Lost Futures:

The Science of Lost Futures Ryan Habermeyer, 2018-05-08 The Science of Lost Futures is a prize winning collection full of quirky humor and intelligent absurdity Ryan Habermeyer is a yarn spinner of the first order Drawing on urban legends internet hoaxes and ancient medical folklore these stories go beyond science fiction and magical realism to create a captivating collection of fabulist stories that revel in the alien and the absurd

In Search of Lost Futures Magdalena Kazubowski-Houston, Mark Auslander, 2021-02-16 In Search of Lost Futures asks how imaginations might be activated through practices of autoethnography multimodality and deep interdisciplinarity each of which has the power to break down methodological silos cultivate novel research sensibilities and inspire researchers to question what is known about ethnographic process representation reflexivity audience and intervention within and beyond the academy By blurring the boundaries between the past present and future between absence and presence between the possible and the impossible and between fantasy and reality In Search of Lost Futures pushes the boundaries of ethnographic engagement It reveals how researchers on the cutting edge of the discipline are studying absence and grief and employing street performance museum exhibit anticipation or simulated reality to research and intervene in the possible the impossible and the uncertain culture The Streaming of Hill House Kevin J. Wetmore, Jr., 2020-04-28 Netflix's The Haunting of Hill House has received both critical acclaim and heaps of contempt for its reimagining of Shirley Jackson's seminal horror novel. Some found Mike Flanagan's series inventive, respectful, and terrifying. Others believed it denigrated and diminished its source material, with some even calling it a betrayal of Jackson. Though the novel has produced a great deal of scholarship, this is the first critical collection to look at the television series. Featuring all new essays from noted scholars and award-winning horror authors, this collection goes beyond comparing the novel and the Netflix adaptation to look at the series through the lenses of gender, architecture, education, hauntology, addiction, and trauma studies, including analysis of the show in the context of 9/11 and Me Too. Specific essays compare the series with other texts from Flanagan's other films and other adaptations of Jackson's novel to the television series Supernatural, Toni Morrison's Beloved, and the 2018 film Hereditary. Together, this collection probes a terrifying television series about how scary reality can truly be, usually because of what it says about our lives in America today.

Fundamentals of Investing Lawrence J. Gitman, Michael D. Joehnk, Scott Smart, Roger H. Juchau, 2015-05-20 What are the best investments for me? What about risk? Do I need professional help with my investments, and can I afford it? Mastering the language, concepts, vehicles, and strategies of investing can be challenging. Fundamentals of Investing shows how to make informed investment decisions, understand the risks inherent in investing, and how to confidently shape a sound investment strategy. Fundamentals of Investing, 3rd edition, is completely updated and introduces core concepts and tools used by Australian investors, providing a firm understanding of the fundamental principles of investments. Focusing on both individual securities and portfolios, students learn how to develop, implement, and monitor investment goals after considering the risk and return of both markets and investment vehicles. Fundamentals of Investing is suitable for introductory investments courses offered at university undergraduate or postgraduate level, as well as colleges, professional certification programs, and continuing education courses.

Forgetfulness Francis O'Gorman, 2017-10-05 Forgetfulness is a book about modern culture and its profound rejection of the past. It traces the emergence in recent history of the idea that what is important in human life and work is what will happen in the future. Francis O'Gorman shows how forgetting has been embraced as a requirement for modern existence and how our education, as well as life with fast-moving technology, further disconnects us from our pasts. But he also examines the cultural narratives that urge us to resist our collective amnesia. O'Gorman argues that such narratives, in rich but oblique ways, indicate our guilt about modernity's great unmooring from history. Forgetfulness asks what the absence of history does to our sense of purpose, as well as what belonging both to time and place might mean in cultures without a memory. It is written in praise of the best achievement and deeds of the past but is also an expression of profound anxiety about what forgetting them is doing to us.

Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE–100 CE Richard Teverson, 2024-09-03 This is the first book-length exploration of the ways art from the edges of the Roman Empire represented the future, examining visual representations of time and the role of artwork.

in Roman imperial systems This book focuses on four kingdoms from across the empire Cottius s Alpine kingdom in the north King Juba II s Mauretania in the south west Herodian Judea in the east and Kommagene to the north east Art from the imperial frontier is rarely considered through the lens of the aesthetics of time and Roman provincial art and the monuments of allied rulers are typically interpreted as evidence of the interaction between Roman and local identities In this interdisciplinary study which explores statues wall paintings coins monuments and inscriptions readers learn that these artworks served as something more they were created to represent the futures that allied rulers and their people foresaw The pressure of Roman imperialism drove patrons and artists on the empire s borders to imbue their creations with increasingly sophisticated ideas about the future as they wrestled with consequential decisions made under periods of intense political pressure Comprehensively illustrated and providing an important new approach to Roman material culture at the edge of empire Visions of the Future in Roman Frontier Kingdoms 100 BCE 100 CE is suitable for students and scholars working on Rome and its frontiers as well as Roman material culture more broadly and those studying the aesthetics of time in art and art history The Times and Temporalities of International Human Rights Law Kathryn McNeilly, Ben Warwick, 2022-02-24 This collection brings together a range of international contributors to stimulate discussions on time and international human rights law a topic that has been given little attention to date The book explores how time and its diverse forms can be understood to operate on and in this area of law how time manifests in the theory and practice of human rights law internationally and how specific areas of human rights can be understood via temporal analyses A range of temporal ideas and their connection to this area of law are investigated These include collective memory ideas of past present and future emergency time the times of environmental change linearity and non linearity multiplicitous time and the connections between time and space or materiality Rather than a purely abstract or theoretical endeavour this dedicated attention to the times and temporalities of international human rights law will assist in better understanding this law its development and its operation in the present What emerges from the collection is a future or more precisely futures for time as a vehicle of analysis for those working within human rights law internationally

Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema Zoran Samardzija, 2025-07-18 Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema examines the theme of political collapse in select contemporary Eastern European and Balkan art cinema and documentaries from the late eighties to the present Engaging with debates in Marxism and contemporary film theory about political aesthetics the book centers around the question of whether we can imagine possible futures through negative aesthetics which are skeptical of cinema s ability to reproduce reality in a comprehensive and unmediated manner In particular it analyzes examples of ambiguous art cinema and related hybrid documentary modes in order to invite spectators to rethink how we understand and represent the unique experiences of living through the collapse of authoritarian communism and the transition to neoliberal capitalism Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse ultimately argues that the skepticism about political change and representing history found in these films forms an original mode of utopian thinking In other words their negativity about their own artistic autonomy is the very thing that allows them to hint at possible futures that are unrepresentable because they exist outside of the frameworks of contemporary geopolitics and our dominant understandings of cinematic aesthetics Redefining how we understand the intersections between geopolitics art cinema aesthetics and film theory the book presents a unique synthesis of film and political theory that attempts a new understanding of cinematic aesthetics As such it will interest scholars of film theory global art cinema aesthetics regional studies of Eastern Europe and the Balkans and political science

Nostalgia, Religion and Popular Culture Chris Deacy, 2025-01-09 Drawing on the event of Queen Elizabeth II's death in 2022 as a central case study this book explores the way we navigate the relationship between nostalgia and religion Focusing on the lived experiences of ordinary people and in tandem with the turn to the self discourse Deacy suggests that our relationship with nostalgia illustrates the shift from objective and transcendent value systems towards the domain of everyday experience love and loss This book revisits the way we understand religion and the secular using the medium of popular culture such as radio film TV and music to interrogate the nostalgia as religion narrative The interpersonal and social elements of nostalgia are explored such as through the way radio fostered virtual communities and played a key role regarding national religious and cultural memory during the mourning of the Queen Attention is given to how nostalgia has evolved over time and how it can be understood as a religious process which transforms our lives at a time of loss and contributes to an eschatological future

Folklore and Nation in Britain and Ireland Matthew Cheeseman, Carina Hart, 2021-08-30 This collection explores folklore and folkloristics within the diverse and contested national discourses of Britain and Ireland examining their role in shaping the islands constituent nations from the eighteenth century to our contemporary moment of uncertainty and change This book is concerned with understanding folklore particularly through its intersections with the narratives of nation entwined within art literature disciplinary practice and lived experience By following these ideas throughout history into the twenty first century the authors show how notions of the folk have inspired and informed varied points from the Brothers Grimm to Brexit They also examine how folklore has been adapting to the real and imagined changes of recent political events acquiring newfound global and local rhetorical power This collection asks why when and how folklore has been deployed enacted and considered in the context of national ideologies and ideas of nationhood in Britain and Ireland Editors Cheeseman and Hart have crafted a thoughtful and timely collection ideal for students and scholars of folklore history literature anthropology sociology and media studies

Reviving Citizen Engagement Larry N. Gerston, 2014-12-11 Whereas our nation was once united in purpose today it is bitterly divided Why Racial discrimination diminishing educational opportunities poor economic mobility greedy corporations and an unresponsive federal government have combined to create two Americas Presented in Gerston's characteristic no holds barred style of wit and candor Revi

Youth Subcultures in

Postwar and Contemporary Fiction Nick Bentley, 2025-04-30 This book offers a unique interdisciplinary examination of how youth subcultures have been articulated and constructed in selected fiction from the post war period to the twenty first century It provides a theoretical underpinning for the analysis of subcultures and scenes in literary fiction identifying approaches set against key theories from subcultural studies sociology and criminology as well as paying close attention to issues of literary form genre and narrative technique As well as identifying an overlooked body of work in postwar and contemporary fiction it shows how literary fiction can offer a distinctive contribution to our understanding of youth and marginalized cultures It offers close analysis of a range of novels organized around key themes and contexts including teenagers Teds and jazz scenes in the 1950s Beat writing and the counterculture punk fiction dystopian and cyberpunk fiction as well as the examination of works that foreground class race gender and sexuality
