Name Of This Is Dogme95:

Dogme 95 , Traditions in World Cinema Linda Badley,R. Barton Palmer,Steven Jay Schneider,2006 The core volume in the Traditions in World Cinema series this book brings together a colourful and wide ranging collection of world cinematic traditions national regional and global all of which are in need of introduction investigation and in some cases critical reassessment Topics include German expressionism Italian neorealism French New Wave British new wave Czech new wave Danish Dogma post Communist cinema Brazilian post Cinema Novo new Argentine cinema pre revolutionary African traditions Israeli persecution films new Iranian cinema Hindi film songs Chinese wenyi Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian Aitken,2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumi re brothers Workers Leaving the Lumi re Factory 1885 to Michael Moore s Fahrenheit 911 2004 This Encyclopedia provides a resource that critically analyzes that history in all its aspects Not only does this Encyclopedia examine individual films and the careers of individual film makers it also provides overview articles of national and regional documentary film history It explains concepts and themes in the study of documentary film the techniques used in making films and the institutions that support their production appreciation and preservation Thomas Vinterberg's Festen (The Celebration) C. Claire Thomson,2014-02-01 Danish filmmaker Thomas Vinterberg s searing film Festen The Celebration was the first film from the Dogme 95 stable Adhering to Dogme s cinematic purity no artificial lighting no superficial action no credit for the director and only handheld cameras for equipment Festen was a commercial and critical success winning the Jury Prize at Cannes in 1998 and garnering worldwide attention The film is set at the sixtieth birthday party of Helge the wealthy patriarch of a large Danish family The birthday festivities take a turn when Helge s son Christian raises a toast and denounces Helge for having raped and abused him as a child along with his twin sister who recently committed suicide The film explores the escalating consequences of Christian s announcement from the stunned dinner party s collective denial to violence to an unexpected catharsis Shakespeare, The Movie II Richard Burt,Lynda E. Boose,2004-02-24 Combining three key essays from the earlier collection with exciting new work from leading contributors this text offers sixteen fascinating essays It is quite simply a must read for any student of Shakespeare film or cultural studies Politics, Theory, and Film Bonnie Honig,Lori J. Marso,2016-08-26 Lars von Trier s intense disturbing and sometimes funny films have led many to condemn him as misogynist or misanthropic The same films inspire this collection s reflections on how our fears and desires regarding gender power race finitude family and fate often thwart and sometimes feed our best democratic aspirations The essays in this volume attend to von Trier s role as provocateur as well as to his films techniques topics and storytelling Where others accuse von Trier of being clich d the editors argue that he intensifies the clich s of our times in ways that direct our political energies towards apprehending and repairing a shattered world The book is certainly for von Trier lovers and haters but at the same time political critical and feminist theorists entirely unfamiliar with von Trier's films will find this volume's essays of interest. Most of the contributors tarry with von Trier to develop new readings of major thinkers and writers including Agamben, Bataille, Beauvoir, Benjamin, Deleuze, Euripides, Freud, Kierkegaard, Rancière, Nietzsche, Winnicott, and many more. Von Trier is both central and irrelevant to much of this work. Writing from the fields of classics, literature, gender studies, philosophy, film, and political theory, the authors stage an interdisciplinary intervention in film studies.

Cinema Pessimism Joshua Foa Dienstag, 2019-11-04

Aesthetic and political representation are often treated separately, but this book argues that film offers a unique perspective through which to understand the dangers to equality and freedom that lurk in representative politics. The potential problems of representative democracy have long been debated: does it cultivate apathy and discourage citizen participation? What does it mean to be faithfully or well represented in a democracy? And how can appropriate, meaningful representation be achieved? Here these questions are addressed from a new perspective. Representation, Joshua Foa Dienstag argues, can create the illusion of freedom and reciprocity in place of the real thing, and in both cinema and politics what gives us pleasure is not the same as what secures or supports our existence as free and equal citizens. As this book shows, there are political dangers not visible within the current debates around democratic representation: dangers we can better understand and help to minimize by considering the way that human beings interact emotionally with their filmic representations. Dienstag looks at a series of films that directly confront issues of representation: Her Blade, Runner, The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance, Melancholia, and the Up documentary series, to diagnose these hazards and consider how best to respond to them. Each chapter looks at a specific film as emblematic of a different conception or problem of representation, often ignored by mainstream political debates such as reciprocity, happiness, boundaries, evil, to show that the relationship between representation and freedom is fraught with tension. This book continues Dienstag's earlier groundbreaking work on philosophical pessimism, understood not as something despairing but as a rejection of the idea that these necessary tensions can be cured. Ultimately, Dienstag seeks to defend a kind of pessimistic politics that might produce a better sort of democratic representation than what we have today.

