Report On The Global HIV/AIDS Epidemic July :

Sant'Egidio's Dream Roberto Morozzo della Rocca, 2024-05-01 The story of an innovative program of treatment for AIDS in Africa that succeeded in the face of international development agencies' afro pessimism. Until this century Western governments and foundations framing policies for AIDS relief in Africa maintained that prevention alone was a preferable alternative to prevention plus treatment which would be costly and impractical in Africa or would benefit only the prosperous and well connected. Sant Egidio's Dream argues that this initial failed approach to AIDS in African countries reflects a global moral blindness to the imperative to save lives which was not lost on the Community of Sant Egidio an Italian Catholic social movement rooted in the gospel and friendship and present in 70 countries. Drawing on two decades of peacemaking and humanitarian experience in Africa the movement grasped the evidence that HIV if treated does not lead to AIDS and to death and saw that treatment gives hope in Africa just as it does in the developed world. By enabling large numbers of people to live with a chronic disease and involving family and neighbors in free and effective care it offers a dream of a society surviving and even thriving in spite of HIV. In 2002 Sant Egidio established the DREAM Drug Resource Enhancement Against AIDS and Malnutrition project a community based approach to the AIDS crisis rooted in medicine epidemiology and public health that has proven effective in ten countries where it has been implemented and has emerged as a model for healthcare in the global South.

Disease and Mortality in Sub-Saharan Africa Dean T. Jamison, 2006-01-01 Current data and trends in morbidity and mortality for the sub Saharan Region as presented in this new edition reflect the heavy toll that HIV/AIDS has had on health indicators leading to either a stalling or reversal of the gains made not just for communicable disorders but for cancers as well as mental and neurological disorders.

U.S. response to global AIDS crisis United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations, 2005

HIV/AIDS and Adolescents Prem Misir, 2019-05-22 This book addresses the relationship between high school students' HIV and AIDS knowledge and their stigma related attitudes perceptions of people living with HIV PLHIV in the Caribbean and South Pacific with a view to designing effective stigma reduction combined intervention programs. Presenting an international cross sectional study using a purposive sample of high school students from Fiji South Pacific Vanuatu South Pacific Guyana and Antigua Barbuda Caribbean to assess HIV and AIDS knowledge and stigma related attitudes by gender age religion race ethnicity and socioeconomic status the book shows how stigmatizing attitudes and beliefs negatively impact interventions to prevent and treat HIV and AIDS.

World Youth Report , 2004

The Global Course of the Information Revolution Richard Hundley, Robert H. Anderson, Tora K. Bikson, C. Richard Neu, 2003-08-14 Advances in information technology are heavily influencing ways in which business society and government work and function throughout the globe bringing many changes to everyday life in a process commonly termed the information revolution. This book paints a picture of the state of the information revolution today and how it will likely progress in the near to mid term future 10 to 15 years focusing separately on different regions of the world North America

Europe the Asia Pacific region Latin America the Middle East and North Africa and sub Saharan Africa      Global Inequalities at Work Jody Heymann, 2003-07-10 A map of the relationship between work and health that is truly global both geographically and in its coverage of the impact of work on the health of individuals families and societies has not previously been drawn Global Inequalities at Work is the first book to fill in the map Drawing from studies done around the world it critically examines the many ways in which work is affecting health around the world The first section covers the wide range of risks physical chemical and social to the health of employees in agricultural industrial and post industrial workplaces Part II provides a detailed analysis of how working conditions can dramatically influence the health and welfare of family members including children elderly parents and the disabled in both the developing and industrial world Part III examines the relationships between work and health at the societal level by focusing on two examples the ways in which working conditions affect income inequalities and health and the ways in which working conditions influence gender inequalities and health Part IV investigates the new challenges to and opportunities for improving the relationship between work and health that are presented by a rapidly globalizing economy Global Inequalities at Work addresses these issues at a time when globalization is both markedly changing the impact of work on the health of individuals families and societies and radically revising what can be done about it Leaders from universities international organizations and nongovernmental organizations bring to this edited volume expertise from six continents      When God's People Have HIV/AIDS Maria Cimperman, 2005 Maria Cimperman an Ursuline sister teaches moral theology and social ethics at the Oblate School of Theology in San Antonio Texas      A Decade of Human Security David R. Black, 2016-03-03 Human security has been advanced as an alternative to traditional state based conceptualizations of security yet controversies about the use and abuse of the concept remain Investigating innovations in the advancement of the human security agenda over the past decade this book identifies themes and processes around which consensus for future policy action might be built It considers the ongoing debates regarding the human security agenda explores prospects and projects for the advancement of human security addresses issues of human security as emerging forms of new multilateralisms and examines claims that human security is being undermined by US unilateralisms This comprehensive volume explores the theoretical debate surrounding human security and details the implications for practical application It will prove ideal for students of international relations security studies and development studies      Psychosocial Issues Affecting Orphaned and Vulnerable Children in Two South African Communities , 2006 In collaboration with several partner organizations the project currently focuses on how children families and communities in Botswana South Africa and Zimbabwe are coping with the impact of HIV AIDS The aim of the project is to develop models of best practise so as to enhance and improve support structures for OVC in the southern African region as a whole      Ecological Security Dennis Clark Pirages, Theresa Manley DeGeest, 2003-07-28 Global environmental politics has emerged from its initial incarnation in the arena of low politics and is rapidly becoming a high politics concern Concern over water pollution air pollution deforestation and related basic environmental issues is giving way to a broader ecological security agenda In this pathbreaking book Dennis Clark Pirages and Theresa Manley DeGeest argue for dramatically broadening the context in which security priorities are established in an age of increasing globalization Addressing the very fundamental question of the sources of premature human deaths and associated insecurity both historically and in the contemporary world the authors observe that in the twentieth century starvation killed nearly as many people as did military conflict But disease was responsible for killing nearly fourteen times as many people as was warfare And in the contemporary world of the twenty first century environmental terrorism and biological warfare are blurring the traditional distinctions between natural disasters accidental deaths and military casualties Ecological Security moves the analysis of global environmental and resource issues to the next level by developing an eco evolutionary perspective for analyzing emerging problems associated with rapid globalization Preserving future ecological security will depend upon maintaining dynamic equilibriums among human populations and between them and pathogenic microorganisms other species and the sustaining capabilities of nature This eco evolutionary framework is used to anticipate and analyze emerging demographic ecological and technological discontinuities and dilemmas associated with rapid globalization The authors conclude by stressing the need for new kinds of global public goods to mitigate the harshest impacts of these rapid and interrelated changes

Infectious Disease and National Security Gary Cecchine, Melinda Moore, 2006-08-11 The pace of global travel migration and commerce has brought about an increased risk of a worldwide infectious disease outbreak This report examines infectious disease within the context of national security and assesses the need for and adequacy of information that will enable U S policymakers to prevent and respond to such threats
