Narratives Of Nation Building In Korea A Genealogy Of Patriotism:

Narratives of Nation Building in Korea Sheila Miyoshi Jager, 2003-06-03 This book offers new insight on how key historical texts and events in Korea's history have contributed to the formation of the nation's collective consciousness. The work is woven around the unifying premise that particular narrative texts/events that extend back to the premodern period have remained important albeit transformed over the modern period and into the contemporary period. The author explores the relationship between gender and nationalism by showing how key narrative topics such as tales of virtuous womanhood have been employed, transformed and re-deployed to make sense of particular national events. Connecting these narratives and historic events to contemporary Korean society, Jager reveals how these sites or reference points were also successfully re-deployed in the context of the division of Korea and the construction of Korea's modern consciousness. Detailing the specific case of Seoul, Hyun Kyung Lee investigates how buildings are selectively destroyed, preserved or reconstructed in order to either establish or challenge the cultural identity of places as new political orders are developed. In addition, she illuminates the Korean traditional concept of feng shui as a core indigenous framework for understanding the relationship between space and power as it is associated with nation-building processes and heritagization. By providing a detailed study of a case little known outside of East Asia, Difficult Heritage in Nation Building will expand the framework of Western-centered heritage research by introducing novel Asian perspectives. Brothers at War: The Unending Conflict in Korea Sheila Miyoshi Jager, 2013-07 A comprehensive history of the Korean War that explains how it started and why it still has not technically ended and describes how North Korea continues to stockpile weapons while its people go without the basic necessities of life. Eckert, 2016-11-07 This first volume in a two part study examines the origins of South Korean authoritarianism as personified by the militant political leader For South Koreans the twenty years from the early 1960s to late 1970s were the best and worst of times a period of unprecedented economic growth and of political oppression that deepened as prosperity spread In this masterly account Carter J Eckert finds the roots of South Korea s dramatic socioeconomic transformation in the country s long history of militarization a history personified in South Korea s paramount leader Park Chung Hee In Park Chung Hee and Modern Korea Eckert reveals how the foundations of Park s leadership were established during the period of Japanese occupation As a cadet in the Manchurian Military Academy Park and his fellow officers absorbed the Imperial Japanese Army s ethos of victory at all costs and absolute obedience to authority When Park seized power in 1961 he applied this ethos to the project of Korean modernization Korean society under Park exuded a distinctively martial character Eckert shows Its hallmarks included the belief that the army should intervene in politics in times of crisis that a central authority should manage the country s economic system and that the state should maintain a strong disciplinary presence in society reserving the right to use violence to maintain order A milestone in the literature of modern East Asia Bruce Cumings author of Korea s Place in the Sun Seoul Ross King, 2018-02-28 Seoul is a colossus both in its physical presence and the demand it places on any intellectual effort to understand it How did it come to be How can a city this immense work Underlying its spectacle and incongruities is a city that might be described as ill at ease with its own past The bitter rifts of Japanese colonization persist as does the troubled aftermath of the Korean War and its divisions the economic Miracle on the Han that followed is crosscut by memories of the violent dictatorship that drove it In Seoul author Ross King interrogates this contested history and its physical remnants tacking between the city s historiography and architecture with attention to monuments streets and other urban spaces The book s structuring device is the dichotomy of erasure and memory as necessary preconditions for reinvention King traces this phenomenon from the old dynasties to the Japanese regime and wartime destruction he then follows the equally destructive reinvention of Korea under dictatorship to the brilliant city of the present with its extraordinary explosion of creativity and ideas the post 1991 Hallyu the Korean Wave The final chapter returns to questions of forgetting and memory but now as conditions of possibility for what would seem to underlie the present trajectory of this extraordinary city and culture Seoul can be read King suggests in the context of the hybrid ideas that have characterized Korean cultural history It may be their present eruption that accounts for the city of contradictions that confronts the contemporary observer and that most extraordinary of Korean phenomena the rise of an alternative virtual world eclipsing both city and nation Has the very idea of Korea been reinvented even as the weakly defined nation state slips away

Social Darwinism and Nationalism in Korea: the Beginnings (1880s-1910s) Vladimir Tikhonov, 2010-07-14 The book deals with the influences Social Darwinism exerted upon Korea's modern ideologies in their formative period especially nationalism after its introduction to Korea in 1883 and before Korea's annexation by Japan in 1910 It shows that the belief in the survival of the fittest as the overarching cosmic and social principle constituted the main underpinning for the modernity discourses in Korea in the 1890s 1900s Unlike the dominant ideology of traditional Korea Neo Confucianism which was largely promoted by the scholar official elite Social Darwinism appealed to the modern intellectuals but also to the entrepreneurs providing the justification for their profit seeking activities as part of the national survival project As an ideology of Korea's nascent capitalism Social Darwinism in Korea could however hardly be called a liberal creed it clearly prioritized national survival over individual rights and interests In Search of Korean Traditional Opera Andrew Killick, 2010-07-15 This is the first book on Korean opera in a language other than Korean Its subject is ch'angguk a form of musical theater that has developed over the last hundred years from the older narrative singing tradition of p'ansori Andrew Killick examines the history and current practice of ch'angguk as an ongoing attempt to invent a traditional Korean opera form to compare with those of neighboring China and Japan In this the work addresses a growing interest within the fields of ethnomusicology and Asian studies in the adaptation of traditional arts to conditions in the modern world Ch'angguk presents an intriguing case in that unlike the invented traditions described in Hobsbawm and Ranger's influential book that were firmly established within a few years of their invention ch'angguk remains in a marginal position relative to recognized traditional art forms such as South Korea's Important Intangible Cultural Properties after more than a century Performers writers directors and historians have looked for ways to make the genre more traditional including looking outside Korea for comparisons with traditional theater forms in other countries and for recognition of ch'angguk as a national art form by international audiences For the benefit of readers who have not seen ch'angguk performed the author begins with a detailed description of a typical performance illustrated with photographs and musical examples followed by a history of the genre from its still disputed origins in the early twentieth century through a major revival under Japanese colonial rule and the flourishing of an all female version yosong kukkuk after Liberation to the efforts of the National Changgeuk Company and others to establish ch'angguk as Korean traditional opera Killick concludes with analyses of the stories and music of ch'angguk and a personal view on developing a Korean national theater form for international audiences New Korean Cinema Chi-Yun Shin, Julian Stringer, 2005 A wide ranging analysis of modern South Korean cinema
