Sahliyah, 1990-01-01 This book examines the highly politicized religious groups and movements that have surfaced since the late 1970s in the United States Central America South Africa the Philippines India and the Middle East Sahliyah and others analyze this trend toward the politicization of religious conservatism and question a number of assumptions central to concepts of modernization For example it has been assumed by development theorists that the interrelated components of modernization would enhance the trend toward secularization of societies This book shows that in many societies today religious revivalism and fundamentalism seem to be direct products of modernization A global comparative approach is utilized to formulate general explanations for religious revivalism and its implications for modernization development and politics

Eickelman, James Piscatori, 2018-06-05 In this updated paperback edition Dale Eickelman and James Piscatori explore how the politics of Islam play out in the lives of Muslims throughout the world They discuss how recent events such as September 11 and the 2003 war in Iraq have contributed to reshaping the political and religious landscape of Muslim majority countries and Muslim communities elsewhere As they examine the role of women in public life and Islamic perspectives on modernization and free speech the authors probe the diversity of the contemporary Islamic experience suggesting general trends and challenging popular Western notions of Islam as a monolithic movement In so doing they clarify concepts such as tradition authority ethnicity protest and symbolic space notions that are crucial to an in depth understanding of ongoing political events This book poses questions about ideological politics in a variety of transnational and regional settings throughout the Muslim world Europe and North America for example have become active Muslim centers profoundly influencing trends in the Middle East Africa Central Asia and South and Southeast Asia The authors examine the long term cultural and political implications of this transnational shift as an emerging generation of Muslims often the products of secular schooling begin to reshape politics and society sometimes in defiance of state authorities Scholars mothers government leaders and musicians are a few of the protagonists who invoking shared Islamic symbols try to reconfigure the boundaries of civic debate and public life These symbolic politics explain why political actions are recognizably Muslim and why Islam makes a difference in determining the politics of a broad swath of the world The Politics of Islamism John L. Esposito, Lily Zubaidah Rahim, Naser Ghobadzadeh, 2017-11-09 This book offers a nuanced and multi-layered approach towards comprehending the possibilities of democratization or likelihood of authoritarian resilience in the Muslim world. The volume highlights the complex diversity within Islamist movements and parties characterised by internal tensions, struggles and contestations. The very existence of this diversity within and among Islamist movements and their general willingness to partake in mainstream politics signals an important transformation in the Muslim world over recent decades. It demonstrates that the Muslim world has gravitated from the simplistic focus on the compatibility or incompatibility of Islam and democracy. Islamist movements and parties embody the multiple manifestations and trajectories within political Islam. The granular case studies and theological analyses in this volume draw attention to the policy refinements, socio-political reforms and ideological transformations engendered by Muslim intellectuals and Islamist movements and ideologues. The diverse political landscape in the Muslim world is inextricably linked to the socio-political and theological shifts within Islamism, in particular the yearning for greater social, economic and political justice, a yearning that lies at the core of an inclusive wasatiyyah Islam.

Islamic Political Identity in Turkey M. Hakan Yavuz, 2003-08-28 In November of 2002 the Justice and Development Party swept to victory in the Turkish parliamentary elections. Because of the party's Islamic roots, its electoral triumph has sparked a host of questions both in Turkey and in the West. Does the party harbor a secret Islamist agenda? Will the new government seek to overturn nearly a century of secularization stemming from Kemal Atatürk's early twentieth-century reforms? Most fundamentally, is Islam compatible with democracy? In this penetrating work M. Hakan Yavuz seeks to answer these questions and to provide a comprehensive analysis of Islamic political identity in Turkey. He begins in the early twentieth century when Kemal Atatürk led Turkey through a process of rapid secularization and crushed Islamic opposition to his authoritarian rule. Yavuz argues that since Atatürk's death in 1938, however, Turkey has been gradually moving away from his militant secularism and experiencing a quiet Muslim reformation. Islamic political identity is not homogeneous, says Yavuz, but can be modern and progressive as well as conservative and potentially authoritarian. While the West has traditionally seen Kemalism as an engine for reform against reactionary political Islam, in fact the Kemalist establishment has traditionally used the Islamic threat as an excuse to avoid democratization and thus hold on to power. Yavuz offers an account of the soft coup of 1997 in which the Kemalist military bureaucratic establishment overthrew the democratically elected coalition government which was led by the pro Islamic Refah party He argues that the soft coup plunged Turkey into a renewed legitimacy crisis which can only be resolved by the liberalization of the political system The book ends with a discussion of the most recent election and its implications for Turkey and the Muslim world Yavuz argues that Islamic social movements can be important agents for promoting a democratic and pluralistic society and that the Turkish example holds long term promise for the rest of the Muslim world Based on extensive fieldwork and interviews this work offers a sophisticated new understanding of the role of political Islam in one of the world s most strategically important countries

