Jurisdiction of International Tribunals Chittharanjan Félix Amerasinghe, 2003 3 Who may refer International Organizations Before National Courts August Reinisch, 2000-04-13 A radical empirical investigation of how national courts react to disputes involving international organizations Through comprehensive analysis of the attitudes and techniques of national courts and underlying political motives Professor Reinisch first describes various legal approaches that result in adjudication or non adjudication of disputes concerning international organizations Secondly he discusses policy issues pro and contra the adjudication of such disputes His study then scrutinizes the rationale for immunizing international organizations from domestic litigations especially the functional need for immunity and substantially debates the implications of a human rights based right of access to court on immunizing international organizations against national jurisdictions Finally he identifies contemporary trends seeking to ascertain whether a more flexible principle exempting certain types of disputes from domestic adjudication might substitute for the traditional immunity concept which would simultaneously guarantee the functioning and independence of international organizations without impairing private parties access to a fair dispute settlement procedure International Law for Freshwater Protection Agnes Chong, 2022-04-04 International Law for Freshwater Protection traces the development of international water law on fresh water protection and demonstrates how the regime focuses on the utilisation and rights of sovereign states over the protection and sustainable growth of shared water resources The evolving jurisprudence influenced by environmental law highlights the regime s insufficient focus on the environmental protection of watercourses This book argues that existing rules mechanisms and norms within international law can address the regime s imbalance and establish how these might be applied to improve freshwater protection

International Contracts Joachim Frick, 2001-10-24 The technical economic and social development of the last one hundred years has created a new type of long term contract which one may call Complex International Contract Typical examples include complex civil engineering and constructions contracts as well as joint venture shareholders project finance franchising cooperation and management agreements The dispute resolution mechanism which normally deals with such contracts is commercial arbitration which has been deeply affected in recent decades by attempts to improve its capabilities Most importantly there is the trend towards further denationalization of arbitration with respect to the applicable substantive law In this regard a new generation of conflict rules no longer imposes on the arbitrators a particular method to be applied for the purpose of determining the applicable rules of law Moreover arbitration more frequently took on the task of adapting Complex International Contracts to changed circumstances Also special rules have been developed for so called multi party arbitration and fast track arbitration facilitating efficient dispute resolution The author describes these trends both from a practical as well as a theoretical perspective evaluating not only the advantages but also the risks involved with the new developments in arbitration Relevant issues with respect to the drafting and renegotiation of such contracts are also discussed
