery for literacy as they move to greater creativity in their teaching of reading and writing The analysis begins within the classrooms of three expert Key Stage 1 teachers and broadens out in to the wider setting of the schools and their senior management teams An important theme running throughout the book is how the three teachers were able to make exceptional provision for their pupils who were largely second language speakers and from socio economically disadvantaged groups The teachers successful practice grew from their understanding of both early literacy development and planning for individual need The information in this book will enable student teachers recently qualified teachers and teachers interested in enhancing their literacy teaching to develop their practice in a similarly successful way     Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic and how They May be More Successfully Taught in Elementary Schools Robert Floyd, 1861
