Republican Internment and the Prison Ship Argenta 1922 Denise Kleinrichert, 2001 Kleinrichert BA in economics minors in political science sociology and English Indiana University draws on interviews with former internees and their descendants to tell the story of the detainment of some 300 men of Northern Ireland in May 1922 on the prison ship S S Argenta and at Larne Workhouse Camp Includes bandw historical photos Distributed by ISBS Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Irish Political Prisoners 1920-1962 Sean McConville, 2020-04-23 Irish Political Prisoners presents a detailed and gripping overview of political imprisonment from 1920 1962 Se n McConville examines the years from the formation of the Northern Ireland state to the release of the last border campaign prisoners in 1962 Drawing extensively and in many cases uniquely on archives and special collections in the three jurisdictions and interviews with survivors from the period McConville demonstrates how punishment came to embody and shape the nationalist consciousness Irish Political Prisoners 1920 1962 commences with the legacy of the Anglo Irish and Irish Civil Wars militancy division and bitterness The book travels from the embedding of Northern Ireland s security agenda in the 1920 s and the IRA s search for a role in the 1930 s including the 1939 bombing campaign against Britain to the decisive use of internment during the war and the border campaign years This volume will be an essential resource for students of Irish history and is a major contribution to the study of imprisonment Political Imprisonment and the Irish, 1912-1921 William Murphy, 2016-04-14 For a revolutionary generation of Irishmen and Irishwomen including suffragettes labour activists and nationalists imprisonment became a common experience In the years 1912 1921 thousands were arrested and held in civil prisons or in internment camps in Ireland and Britain The state s intent was to repress dissent but instead the prisons and camps became a focus of radical challenge to the legitimacy and durability of the status quo Some of these prisons and prisoners are famous Terence MacSwiney and Thomas Ashe occupy a central position in the prison martyrology of Irish republican culture and Kilmainham Gaol has become one of the most popular tourist sites in Dublin In spite of this a comprehensive history of political imprisonment focused on these years does not exist In Imprisonment and the Irish 1912 1921 William Murphy attempts to provide such a history He seeks to detail what it was like to be a political prisoner how it smelled tasted and felt More than that the volume demonstrates that understanding political imprisonment of this period is one of the keys to understanding the Irish revolution Murphy argues that the politics of imprisonment and the prison conflicts analysed here reflected and affected the rhythms of the revolution and this volume not only reconstructs and assesses the various experiences and actions of the prisoners but those of their families communities and political movements as well as the attitudes and reactions of the state and those charged with managing the prisoners Pained Screams from Camps Aisling Reid, Valentina Surace, 2024-06-17 Detention camps exceed the juridical concept of punishment and crime This book comprises two parts 1 a collected volume that discusses camps not as something of the past but as a paradigmatic political space in which ordinary law is completely suspended and 2 an Italian English parallel text of the war diary of an Italian prisoner during his confinement at the Stalag X B internment camp near Sandbostel from 1943 1945

1 The Human Condition of Exception Collected Essays Edited by Aisling Reid and Valentina Surace Written in Italian and English the essays collected in this volume explore the issue of camps and suffering from various perspectives including philosophical inquiry literary analysis historical description and legal assessment As Agamben suggests the camp embodies the state of exception A dehumanising camp life will therefore emerge every time such a structure is created What happens in camps exceeds the juridical concept of punishment as well as that of crime Prisoners are faced with a useless pain Levinas as it is not the expiation of a fault Prisoners attempt to describe their extreme suffering through their diaries Their experience however cannot be entirely communicated Even their screams which express humanity at the extreme limit of its un power are silenced Given the recent popularity of right wing politics as well as the centenary of Mussolini's march on Rome such research is more urgent than ever The book will appeal to readers with an interest in philosophy as well as Irish history scholars studying internment during Partition and The Troubles in Northern Ireland

2 Aldo Quarisa's Diary An Italian English Edition Edited by Aisling Reid and Valentina Surace Transcribed and with a preface by Galileo Sartor Translation of the diary by Aisling Reid Italian English In 1943 Aldo Quarisa worked at a military school in Florence where he taught literature In October of that year one month after Italy had surrendered to the Allied forces the Italians declared war on the Germans In Florence the German occupiers responded quickly by arresting and deporting people with military connections to numerous concentration camps in Austria Quite suddenly Aldo was detained and deported through a network of camps including Benjaminovo and the Stalag X B internment camp near the German village of Sandbostel For two years he found himself imprisoned alongside other Italians including the celebrated journalist Giovannino Guareschi who secretly kept a diary that was later published as his Diario Clandestino 1943 1945 in 1946 Much like Guareschi Aldo also kept a diary and excerpts are published here in both Italian and English for the first time The diary describes in unprecedented detail the monotony of camp life the cruelty of the guards and the prisoners struggle to survive The text is an important document that preserves the memory and voices of all those who suffered during the war and will inevitably be of interest to readers with an interest in World War II

