The Naming of Names Anna Pavord, 2005-11-29 Presents the history of how plants were grouped ordered and named for both pharmaceutical and practical purposes to make sense of the natural world Plants, People and Practices Jay Sanderson, 2017-05-18 Article 14 Protection Independent of Measures Regulating Production Certification and Marketing

Shakespeare's Plants and Gardens: A Dictionary Vivian Thomas, Nicki Faircloth, 2014-02-27 Shakespeare lived when knowledge of plants and their uses was a given but also at a time of unique interest in plants and gardens His lifetime saw the beginning of scientific interest in plants the first large scale plant introductions from outside the country since Roman times and the beginning of gardening as a leisure activity Shakespeare's works show that he engaged with this new world to illuminate so many facets of his plays and poems This dictionary offers a complete companion to Shakespeare's references to landscape plants and gardens including both formal and rural settings It covers plants and flowers gardening terms and the activities that Shakespeare included within both cultivated and uncultivated landscapes as well as encompassing garden imagery in relation to politics the state and personal lives Each alphabetical entry offers a definition and overview of the term discussed in its historical context followed by a guided tour of its use in Shakespeare's works and finally an extensive bibliography including primary and secondary sources books and articles Names and Naming in Early Modern Germany Marjorie Elizabeth Plummer, Joel F. Harrington, 2019-06-01 Throughout the many political and social upheavals of the early modern era names were words to conjure by articulating significant historical trends and helping individuals and societies make sense of often dramatic periods of change Centered on onomastics the study of names in the German speaking lands this volume gathering leading scholars across multiple disciplines explores the dynamics and impact of naming and renaming processes in a variety of contexts social artistic literary theological and scientific in order to enhance our understanding of individual and collective experiences The Western Herbal Tradition E-Book Graeme Tobyn, Alison Denham, Margaret Whitelegg, 2010-11-12 The Western Herbal Tradition provides a comprehensive and critical exploration of the use of plant medicines through 2000 years of history from Dioscorides to the present day It follows each of the 27 herbs through a wide range of key sources from European Arabic and American traditions including Greek Roman and Renaissance texts A rich discussion of the historical texts is balanced with current application and research The herbs have been selected on the basis of common use by practising herbalists Each illustrated monograph contains Species identification and botanical description A study of the characterisation and medicinal use of the plants consistently drawn from featured herbals which includes the authors own translations from the Latin Assessment of past and current texts in the transmission of herbal knowledge Consideration of traditional therapeutics including humoral and physiomedical approaches Suggestions towards a modern experiential approach through Goethean methodology Current evidence on pharmacological constituents Review of evidence on safety Recommendations for internal and external uses prescribing and dosage Excellent illustrations accompany each monograph to aid learning First book to cover broader historical perspective and discussions of issues surrounding each herb Written by leading experts who are well known in the field Includes some monographs of which there is little material already available The bibliographic evidence provided could support applications for registration of Herbal Medicinal Products under the provisions of the Traditional Herbal Medicinal Product Directive An excellent valuable resource for everyone interested in herbal medicine The Automaton in English Renaissance Literature Wendy Beth Hyman,2016-03-23

The Automaton in English Renaissance Literature features original essays exploring the automaton from animated statue to anthropomorphized machine in the poetry prose and drama of England in the 16th and 17th centuries Addressing the history and significance of the living machine in early modern literature the collection places literary automata of the period within their larger aesthetic historical philosophical and scientific contexts While no single theory or perspective conscribes the volume taken as a whole the collection helps correct an assumption that frequently emerges from a post Enlightenment perspective that these animated beings are by definition exemplars of the new science or that they point necessarily to man's triumphant relationship to technology On the contrary automata in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries seem only partly and sporadically to function as embodiments of an emerging mechanistic or materialist worldview Renaissance automata were just as likely not to confirm for viewers a hypothesis about the man machine Instead these essays show automata were often a source of wonder suggestive of magic proof of the uncannily animating effect of poetry indeed just as likely to unsettle the divide between man and divinity as that between man and matter The Western Herbal Tradition Graeme Tobyn,Alison Denham,Midge Whitelegg,2016-02-21 Presenting a valuable new angle for your phytotherapy practice this book traces the uses of 27 vital plants through 2000 years of history From Dioscorides and Trotula to the great Renaissance folios and up to present day this book demonstrates how traditional usage can be transmuted into your current practice

