Representing The Japanese Occupation Of Indonesia Personal Testimonies And Public Images In Indonesia:

Representing the Japanese Occupation of Indonesia Remco Raben, 1999 Rather than a history of the war and occupation of Indonesia during the years 1942-1945 Representing the Japanese Occupation of Indonesia offers a survey of the way in which Indonesia, Japan and the Netherlands have shaped the memory of that episode. Comparison of the memories in the three countries brings out the national patterns of memory. This volume gives an impression of the layered and pluriform nature of memory and of the different forms of expression of memory from the most personal level of oral testimony to the most public representation in monuments and films.

A History of Modern Indonesia Adrian Vickers, 2013-03-29 This updated edition examines the rise of fundamentalist Islam in Indonesia and asks why the country's democratic aspirations have yet to be realized.

Post-Colonial Immigrants and Identity Formations in the Netherlands Ulbe Bosma, 2012 In this book Ulbe Bosma explores the experience of immigrants in the Netherlands over sixty years and three generations. Looking at migrants from all countries, Bosma teases out how their ethnic identities are informed by Dutch culture and how these immigrant identities evolve over time. Fascinating, comprehensive and historically grounded, this essential volume reveals how the colonial past continues to shape multicultural Dutch society. It is an important counterpart to work on France, Britain and Portugal.

Journalism and Politics in Indonesia David T. Hill, 2010-01-21 This book weaves a history of the Indonesian press and of Indonesia's post-independence history through the life story of Mochtar Lubis, one of Indonesia's best-known newspaper editors, authors and cultural figures with a national, regional and international prominence he retained from the early 1950s until his death in 2004.

Young Soeharto David Jenkins, 2021-05-06 When a reluctant President Sukarno gave Lt Gen Soeharto full executive authority in March 1966, Indonesia was a deeply divided nation fractured along ideological, class, religious and ethnic lines. Soeharto took a country in chaos, the largest in Southeast Asia, and transformed it into one of the Asian miracle economies, only to leave it back on the brink of ruin when he was forced from office thirty-two years later. Drawing on his astonishing range of interviews with leading Indonesian generals, former Imperial Japanese Army officers and men who served in the Dutch colonial army, as well as years of patient research in Dutch, Japanese, British, Indonesian and US archives,

David Jenkins brings vividly to life the story of how a socially reticent but exceptionally determined young man from rural Java began his rise to power an ascent which would be capped by thirty years 1968-98 as President of Indonesia the fourth most populous nation on earth Soeharto was one of Asia's most brutal most durable most avaricious and most successful dictators In the course of examining those aspects of his character this book provides an accessible highly readable introduction to the complex but dramatic and utterly absorbing social political religious economic and military factors that have shaped and which continue to shape Indonesia

Nurturing Indonesia Hans Pols, 2018-08-09 Hans Pols proposes a new perspective on the history of colonial medicine from the viewpoint of indigenous physicians The Indonesian medical profession in the Dutch East Indies actively participated in political affairs by joining and leading nationalist associations by publishing in newspapers and magazines and by becoming members of city councils and the colonial parliament Indonesian physicians were motivated by their medical training their experiences as physicians and their subordinate position within the colonial health care system to organise lead and join social cultural and political associations Opening with the founding of Indonesia's first political association in 1908 and continuing with the initiatives of the Association of Indonesian Physicians Pols describes how the Rockefeller Foundation's projects inspired the formulation of a nationalist health programme Tracing the story through the Japanese annexation the war of independence and independent Indonesia Pols reveals the relationship between medicine and decolonisation and the role of physicians in Asian history

Persimmon, 2001

War Crimes Trials in the Wake of Decolonization and Cold War in Asia, 1945-1956 Kerstin von Lingen, 2016-11-04 This book investigates the political context and intentions behind the trialling of Japanese war criminals in the wake of World War Two After the Second World War in Asia the victorious Allies placed around 5 700 Japanese on trial for war crimes Ostensibly crafted to bring perpetrators to justice the trials intersected in complex ways with the great issues of the day They were meant to finish off the business of World War Two and to consolidate United States hegemony over Japan in the Pacific but they lost impetus as Japan morphed into an ally of the West in the Cold War Embattled colonial powers used the trials to bolster their authority against nationalist revolutionaries but they found the principles of international humanitarian law were sharply at odds with the inequalities embodied in colonialism Within nationalist movements local enmities often overshadowed the reckoning with Japan And hovering over the trials was the critical question just what was justice for the Japanese in a world where all sides had committed atrocities

Monks in Motion Jack Meng-Tat Chia, 2020-08-25 Chinese Buddhists have never remained stationary They have always been on the move In Monks in Motion Jack Meng Tat Chia explores why Buddhist monks migrated from China to Southeast Asia and how they participated in transregional Buddhist networks across the South China Sea This book tells the story of three prominent monks Chuk Mor 1913-2002 Yen Pei 1917-1996 and Ashin Jinarakkhita 1923-2002 and examines the connected history of Buddhist communities in China and maritime Southeast Asia in the twentieth century Monks in Motion is the first book to offer a history of what Chia terms South China Sea Buddhism referring to a

