Nanyang Perspective Chinese Students In Multiracial Singapore Asian Studies At Hawaii:

Nanyang Perspective; Chinese Students in Multiracial Singapore Andrew W. Lind, 1974      Asian Studies at Hawaii , 1991

Chinese Women in Southeast Asia Joyce Lebra-Chapman, Joy Paulson, 1980      The Business of Politics and Ethnicity

Sikko Visscher, 2007 This book describes the Singapore Chinese Chamber of Commerce's changing relationship with the state and with businesses in the region. Some of the wealthiest and most influential businessmen in Singapore and Malaysia have served as leaders of the Chamber. Drawing on archival materials and extensive interviews, Visscher provides lively biographical sketches that highlight the circumstances and personal values that propelled these and other leading Chinese businessmen to success and to prominence. He also examines Chinese business practices considering cultural elements as well as state and market forces and highlights unique features of the Chinese experience in Singapore. By viewing Singapore from the perspective of a well-established non-governmental organisation as it struggled, negotiated and cooperated with the state, this book offers an alternative to conventional political histories.      Thailand in Transition Ross Prizzia, 2019-03-31

Thailand in Transition goes beyond the conventional approach to Thai politics present in most of the literature which concentrates on the traditional institutions in Thailand: the monarchy, the military and the bureaucracy. The objective here has been rather to examine the more contemporary emergent oppositional forces struggling to play a permanent and significant role in the broader context of Thai politics. Oppositional forces in Thailand are many and varied, ranging from the outlawed Communist Party of Thailand (CPT) which seeks to overthrow the Thai government to the Thai Parliament which is usually legitimized as part of the government for brief periods between military coups. The book focuses on the CPT, workers, students and Parliament by presenting in historical perspective the origins, nature and influence of each as an oppositional force in Thai politics. Special attention is given to the transitional role of these oppositional forces during and after the dramatic shifts in Thai politics precipitated by the student revolution of 1973, the military coup of 1976, the increased hostilities between the People's Republic of China (PRC) and Vietnam in 1979 and the abortive coup by the Thai Young Turk military faction in 1981.      The Journal of Asian Studies , 1974 An essential resource for those interested in Asia. Recognized as the leading publication in its field, it features articles on the history, arts, social sciences and contemporary issues of East, South and Southeast Asia as well as a large book review section.      The Origins of Japan's Modern Forests Conrad Totman, 2019-09-30 The woodlands of Japan vary substantially from north to south and the patterns of their use and abuse differed from area to area during the Edo or early modern period 1600-1868. Nevertheless, the basic characteristics and rhythms of forest history were common to all of Japan except the sparsely populated northern island of Hokkaido. It is possible therefore to illuminate the general experience by scrutinizing a section of the whole. The section selected here is Akita, a prefecture of northern Japan whose forests are among the nation's most famous. Three considerations make this choice attractive. The topic has clearly delineated boundaries, largely because the Akita region was a single coherent political unit.

during the Edo period the documentation on the early modern forest situation there is extensive and accessible finally and as a consequence of the second factor Japanese scholars have already published excellent studies on key aspects of Akita forestry These factors have made this a relatively convenient area to examine and discuss in the short compass of this study

Experimental Essays on Chuang-Tzu Victor H. Mair, 1983-01-01    Asia Major, 1975    Buddhist and Taoist Studies Michael R. Saso, David W. Chappell, 1977    Appetite for Education in Contemporary Asia Kenneth G. Orr, 1977

Asian and African Studies, 1976    The Scripting of A National History Lysa Hong, Jianli Huang, 2008-04-01 Rather than presenting another narrative of Singapore history The Scripting of a National History Singapore and Its Pasts studies the constructed nature of the history endorsed by the state which blurs the distinction between what happened in the past and how the state intends that past to be understood The People's Action Party PAP government's unbroken mandate to rule has come in no small part from the way it explains its lineage and record to Singaporeans The power vested in various aspects of Singapore's history is thus examined through a consideration of past and present politics The authors trace state discourses on Singapore history from the decision immediately after independence to recognize the nineteenth century British acquisition of the island as its founding moment to the 1980s and 1990s when an essentially Confucian heritage was recognized under the rubric of Asian values and finally to an emphasis on the history of racial fragility and harmony in response to the threat of terrorism in the twenty first century Embedded within these discourses is the story of the PAP as the heir of the economic dynamics of the pax Britannica as an exponent of the morality and righteousness of the Chinese scholar gentleman and as the firm hand that balances the interests of the majority Chinese against those of the minority populations particularly the Malays The authors examine the underlying template of Singapore history the negotiation with its immigrant past and the popularization of history through conscription of national heroes The chapters range from considering how political leaders claim to be historians by virtue of being the makers of history to the vicissitudes undergone by two originally private homes turned into symbols of Singapore's Chinese modernity The Scripting of a National History Singapore and Its Pasts is highly relevant not only to academics but also for the Singapore general reader interested to see what are meant to be received wisdoms for the citizenry interrogated in a well reasoned and engaging exercise as well as for an international readership to whom Singapore has become a fascinating enigma They may well be intrigued by the anxieties of being Singaporean    Constructing Singapore Michael D. Barr, Zlatko Skrbis, 2008 Constructing Singapore studies Singaporean nation building by focusing on two processes elite formation and elite selection It gives primary attention to the role that ethno racial ascription plays in these processes but also considers the input of personal connections personal power class and gender It is a study of the progress of Singapore's state sponsored nation building project to its current state whereby a Singaporean version of Chinese ethno nationalism has overwhelmed the discourse on national and Singaporean identity Based upon archival research and formal interviews this study unpacks the culture of elite governance in Lee Hsien

Loong s Singapore today      The Singapore Dilemma Lily Zubaidah Rahim,1998 This study examines the factors that have contributed to the persisting socio economic marginality of the Singapore Malay Community It proposes that this problem requires a national solution as it is organically connected to the social economic and political challenges confronting the multiethnic island republic      Ilocano Irrigation Henry T. Lewis,2019-09-30 This volume examines some of the major factors social demographic and environmental that account for the success of communal irrigation in Ilocos Norte and by implication its absence in adjacent areas other parts of the Philippines and more widely in other parts of insular Southeast Asia However whether this explanation accounts for all the factors involved or even adequately weighs those that are here discussed is secondary to the main concern of this volume corporate groups What zanjas irrigation societies show are repeated examples of how individual farmers working in concert developed and employed corporate principles to the solution of a common goal or problem It is a kind of solution that has been widely and effectively employed in much of human history

The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1991      The English Language in Singapore William James Crewe,1977      Buddhist and Taoist Practice in Medieval Chinese Society David W. Chappell,1987      Educational Research Environments in Southeast Asia Saravanan Gopinathan,H. Dean Nielsen,1988
