Narrative Constellations Susanne Garvis, 2015-07-23 Narrative research in contemporary times can free social scientists from the rhetorical forms Emihovich 1995 that alienate children and families from their own traditions Through the use of narrative we are able to recognise the power of subjectivity in allowing open dialogue and co construction of meaning Becoming comfortable with narrative research also means accepting ideas that the world has no fixed rules for assigning behaviour Emihovich 1995 This means that open dialogue is required to build consensus around shared meaning and to ensure the inclusion of multiple voices The book begins with a theoretical overview of narrative genre before focusing on narrative constellations Three constellations are then shared with the reader The final chapter provides ideas about the future of narrative constellation in research and the impact constellations can have for future policy and practice It is hoped that the reader develops a better understanding of narrative ways and begins to see the potential of narrative constellations in the research genre Dr Susanne Garvis is a professor of child and youth studies at the University of Gothenburg Sweden She has previously worked in Australian universities and is an adjunct academic with Griffith University Australia Professor Garvis has experience with narrative approaches in early childhood education and care She has researched the lives of teachers families and children She is particularly interested in representations of lived experience and the power of stories in research

Multiple Perspectives on Play in Early Childhood Education Olivia N. Saracho, Bernard Spodek, 1998-01-15 Play has been part of early childhood programs since the initial kindergarten developed by Friedrich Froebel more than one hundred and fifty years ago While research shows that most teachers value children s play they often do not know how to guide that play to make it more educational Too often in reflecting the value of child initiated activities teachers set the stage for children s play observe it but hesitate to intervene in that play They may fear that to intervene is to create a developmentally inappropriate set of educational practices However the lack of intervention may limit the educational outcomes of play Meanwhile a large body of research exists on different forms of children s play in educational settings that could inform teachers of young children and help them to improve their practice and support more educational play Saracho and Spodek bring together much of that research in an accessible volume for early childhood teachers and teacher educators

Unconventions Michael Martone, 2010-02-25 Unconventions is a quirky and provocative miscellany that reveals Michael Martone s protean interests as a writer and a writing teacher Martone has shall we say a problem with authority His chief pleasure in knowing the rules of his vocation comes from trying out new ways to bend blend or otherwise defy them The pieces gathered in Unconventions are drawn from a long career spent loosening the creative strictures on writing Including articles public addresses essays interviews and even a eulogy these writings vary greatly in form but are unified in addressing the many technical and artistic issues that face all writers particularly those interested in experimental and nontraditional modes and forms Martone s approach has always been to synthesize to understand and use any technique formula or style available I find myself then he writes self identifying as a formalist both and neither an experimenter and or a traditionalist In I Love a Parade An Afterword Martone writes about not fitting in and loving it as he recalls the time he marched alone in a local Labor Day parade as a one person delegation from the National Writers Union Elsewhere in writings formally stylistically purposely at odds with themselves Martone s expansive curiosity is on full display We learn about camouflage techniques how a baby acquires language how to read a WPA era post office mural and why Martone sold his stock in the New Yorker and reinvested his money in the company that makes Etch A Sketch Unconventions then is Martone s Frankensteinian monster a kind of unruly hybrid spawn of the mainstream writing enterprise Writing seems to me an intrinsic pleasure an end in itself first says Martone The question for me is not whether my writing or any piece of writing is good or bad but what the writing is and what it is doing and how finally it is used or can be used by others