Reading Green in Early Modern England Leah Knight,2016-04-08 Green in early modern England did not mean what it does today but what did it mean Unveiling various versions and interpretations of green this book offers a cultural history of a color that illuminates the distinctive valences greenness possessed in early modern culture While treating green as a panacea for anything from sore eyes to sick minds early moderns also perceived verdure as responsive to their verse sympathetic to their sufferings and endowed with surprising powers of animation Author Leah Knight explores the physical and figurative potentials of green as they were understood in Renaissance England including some that foreshadow our paradoxical dependence on and sacrifice of the green world Ranging across contexts from early modern optics and olfaction to horticulture and herbal health care this study explores a host of human encounters with the green world both the impressions we make upon it and those it leaves with us The first two chapters consider the value placed on two ways of taking green into early modern bodies and minds by seeing it and breathing it in while the next two address the manipulation of greenery by Orphic poets and medicinal herbalists as well as grafters and graffiti artists A final chapter suggests that early modern modes of treating green wounds might point toward a new kind of intertextual ecology of reading and writing Reading Green in Early Modern England mines many pages from the period not literally but tropically metaphorically green that cultivate a variety of unexpected meanings of green and the atmosphere and powers it exuded in the early modern world

Descriptions, Translations and the Caribbean Rosanna Masiola, Renato Tomei, 2016-10-12 This book offers a new perspective on the role played by colonial descriptions and translation of Caribbean plants in representations of Caribbean culture Through thorough examination of Caribbean phytonyms in lexicography colonization history songs and translation studies the authors argue that the Westernisation of vernacular phytonyms while systematizing the nomenclature blurred and erased the cultural tradition of Caribbean plants and medicinal herbs Means of transmission and preservation of this oral culture was in the plantation songs and herb vendor songs Musical creativity is a powerful form of resistance as in the case of Reggae music and the rise of Rastafarians and Bob Marley's untranslatable lyrics This book will be of interest to scholars of Caribbean studies and to linguists interested in pushing the current Eurocentric boundaries of translation studies

Animals, Plants and Afterimages Valérie Bienvenue, Nicholas Chare, 2022-03-11 The sixth mass extinction or Anthropocene extinction is one of the most pervasive issues of our time Animals Plants and Afterimages brings together leading scholars in the humanities and life sciences to explore how extinct species are represented in art and visual culture with a special emphasis on museums Engaging with celebrated cases of vanished species such as the quagga and the thylacine as well as less well known examples of animals and plants these essays explore how representations of recent and ancient extinctions help advance scientific understanding and speak to contemporary ecological and environmental concerns

Huntia, 2005      Story of Measurement Andrew Robinson, 2007-10-30 Anyone interested in the role of science in everyday life will find in this marvellous book accessible intelligent visual and often entertaining answers to the questions we all ask about how we measure ourselves or planet and the Universe Part fascinating history part cutting edge science it explores everything measurable from temperature earthquakes and radioactivity to music blood and social attitudes as well as the origins of the metric system in the French Revolution      Retailing and the Language of Goods, 1550-1820 Nancy Cox, 2016-03-03 In this book the author explores the various meanings assigned to goods sold retail from 1550 to 1820 and how their labels were understood The first half of the book focuses on these labels and on mercantile language more broadly how it was used in trade and how lexicographers and others approached what for them were new vocabularies In the second half the author turns to the goods themselves and their relationships with terms such as luxury choice and love terms that were used as descriptors in marketing goods The language of objects is a subject of ongoing interest and the study of consumables opens up new ways of looking at the everyday language of the early modern period as well as the experiences of trade and consumption for both merchant and consumer      Gardens Illustrated, 2006      The Garden, 2006      The Orchid Digest, 2013      A Framework for Community Ecology Paul A. Keddy, Daniel C. Laughlin, 2021-12-09 This book addresses an important problem in ecology how are communities assembled from species pools This pressing question underlies a broad array of practical problems in ecology and environmental science including restoration of damaged landscapes management of protected areas and protection of threatened species This book presents a simple logical structure for ecological assembly and addresses key areas including species pools traits environmental filters and functional groups It demonstrates the use of two predictive models CATS and TraitSpace and consists of many wide ranging examples including plants in deserts wetlands and forests and communities of fish amphibians birds mammals and fungi Global in scope this volume ranges from the arid lands of North Africa to forests in the Himalayas to Amazonian floodplains There is a strong focus on applications particularly the twin challenges of conserving biodiversity and understanding community responses to climate change

Landskipping Anna Pavord, 2016-01-28 Landskipping is a ravishing celebration of landscape its iridescent beauty and its potential to comfort awe and mesmerise In spirit as Romantic as rational Anna Pavord explores the different ways in which we have throughout the ages responded to the land In the eighteenth century artists first started to paint English scenery and the Lakes as well as Snowdon began to attract a new kind of visitor the landscape tourist Early travel guides sought to capture the beauty and inspiration of waterfall lake and fell Sublime Picturesque they said as they laid down rules for correctly appreciating a view While painters painted and writers wrote an entirely different band of men the agricultural improvers also travelled the land and published a series of remarkable commentaries on the state of agricultural England They looked at the land in terms of its usefulness as well as its beauty and using their reports Anna Pavord explores the many different ways that land was managed and farmed showing that what is universal is a place's capacity to frame and define our experience Moving from the rolling hills of Dorset to the peaks of the Scottish Highlands this is an exquisite and compelling book written with zest passion and deep understanding
