The Railway Children (Classic Reprint) Edith Nesbit,2017-11-20 Excerpt from The Railway Children They were not railway children to begin with I don t suppose they had ever thought about rail ways except as means of getting to Maskelyne and Cooke s the Pantomime Zoological Gardens and Madame Tussaud s They were just ordinary suburban children and they lived with their Father and Mother in an ordinary red brick fronted villa with coloured glass in the front door a tiled pas sage that was called a hall a bath room with hot and cold water electric bells French windows and a good deal of white paint and every mod ern convenience as the house agents say There were three of them Roberta was the eldest Of course Mothers never have favourites but if their Mother had had a favourite it might have been Roberta Next came Peter who wished to be an Engineer when he grew up and the youngest was Phyllis who meant extremely well Mother did not Spend all her time in paying dull calls to dull ladies and sitting dully at home waiting for dull ladies to pay calls to her She was almost always there ready to play with the children and read to them and help them to do their home lessons Besides this she used to write stories for them while they were at school and read them aloud after tea and she always made up funny pieces of poetry for their birthdays and for other great occasions such as the christening of the new kittens or the refurbishing of the doll s house
