Becker Christian Smith and Martha Nussbaum This dialogic format helps to crystallise both agreements and differences and thus facilitate greater understanding between theology and other disciplines Questions explored in the discussion relate to the emergence of human nature the person and the capabilities human beings possess as well as how these develop in a social context The author focuses in particular on the impact of sin the Fall and considers the mixed blessings of economic progress By providing pointers on how to bring back the human person in social disciplines the book hopes to contribute to improved understanding of the ethical dimension of social progress and human flourishing It will be of particular interest to scholars of analytic and systematic theology but also scholars from economics and social sciences with openness to theological engagement Biblische Real- und Verbal-Hand-Concordanz Büchner,1861 Die evangelische Bölschaft der Herrlichkeit Gottes in Jesu Christo ... vorgefragten ...