Film and Urban Space Geraldine Pratt, 2014-06-23 Identifies and analyses the major debates about the crucial historical relationship between film and the city to consider existing and future possibilities.

Mise en Scène and Film

Style A. Martin, 2014-11-04 Styles of filmmaking have changed greatly from classical Hollywood through to our digital era. So too have the ways in which film critics and scholars have analysed these transformations in film style. This book explores two central style concepts: mise en scène and dispositif to illuminate a wide range of film and new media examples.

Cinephilia

Marijke de Valck, Malte Hagener, 2005 They obsess over the nuances of a Douglas Sirk or Ingmar Bergman film; they revel in books such as François Truffaut's Hitchcock; they happily subscribe to the Sundance Channel; they are the rare breed known as cinephiles. Though much has been made of the classic era of cinephilia from the 1950s to the 1970s, Cinephilia documents the latest generation of cinephiles and their use of new technologies. With the advent of home theaters, digital recording, devices online film communities cinephiles today pursue their dedication to film outside of institutional settings A radical new history of film culture Cinephilia breaks new ground for students and scholars alike Reframing Theology and Film (Cultural Exegesis) Robert K. Johnston, 2007-11-01 The connection between theology and film is a hot topic in the academy and the church But research and writing on methodology and hermeneutics is lacking This comprehensive collection identifies the overlooked or undervalued areas in the current discussions of film and theology Including contributions from the leaders in the field Reframing Theology and Film helps deepen the conversation while bringing it to a new level of prominence Professors and students of theology and film libraries pastors and film buffs will benefit from this much needed resource Ayoade on Top Richard Ayoade, 2019-09-03 Richard Ayoade in this foren perhaps one of the most insubstantial people of our age takes us on a journey from Peckham to Paris by way of Nevada and other places we don t care about It s a journey deep within in a way that s respectful and non invasive a journey for which we will all pay a heavy price even if you ve waited for the smaller paperback edition Ayoade argues for the canonisation of this brutal masterpiece a film that celebrates capitalism in all its victimless glory one we might imagine Donald Trump himself half watching on his private jet s gold plated flat screen while his other puffy eye scans the cabin for fresh young prey

Images of Idiocy Martin Halliwell, 2004 This book traces the concept of idiocy as it has developed in fiction and film in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries It focuses particularly on visual images of idiocy and argues that writers as diverse as Gustave Flaubert Fyodor Dostoevsky Joseph Conrad John Steinbeck Flannery O Connor and Rohinton Mistry and filmmakers such as Jean Renoir Akira Kurosawa Alfred Hitchcock Werner Herzog and John Huston have all been attracted to idiot figures as a way of thinking through issues of language acquisition intelligence creativity disability religion and social identity Martin Halliwell provides a lively and detailed discussion of the most significant literary and cinematic uses of idiocy arguing that scientific conceptions of the term as a classifiable medical condition are much too narrow With the explosion of interest in idiocy among American and European filmmakers in the 1990s and the growing interest in its often overlooked history this book offers a timely reassessment of idiocy and its distinctive place at the intersection of science and culture Directors in British and Irish

Cinema Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 A guide to directors who have worked in the British and Irish film industries between 1895 and 2005 Each of its 980 entries on individuals directors gives a resume of the director s career evaluates their achievements and provides a complete filmography It is useful for those interested in film making in Britain and Ireland

Shakespeare, Cinema, Counter-Culture Ailsa Ferguson, 2016-06-23 Addressing for the first time Shakespeare s place in counter cultural cinema this book examines and theorizes counter hegemonic postmodern and post punk Shakespeare in late 20th and early 21st century film Drawing on a diverse range of case studies Grant Ferguson presents an interdisciplinary approach that offers new theories on the nature and application of Shakespearean appropriations in the light of postmodern modes of representation The book considers the nature of the Shakespearean inter text in subcultural political contexts concerning the politicized aesthetics of a Shakespearean body in pieces the carnivalesque and notions of Shakespeare as counter hegemonic weapon or source of empowerment Representative films use Shakespeare and his accompanying cultural capital to challenge notions of capitalist globalization dominant socio cultural ideologies and hegemonic modes of expression In response to a post modern culture saturated with logos and semiotic abbreviations many such films play with the emblematic imagery and references of Shakespeare s texts These curious appropriations have much to reveal about the elusive nature of intertextuality in late postmodern culture and the battle for cultural ownership of Shakespeare As there has yet to be a study that isolates and theorizes modes of Shakespearean production that specifically demonstrate resistance to the social political ideological aesthetic and cinematic norms of the Western world this book expands the dialogue around such texts and interprets their patterns of appropriation adaptation and representation of Shakespeare

