Representing The Troubles Text And Images 1970 :

The A to Z of the Northern Ireland Conflict Gordon Gillespie, 2009-09-24 For nearly four decades the conflict in Ireland has embittered relations between the communities living there and spoiled relations between the Republic of Ireland and Great Britain For three decades it escalated punctuated by periodic bloody clashes followed by somewhat calmer periods of tension during which violence of all sorts robberies kidnappings serious injuries and deaths were all too common During the past decade fortunately all sides have realized that armed solutions were unlikely to bring a solution to anyone's problems and that peace should be given a chance Fortunately with the establishment of a new Northern Ireland Executive there is a general acceptance that the conflict is now part of the past The A to Z of the Northern Ireland Conflict covers the history of the Troubles through a chronology covering the Northern Ireland conflict and peace process from 1968 until the formation of the new Northern Ireland Executive in May 2007 an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on main events individuals and organizations Researchers with an interest in the Northern Ireland conflict will find this book to be an essential addition to their collection of reference books on the subject A History of Modern

Transcultural Areas Wolfgang Berg, 2011-08-03 Based on culture as a complex system of rules it is too obvious that each rule has a particular range which is only exceptionally congruent with national or natural borders In general cultural exchange is not limited by political borders or rivers forests seas or mountains Those areas are rather transcultural which is especially true for markets and towns Dealing with cities like Buenos Aires or Riga regions like Podlachia Poland Northern Ireland or Bukovina and the area of the Danube river the case studies give evidence for this thesis The book will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of cultural and intercultural studies

Historical Dictionary of Ireland Frank A. Biletz, 2013-11-14 All places undergo change but in few has this change been quite as sweeping as Ireland both the independent Republic of Ireland and dependent Northern Ireland so it is good to see where it is heading at present Obviously that has to be judged on the background of where it is coming from not only over the past decade or so but over centuries and indeed millennia This new edition of Historical Dictionary of Ireland is an excellent resource for discovering the history of Ireland This is done through a chronology an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography The cross referenced dictionary section has over 600 entries on significant persons places and events political parties and institutions including the Catholic church with period forays into literature music and the arts This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ireland

The Scarlet Woman and the Red Hand Joshua T. Searle, 2014-04-16 This book provides a comprehensive description of how evangelicals in Northern Ireland interpreted the Troubles 1966-2007 in the light of how they read the Bible The rich and diverse landscape of Northern Irish evangelicalism during the Troubles is ideally suited to this study of both the light and dark sides of apocalyptic eschatology Searle demonstrates how the notion of apocalypse shaped evangelical and fundamentalist interpretations of the turbulent events that characterized this dark yet fascinating period in the history of Northern Ireland The book uses this case study to offer a timely reflection on some of the most pressing issues in contemporary negotiations between culture and religion Given the current resurgence of religious fundamentalism in the wake of 9/11 together with popular conceptions of a clash of civilizations and the so called War on Terror this book is not only an engaging academic study it also resonates with some of the defining cultural issues of our time Seen and Unseen: Visual Cultures of Imperialism ,2017-10-02 Seen and Unseen teases out and explores how visual mediums construct visual cultures that often create limited perspectives of certain issues and groups This volume focuses in particular on the representation of Islam and Muslims It deals with fixed and stereotypical visual representations and explores alternative and challenging visual representations that reconstruct and dismantle existing belief systems It approaches the topic from a vantage point of diverse multiple perspectives Covering issues from Brunei Iran Egypt and England and cyberspace the essays in this volume examine the visual cultures of how Islam and Muslims are understood misunderstood misrepresented or even embraced visually Scholars in this volume draw on historical paintings books and their covers photography and news to demonstrate the diversity and sometimes contradictory visual cultures that construct and adhere meaning to how Islam and Muslim people are seen Contributors Hoda Afshar Jared Ahmed Syed Farid Alatas Sanaz Fotouhi Christiane Gruber Layla Hendow Raihana M M Bruno Starrs and Esmaeil Zeiny Irish Crime Fiction Brian Cliff,2018-04-19 This book examines the recent expansion of Ireland s literary tradition to include home grown crime fiction It surveys the wave of books that use genre structures to explore specifically Irish issues such as the Troubles and the rise and fall of the Celtic Tiger as well as Irish experiences of human trafficking the supernatural abortion and civic corruption These novels are as likely to address the national regulation of sexuality through institutions like the Magdalen Laundries as they are to follow serial killers through the American South or to trace international corporate conspiracies This study includes chapters on Northern Irish crime fiction novels set in the Republic women protagonists and transnational themes and discusses Irish authors adaptations of a well loved genre and their effect on assumptions about the nature of Irish literature It is a book for readers of crime fiction and Irish literature alike illuminating the fertile intersections of the two Framing Crime Keith Hayward,the late Mike Presdee,2010-07-02 In a world in which media images of crime and deviance proliferate where every facet of offending is reflected in a vast hall of mirrors Framing Crime Cultural Criminology and the Image makes sense of the increasingly blurred line between the real and the virtual Images of crime and crime control have become almost as real as crime and criminal justice itself The meaning of both crime and crime control now resides not solely in the essential and essentially false factuality of crime rates or arrest records but also in the contested processes of symbolic display cultural interpretation and representational negotiation It is essential then that criminologists are closely attuned to the various ways in which crime is imagined constructed and framed within modern society Framing Crime responds to this demand with a collection of papers aimed at helping the reader to understand the ways in which the contemporary story of crime is constructed and promulgated through the image It also provides the relevant analytical and research tools to unearth the hidden social and ideological concerns that frequently underpin images of crime violence and transgression Framing Crime will be of interest to students and academics in the fields of criminology crime and the media and sociology Painting

