Science Research Writing: For Native And Non-native Speakers Of English (Second Edition) Hilary Glasman-deal, 2020-11-27 This book enables STEM researchers to write effective papers for publication as well as other research related texts such as a doctoral thesis technical report or conference abstract Science Research Writing uses a reverse engineering approach to writing developed from extensive work with STEM researchers at Imperial College London This approach unpacks current models of STEM research writing and helps writers to generate the writing tools needed to operate those models effectively in their own field. The reverse engineering approach also ensures that writers develop future proof strategies that will evolve alongside the coming changes in research communication platforms. The Second Edition has been extensively revised and updated to represent current practice and focuses on the writing needs of both early stage doctoral STEM researchers and experienced professional researchers at the highest level, whether or not they are native speakers of English. The book retains the practical user friendly format of the First Edition and now contains seven units that deal separately with the components of written STEM research communication: Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion, Abstract, and Title, as well as extensive FAQ responses and a new Checklist and Tips section. Each unit analyses extracts from recent published STEM journal papers to enable researchers to discover not only what to write but crucially how to write it. The global nature of science research requires fast accurate communication of highly complex information that can be understood by all participants. Like the First Edition, the Second Edition is intended as a fast do it yourself guide to make both the process and the product of STEM research writing more effective.

English for Academic Research: Writing Exercises Adrian Wallwork, 2012-10-13

This book is based on a study of referees' reports and letters from journal editors on reasons why papers written by non-native researchers are rejected due to problems with English: long sentences, redundancy, poor structure, etc. It draws on English-related errors from around 5000 papers written by non-native authors, around 3000 emails, 500 abstracts by PhD students and over 1000 hours of teaching researchers how to write and present research papers. The exercises are organized into ten chapters on punctuation and spelling, word order, writing short sentences and paragraphs, link words, connecting phrases and sentences together, being concise and removing redundancy, ambiguity and politeness, correctness, paraphrasing and avoiding plagiarism, defining, comparing, evaluating and highlighting, anticipating possible objections, indicating level of certainty, discussion, limitations, hedging, future work, writing each section of a paper. Some exercises require no actual writing but simply choosing between various options, thus facilitating self-study, e-reading and rapid progress. In those exercises where extended writing is required, model answers are given. Exercise types are repeated for different contexts, for example