The Holy Fool in European Cinema Alina G. Birzache, 2016-02-05 This monograph explores the way that the profile and the critical functions of the holy fool have developed in European cinema allowing this traditional figure to capture the imagination of new generations in an age of religious pluralism and secularization Alina Birzache traces the cultural origins of the figure of the holy fool across a variety of European traditions In so doing she examines the critical functions of the holy fool as well as how filmmakers have used the figure to respond to and critique aspects of the modern world Using a comparative approach this study for the first time offers a comprehensive explanation of the enduring appeal of this protean and fascinating cinematic character Birzache examines the trope of holy foolishness in Soviet and post Soviet cinema French cinema and Danish cinema corresponding broadly to and permitting analysis of the three main orientations in European Christianity Orthodox Catholic and Protestant This study will be of keen interest to scholars of religion and film European cinema and comparative religion

The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2013-04-25 What does it mean for a cinematic work to be Chinese Does it refer specifically to a work s subject or does it also reflect considerations of language ethnicity nationality ideology or political orientation Such questions make any single approach to a vast field like Chinese cinema difficult at best Accordingly The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas situates the term more broadly among various different phases genres and distinct national configurations while taking care to address the consequences of grouping together so many disparate histories under a single banner Offering both a platform for cross disciplinary dialogue and a mapping of Chinese cinema as an expanded field this Handbook presents thirty three essays by leading researchers and scholars intent on yielding new insights and new analyses using three different methodologies Chapters in Part I investigate the historical periodizations of the field through changing notions of national and political identity all the way from the industry s beginnings in the 1920s up to its current forms in contemporary Hong Kong Taiwan and the global diaspora Chapters in Part II feature studies centered on the field s taxonomical formalities including such topics as the role of the Chinese opera in technological innovation the political logic of the Maoist film and the psychoanalytic formula of the kung fu action film Finally in Part III focus is given to the structural elements that comprise a work's production distribution and reception to reveal the broader cinematic apparatuses within which these works are positioned Taken together the multipronged approach supports a wider platform beyond the geopolitical and linguistic limitations in existing scholarship Expertly edited to illustrate a representative set of up to date topics and approaches The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas provides a vital addition to a burgeoning field still in its formative stages Film and Philosophy, 2007 An Introduction to Film Studies Jill Nelmes, 2003 An Introduction to Film Studies has established itself as the leading textbook for students of cinema This revised and updated third edition guides students through the key issues and concepts in film studies and introduces some of the world's key national cinemas including British Indian Soviet and French Written by experienced teachers in the field and lavishly illustrated with over 122 film stills and production shots it will be essential reading for any student of film Features of the third edition include full coverage of all the key topics at undergraduate level comprehensive and up to date information and new case studies on recent films such as Gladiator Spiderman The Blair Witch Project Fight Club Shrek and The Matrix annotated key readings further viewing website resources study questions a comprehensive bibliography and indexes and a glossary of key terms will help lecturers prepare tutorials and encourage students to undertake independent study Individual chapters include Film form and narrative Spectator audience and response Critical approaches to Hollywood cinema authorship genre and stars Animation forms and meaning Gender and film Lesbian and gay cinema British cinema Soviet montage Cinema French New Wave Indian Cinema Cinematic Appeals Ariel Rogers, 2013-10-22 Cinematic Appeals follows the effect of technological innovation on the cinema experience specifically the introduction of widescreen and stereoscopic 3D systems in the 1950s the rise of digital cinema in the 1990s and the transition to digital 3D since 2005 Widescreen films drew the spectator into the world of the screen enabling larger than life close ups of already larger than life actors The technology fostered the illusion of physically entering a film enhancing the semblance of realism Alternatively the digital era was less concerned with manipulating the viewer's physical response and more with generating information flow awe disorientation and the disintegration of spatial boundaries This study ultimately shows how cinematic technology and the human experience shape and respond to each other over time Films discussed include Elia Kazan's East of Eden 1955 Star Wars The Phantom Menace 1999 The Matrix 1999 and Thomas Vinterberg's Dogme film The Celebration 1998