History Tony Crowley, 2025-09-16 Painting History The Murals of Northern Ireland 1908 2024 is the first book length study of the oldest and most enduring tradition of political wall art Tony Crowley shows how muralism became an important medium for the unionist and loyalist community in its political domination of public space before and after Partition The text also demonstrates that nationalists and republicans painted few murals before the start of the 1981 Hunger Strike during which they painted wall art across republican areas of Northern Ireland as a way of publicizing their cause In the context of a divided society by the mid 1980s murals had become an established genre for the expression of political demands and aspirations In Painting History Tony Crowley provides a detailed analysis of the complex tradition of muralism in the context of the history that produced it with particular attention given to the cultural politics of this remarkable form The book also raises and discusses a series of theoretical questions about murals and muralism that transcend Northern Ireland issues of propriety and legality form and content authority and censorship The work ends with a consideration of the future of the murals in a still polarized but changing region

Inventing the Myth Connal Parr, 2017-07-21 This book approaches Ulster Protestantism through its theatrical and cultural intersection with politics re establishing a forgotten history and engaging with contemporary debates Anchored by the perspectives of ten writers some of whom have been notably active in political life it uniquely examines tensions going on within Through its exploration of class division and drama from the early twentieth century to the present the book restores the progressive and Labour credentials of the community s recent past along with its literary repercussions both of which appear in recent decades to have diminished Drawing on over sixty interviews unpublished scripts as well as rarely consulted archival material it shows contrary to a good deal of cliché polemic and safe scholarly assessment that Ulster Protestants have historically and continually demonstrated a vigorous creative pulse as well as a tendency towards Left wing and class politics St John Ervine Thomas Carnduff John Hewitt Sam Thompson Stewart Parker Graham Reid Ron Hutchinson Marie Jones Christina Reid and Gary Mitchell profoundly challenge as well as reflect their communities Illuminating a diverse and conflicted culture stretching beyond Orange Order parades the weaving together of the lives and work of each of the writers highlights mutual themes and insights on their identity as if part of some grander tapestry of alternative twentieth century Protestant culture Ulster Protestantism's consistent delivery of such dissenting voices counters its monolithic and reactionary reputation Deirdre Madden Anne Fogarty, Marisol Morales-Ladrón, 2022-06-28 The Irish writer Deirdre Madden has written key novels about the Northern Irish Troubles and about contemporary Ireland In these works she weighs up the aftermath of violence and the impact of the shift to a more open but materialist society in the country overall Memory trauma and the abiding but elusive links between the past and the present are central concerns of her fiction This pioneering set of essays by leading experts in Irish Studies explores the many dimensions of her novels from a wide variety of perspectives Madden's skill at interweaving novels of ideas with artist novels that draw out the complex inner predicaments of her characters is highlighted States of dislocation are concentrated on in her texts but also the quest for a home in the world and a lasting set of values that allows for personal integrity and authenticity These multifaceted explorations bear out the compelling and enduring aspects of Madden's highly regarded novels
