Corporate Governance and Board Performance Morris O. Namoga,2017-01-06 The board of directors is widely regarded as a vital governance mechanism that plays an important function in business How boards are structured the processes in which they are involved and the role they play vary across different types of firms and countries with significant implications on how boards perform In Pacific Island Countries PICs board appointments particularly on state owned enterprises are difficult to explain without the suspicion that constituency loyalty has been repaid or that other political debts have been discharged Too often ethnicity the wantok system as known in the Melanesian countries of the Pacific gender trade union affiliation and other forms of political correctness have become the basis for board appointments In this book the author takes the reader through how these factors influence the structural make up of boards the different processes in which boards participate and how these affect the ability of boards to perform their roles using empirical evidence from PICs The book is a must read for board chairpersons board secretaries directors senior managers and policy makers in PICs Academics and the general public in PICs and elsewhere who are interested in corporate governance issues should also find this book a valuable reference

Developing School Leaders in the Pacific Narsamma Lingam, Govinda Ishwar Lingam, 2023-08-31 This book provides detailed insights on the training and development for Pacific Island school leaders It draws extensively on original empirical research that explores school leaders perceptions of how leadership and management training impacted their professional practices and how these practices in turn impacted the dynamics of school operations This book addresses a critical need to understand how to support leadership development for all Pacific schools but especially in schools that are faced with the increasing challenges of learning and teaching conditions In small island developing states in the Pacific region school leaders face a myriad of challenges due to limited human and material resources and a fragile economic base Written by Pacific Islander authors this book provides insights from different countries in the Pacific Islands It shows how contextual challenges can exert enormous pressure on school leaders who are leading and managing schools without any leadership preparation Given the importance of effective leadership practices and its impact on student learning outcomes this book aims to be a source of reference for practitioners and educational authorities who have a vested interest in the provision of quality education in the Pacific region and beyond

English Language-Mediated Settings and Educational Inequalities Prashneel Ravisan Goundar, 2025-03-17 In this book Goundar explores how educational inequalities are responsible for the way students perform in English language mediated school settings He seeks to establish an explicit connection between language testing and educational inequalities at the higher education level With its focus on higher education this research is a fresh reminder of the need to continuously revisit and unsettle inequalities that are embedded in education systems In the South Pacific context this study reveals the current issues including medium of instruction challenges lack of teaching and learning resources teacher shortages and language barriers Goundar's research seeks new answers to the problem of academic English language skills faced by undergraduate students Since English is a second language for the majority of students in Fiji and as the quality of education varies between urban and rural schools this cumulatively impacts students acquisition of English skills and consequently their university performance The important questions posed and addressed in this book are as follows What are the language implications of colonisation on education in the South Pacific What resources and learning opportunities are provided in schools to promote equal access to education content for students from non English speaking backgrounds How do students from different schooling backgrounds in Fiji cope with an English language mediated university learning environment Do educational inequalities manifest in the performance of students from all schooling backgrounds or are they confined to specific sociocultural zones Drawing on a unique dataset from a context in the Global South this book provides new insights for a more holistic approach to examining academic language proficiency and the use of language testing English Language mediated Settings and Educational Inequalities Language Education Policy Agendas in the South Pacific is suitable for postgraduate students in language policy and planning multilingual language policies for schools medium of instruction studies and language testing and South Pacific studies      Research Methods for Anthropological Studies of Food and Nutrition Janet Chrzan, John Brett, 2017-02-01 The dramatic increase in all things food in popular and academic fields during the last two decades has generated a diverse and dynamic set of approaches for understanding the complex relationships and interactions that determine how people eat and how diet affects culture These volumes offer a comprehensive reference for students and established scholars interested in food and nutrition research in Nutritional and Biological Anthropology Archaeology Socio Cultural and Linguistic Anthropology Food Studies and Applied Public Health      Tourism in Pacific Islands Stephen Pratt, David Harrison, 2015-02-20 Pacific Island Countries have been shown to be especially vulnerable to such external influences as natural disasters political unrest and downturns in the global economy and their tourism industries have been notably affected In particular they typically have a narrow resource base and a fragile and often vulnerable natural environment While there is some research on islands and small states there is a dearth of information on the South Pacific and very little research is being undertaken in the region compared to other geographical regions in the world This volume brings together current work in Pacific Island tourism In this collection three main themes arise Images of the South Pacific Socio economic Impacts of Tourism and Pacific Island Countries and the Outside World The first focus is on the question of image namely stereotypes of a destination held by tourists and potential tourists the extent to which residents for their part really welcome visitors and the role tourism might play in changing pre established images The second theme is tourism s impacts notably the economic and socio cultural effects of international tourism s intrusion in the region which though often hotly debated have attracted relatively little empirical research The third focus is on the challenges of how PICs articulate with their external geo political and physical environment These involve existing relations with formal colonial centres geographical isolation the need for greater air access to the outside world and for more tourists and the continuing threat to several PICs of global warming which increased air travel will inevitably exacerbate This text will be of interest to tourism students researchers and academics in the fields of tourism development studies and cultural studies      Young Indo-Fijian Women Breaking Barriers in Fijian Sporting Spaces Rohini Balram, 2025-08-20 This book explores the gendered and racial lived everyday and sporting experiences of Brown migrant young women and girls in Fiji The author empirically employs a novel visual and arts based research methodology ABRM and arts based method ABM to collect and present the data Carefully woven non fiction creative pieces sourced from semi structured interviews and reflexive ethnographic observations from fieldwork bring to the forefront the voices of Indo Fijian women and girls Using an intersectional approach from Gayatri Spivak to Nirmal Puwar Raewyn Connell and Judith Butler the author illuminates the triple layer of the marginalities Indo Fijian women and girls experience in the sporting arena within a settler colonial context The book shows the agency of young athletic Indo Fijian women and how they collectively challenge hegemonic masculinities in sports This highly timely and original book therefore contributes qualitative intersectional research to the growing body on literature of sporty women of colour in the Global South It thus appeals to scholars and students of sociology of sports race and ethnicity diaspora studies gender studies anthropology as well as the history of Oceania and South Asia Advanced Research Methods in Hospitality and Tourism Fevzi Okumus,S.