The Ulama in Contemporary Islam

Muhammad Qasim Zaman,2010-12-16 From the cleric led Iranian revolution to the rise of the Taliban in Afghanistan many people have been surprised by what they see as the modern reemergence of an antimodern phenomenon This book helps account for the increasingly visible public role of traditionally educated Muslim religious scholars the ulama across contemporary Muslim societies Muhammad Qasim Zaman describes the transformations the centuries old culture and tradition of the ulama have undergone in the modern era transformations that underlie the new religious and political activism of these scholars In doing so it provides a new foundation for the comparative study of Islam politics and religious change in the contemporary world While focusing primarily on Pakistan Zaman takes a broad approach that considers the Taliban and the ulama of Iran Egypt Saudi Arabia India and the southern Philippines He shows how their religious and political discourses have evolved in often unexpected but mutually reinforcing ways to redefine and enlarge the roles the ulama play in society Their discourses are informed by a longstanding religious tradition of which they see themselves as the custodians But these discourses are equally shaped by and contribute in significant ways to contemporary debates in the Muslim public sphere This book offers the first sustained comparative perspective on the ulama and their increasingly crucial religious and political activism It shows how issues of religious authority are debated in contemporary Islam how Islamic law and tradition are continuously negotiated in a rapidly changing world and how the ulama both react to and shape larger Islamic social trends Introducing previously unexamined facets of religious and political thought in modern Islam it clarifies the complex processes of religious change unfolding in the contemporary Muslim world and goes a long way toward explaining their vast social and political ramifications

Reform and Modernity in Islam

Safdar Ahmed,2013-05-30 The debate over Islam and modernity tends to be approached from a Eurocentric perspective that presents Western norms as a template for progress against which Islamic societies can be measured This misses the historical development of Muslim reformist thought that actively engages with the world around it and seeks to reconfigure Islam within the diverse conditions of modernity Safdar Ahmed paints a complex and nuanced picture that goes beyond the idea that Muslim reformers have either reproduced or reacted against Western ideas Rather Ahmed argues they have reconstructed and appropriated these ideas and so the thread of Western influence runs through modern Islamic thought on nationalism and sovereignty femininity and gender Ahmed uncovers new historiographical perspectives by critically examining the work of prominent intellectuals such as Muhammad Abduh Qasim Amin and Abdul A la Maududi Political Islam in Central Asia Emmanuel Karagiannis,2009-12-04 A comprehensive study of one of the most feared but least understood international Islamist organizations in post Soviet Central Asia Hizb ut Tahrir Using primary sources and first hand accounts it analyses its leadership ideology political methodology and party structure and its future relationship to violence in this key region

Inside the Muslim Brotherhood Khalil 'Anānī,2016 Inside the Muslim Brotherhood provides a comprehensive analysis of the organization s identity organization and activism in Egypt since 1981 It also explains the Brotherhood s durability and its ability to persist in spite of regime repression and exclusion over the past three decades Modernity's Classics Sarah C. Humphreys,Rudolf G Wagner,2013-02-11 This book presents critical studies of modern reconfigurations of conceptions of the past of the classical and of national heritage Its scope is global China India Egypt Iran Judaism the Greco Roman world and inter disciplinary textual philology history of art and architecture philosophy gardening Its emphasis is on the complexity of the modernization process and of reactions to it ideas and technologies travelled from India to Iran and from Japan to China while reactions show tensions between museumization and the recreation of presence It challenges readers to rethink the assumptions of the disciplines in which they were trained Rethinking Islamist Politics Salwa Ismail,2006-05-26 In an atmosphere of growing concern over the threat posed by Islamist violence political Islamism has become the most important of geopolitical issues In the process it has been misrepresented Contrary to what many believe Islamist movements are characterised by their diversity Revisiting the main arguments and explanations that have been used over the past twenty years to understand Islamist activism moderate as well as militant Salwa Ismail here proposes a rethinking of Islamist politics The phenomenon of political Islam is determined by macro and micro level changes in the Muslim world such as the retreat of the welfare state across the Middle East and the subsequent expansion in the role of informal political activists in the popular neighbourhoods of such cities as Algiers or Cairo Ismail examines both levels to explain the socio economic and political settings out of which Islamism has developed Her focus is both the economic and political environments that fomented Islamism and the structures of Islamist movements themselves from their ideologies to their modes of action Looking at Islamism as a form of contestation politics Ismail offers a reassessment of its failures and successes limited as it is by its use of violence but capable of real mobilisation at a popular level Rethinking Islamist Politics will be vital reading for anyone seeking to understand such spectacular expressions of Islamism as the September 11th attacks but also the everyday struggles of ordinary people which Islamism embodies The Talibanization of Southeast Asia Bilveer Singh,2007-10-30 Long before the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 awakened the United States and the Western world to the heightened level of the terrorist threat Southeast Asia had been dealing with this threat The bombing in Bali that killed 202 people many of them Australian tourists was by no means the region s first experience with Islamic extremism which can be traced back to the 1940s and the Darul Islam struggle The most recent group to emerge is Al Jama ah Al Islamiyah AJAI the most potent Islamic terrorist organization to date in the region and the group behind the Bali bombing Understanding the process of Talibanization in Southeast Asia which was once an oasis of moderate Islam in the modern world is a key to unraveling the mystery of the increased radicalization in the region Essentially this involved the establishment of a political system that was more Islamic in character either nationally or within a specific territory of a national state This book analyzes the increasing Talibanization of Southeast Asia a relatively new phenomenon that involves the adoption of Islamist doctrines ideologies and values that are largely militant in character and that for some groups includes the adoption of violence to achieve their goals This has succeeded in posing one of the most serious security challenges to the region since the end of the Cold War Jihadists are operating in small and localized cells even though the broad goals remain the same namely to spread sharia establish an Islamic state and bring down secular regimes As most governments do not have the credibility or the expertise to diminish the threat posed by Islamist extremism Wahhabism and Salafism Southeast Asia is in danger of being Talibanized in the near future
