Erfurt-Cooper, Malcolm Cooper, 2010-08-12 There are over 1300 active volcanoes worldwide and many more dormant or extinct Some are developed as tourist destinations others are not but have great potential Mount Fuji in Japan attracts over 100 million visitors per year and has immense cultural and spiritual significance while a number of volcanic areas in national parks for example Teide in Spain Yellowstone in the US Vesuvius in Italy and Tongariro in New Zealand attract between one to four million tourists each year In the last decade the designation of nearly 50 geoparks around the world has highlighted their potential for tourism development This book provides the first global review and assessment of the sustainable use of active and dormant volcanic and geothermal environments for geotourism The volcano based tourism sector is further augmented through a closely linked range of geothermal resources and attractions such as geysers and hot springs which are discussed in detail throughout individual chapters covering all key volcanic and geothermal regions around the world It is shown that volcano and geothermal tourism is a subsection of nature based geotourism and incorporates a variety of other tourism categories such as adventure tourism extreme tourism ecotourism green tourism educational tourism and hot spring tourism This comprehensive book covers the most important issues of this growing tourism sector whilst incorporating relevant global research making it an essential resource for all in the field Includes colour plates Survive! Carl Walrond, 2015-02-11 New Zealanders love exploring the outdoors but when things go wrong why do some people survive and some don't Carl Walrond uses contemporary and historical accounts of mishaps and adventures to reveal interesting truths about survival In doing so he finds that the mind and the tricks it plays can be just as challenging as the wilderness itself