Buddhism that emerged from a swirl of correspondence networks forced exiles voluntary visits evangelizing missions institution building campaigns and the organizational efforts of countless Chinese and Chinese diasporic Buddhist monks Drawing on multilingual research conducted in Indonesia Malaysia Singapore China Hong Kong and Taiwan Chia challenges the conventional categories of Chinese Buddhism and Southeast Asian Buddhism by focusing on the lesser known yet no less significant Chinese Buddhist communities of maritime Southeast Asia By crossing the artificial spatial frontier between China and Southeast Asia Monks in Motion breaks new ground bringing Southeast Asia into the study of Chinese Buddhism and Chinese Buddhism into the study of Southeast Asia History in Uniform Katharine E. McGregor, 2007 Under the New Order regime 1967-98 the Indonesian military sought to monopolise the production of official history and control its contents The goal was to validate the political role of the armed forces condemn communism and promote military values A detailed examination of the Indonesian military's image making under Suharto Silenced Voices Inez Hollander, 2008 Like a number of Netherlanders in the post World War II era Inez Hollander only gradually became aware of her family's connections with its Dutch colonial past including a Creole great grandmother For the most part such personal stories have been if not entirely silenced at least only whispered about in Holland where society has remained uncomfortable with many aspects of the country's relationship with its colonial empire Unlike the majority of memoirs that are soaked in nostalgia for tempo dulu Hollander's story sets out to come to grips with her family's past by weaving together personal records with historical and literary accounts of the period She seeks not merely to locate and preserve family memories but also to test them against a more disinterested historical record Hers is a complicated and sometimes painful personal journey of realization unusually mindful of the ways in which past memories and present considerations can be intermingled when we seek to understand a difficult past Silenced Voices is an important contribution to the literature on how Dutch society has dealt with its recent colonial history Overcoming Isolationism Paul Midford, 2020-07-14 This book asks why in the wake of the Cold War Japan suddenly reversed years of steadfast opposition to security cooperation with its neighbors Long isolated and opposed to multilateral agreements Japan proposed East Asia's first multilateral security forum in the early 1990s emerging as a regional leader Overcoming Isolationism explores what led to this surprising about face and offers a corrective to the misperception that Japan's security strategy is reactive to US pressure and unresponsive to its neighbors Paul Midford draws on newly released official documents and extensive interviews to reveal a quarter century of Japanese leadership in promoting regional security cooperation He demonstrates that Japan has a much more nuanced relationship with its neighbors and has played a more significant leadership role in shaping East Asian security than has previously been recognized Colonial Counterinsurgency and Mass Violence Bart Luttikhuis, A. Dirk Moses, 2018-10-24 Whether out of historical interest romantic identification with the colonized or as models for contemporary counter insurgency experts the mass violence of insurgency and counter insurgency in the post war decolonization of the European empires has long exerted an intense fascination In the main the dramas in French Algeria and British Kenya in the 1950s have dominated the scene overshadowing the equally violent events that unfolded in the Dutch Belgian and Portuguese empires Colonial counterinsurgency and mass violence is the first book in English to treat the intense conflict that occurred during the Indonesian revolution the decolonization struggle of the Dutch East Indies between 1945 and 1949 This case is particularly significant as the first episode of post war colonial violence indeed one with global reverberations International opinion was ranged against the Dutch and the nascent United Nations condemned its euphemistically termed police actions to reclaim the archipelago from Indonesian nationalists after defeat by the Japanese in 1942 As this book makes clear however intra Indonesian violence was no less prevalent as rival independence visions vied for control and villagers were caught between the fronts Taking a multi perspectival approach eighteen authors examine the origins of the conflict as well as its representational and memory dimensions Colonial counterinsurgency and mass violence will appeal to scholars of imperial history mass violence and memory studies alike This book is based on a special issue of the Journal of Genocide Research

The Encyclopedia of Indonesia in the Pacific War, 2009-12-14 An obvious hiatus amidst the abundance of Pacific War studies is the story of Indonesia during that period The Encyclopedia of Indonesia in the Pacific War edited under the aegis of the Netherlands Institute for War Documentation now fills that gap This state of the art work reflects the different experiences and historiographic traditions of Indonesians Japanese and Dutch The aim is to present the developments in the Indonesian archipelago in as much a rational and dispassionate way as possible taking into account regional and social variations and interpreting them within the international context of pre and post war trends With due acknowledgement of different perspectives ambiguities unresolved issues and conflicting views it sets out to enhance mutual understanding and academic dialogue

Primitive Selves E. Taylor Atkins, 2010-08-25 This remarkable book examines the complex history of Japanese colonial and postcolonial interactions with Korea particularly in matters of cultural policy E Taylor Atkins focuses on past and present Japanese fascination with Korean culture as he reassesses colonial anthropology heritage curation cultural policy and Korean performance art in Japanese mass media culture Atkins challenges the prevailing view that imperial Japan demonstrated contempt for Koreans through suppression of Korean culture In his analysis the Japanese preoccupation with Koreana provided the empire with a poignant vision of its own past now lost including communal living and social solidarity which then allowed Japanese to grieve for their former selves At the same time the specific objects of Japan s gaze folk theater dances shamanism music and material heritage became emblems of national identity in postcolonial Korea

Whose Comfort?: Body, Sexuality And Identity Of Korean 'Comfort Women' And Japanese Soldiers During Wwii Yonson Ahn, 2019-10-17 In recent years international attention has been recurrently drawn to violence against civilians including sexual violence during war as a means of furthering military or political goals The ongoing issue of comfort women has been debated not only among Asian countries including Japan Korea China Indonesia and the Philippines but also in numerous international forums This book examines the system of military comfort women in Asia and the Pacific created and maintained by Japan during World War II It uses the comfort women system as a lens for exploring the ways in which body sexuality and identity are deployed in the creation of patriarchal relations ethnic hierarchies and colonial nationalist power This book analyzes the role and nature of the comfort women system as a mechanism of social control by the colonial state This requires the examining of sexuality and body politics the social background of the victims wartime working conditions and regulation of soldiers sexuality This book aims to contribute to both the academic community and the community of civic groups through a work that spans the dimensions of history theory and activism