A Treatise on Northern Ireland, Volume II Brendan O'Leary, 2019-04-17 This landmark synthesis of political science and historical institutionalism is a detailed study of antagonistic ethnic majoritarianism Northern Ireland was coercively created through a contested partition in 1920 Subsequently Great Britain compelled Sinn Féin's leaders to rescind the declaration of an Irish Republic remain within the British Empire and grant the Belfast Parliament the right to secede If it did so a commission would consider modifying the new border The outcome however was the formation of two insecure regimes North and South both of which experienced civil war while the boundary commission was subverted In the North a control system organized the new majority behind a dominant party that won all elections to the Belfast parliament until its abolition in 1972 The

Ulster Unionist Party successfully disorganized Northern nationalists and Catholics Bolstered by the Specials a militia created from the Ulster Volunteer Force this system displayed a pathological version of the Westminster model of democracy which may reproduce one party dominance and enforce national ethnic religious and cultural discrimination How the Unionist elite improvised this control regime and why it collapsed under the impact of a civil rights movement in the 1960s take center stage in this second volume of A Treatise on Northern Ireland The North's trajectory is paired and compared with the Irish Free State's incremental decolonization and restoration of a Republic Irish state building however took place at the expense of the limited prospect of persuading Ulster Protestants that Irish reunification was in their interests or consistent with their identities Northern Ireland was placed under British direct rule in 1972 while counter insurgency practices applied elsewhere in its diminishing empire were deployed from 1969 with disastrous consequences On January 1 1973 however the UK and Ireland joined the then European Economic Community Many hoped that would help end conflict in and over Northern Ireland Such hopes were premature Northern Ireland appeared locked in a stalemate of political violence punctuated by failed political initiatives

Mind the Gap: Borders, Limits and Frontiers Cahir Healy, 2025-05-19 How do borders define political cultural and social realms influencing identity and community Mind the Gap: Borders Limits and Frontiers explores such questions and comprises two parts the first section compiles interdisciplinary essays from leading scholars to critique borders in our global yet divided world Topics include national borders such as the Northern Irish border as well as conceptual and ontological borders more generally Border issues are similarly key to the second part of the book which publishes for the first time the imprisonment memoir of Irish politician Cahir Healy 1877-1970 who was a leading figure in the protest against the Partition of Ireland His memoir offers a first hand account of the conditions faced by Healy and other border objectors who were illegally imprisoned for two years on board the Argenta ship in Belfast Lough c 1922-1924 This book therefore goes beyond mapping border theory it addresses the real life impact of borders on those who confront them daily and is a vital read for those interested in border studies

Transatlantic defiance Gavin Wilk, 2014-12-01 This book examines the militant Irish republican movement in the United States from the final months of the Irish Civil War through to the Second World War The narrative carefully and creatively intertwines the personalities events and policies that shaped the activism during this period and shows the evolution of its inherently transnational nature Through a bottom up historical analysis that incorporates an examination of more than eighty archival collections in the US Ireland and Britain the book presents for the first time an account of the anti Treaty IRA veterans who arrived in the US after the Irish Civil War Upon their settlement in Irish American communities these republicans directly influenced and guided the US based militant republican organisation Clan na Gael transformed the overall dynamics of militant Irish republicanism in America and provided leadership and co ordination for an IRA bombing campaign With the inclusion of these veterans stories the book provides a fresh interpretation of the inter war movement in America that shows it to be far from as stagnant wayward and detached from Irish affairs as has previously been claimed

Frontiers of Violence Tim Wilson, 2010-06-17 In the years after the First World War both Ulster and Upper Silesia saw violent conflicts over self determination Examining the nature of communal boundaries such as religion and language Timothy Wilson explains the profound contrasts in these experiences of plebeian violence

Sport and Revolutionaries John Nauright, David K Wiggins, 2017-10-02 This collection examines the role of sport in the lives of key revolutionary thinkers and leftist activists In contrast to those who take a more romantic view of sport and believe in its apolitical nature the eight essays help make clear how sport has served as a site for political activism and the revolutionary thought and practices of such individuals as Henry Mayers Hyndman Vladimir Ilyich

Lenin Fidel Castro Ernesto Che Guevara Harry Edwards Charles Perkins and Darius Dhlomo Written by noted scholars with long publication lists the essays in turn provide insights into the close connection among sport politics and revolutionary movements in countries varying widely in their history governmental policies and treatment of individuals and groups Taken as a whole the essays which adopt a very broad definition of revolutions are written with the hope of encouraging more serious thought regarding the transformative potential of sports which can be both individually liberating and responsible for co-opting the lower classes and helping maintain power among the political and economic elite in capitalistic as well as socialist societies This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport

Storytelling on the Northern Irish Border Ray Cashman, 2011-09-23 A folklorist explores the storytelling traditions of a small Irish town where local character anecdotes build community across sectarian divides More than quaint local color folklore is a crucial part of life in Aghyran a mixed Catholic Protestant border community in Northern Ireland Neighbors socialize during wakes and ceilis informal nighttime gatherings without regard to religious ethnic or political affiliation The witty sometimes raucous stories swapped on these occasions offer a window into Aghyran residents' views of self and other in the wake of decades of violent conflict Through anecdotes about local characters participants explore the nature of community and identity in ways that transcend Catholic or Protestant sectarian histories Ray Cashman analyzes local character anecdotes in detail and argues that while politicians may take credit for the peace process in Northern Ireland no political progress would be possible without ordinary people using shared resources of storytelling and socializing to imagine and maintain community
