Rowing Across The Dark Poems:

Rowing Across the Dark Franz Douskey, 1981 Contemporary American Poetry Lloyd M. Davis, 1985 Lists over 500 titles of books published by American poets between 1973 and 1983 The Day We Still Stand Here Gary Margolis, 2008-04-01 Gary Margolis's first book of poems is accomplished in its craftsmanship. For many years he has been publishing in magazines and in this initial gathering of his work he presents a sustained mature poetic voice. This is a collection of his best poems and a carefully considered whole, a book that is consistently lyrical and moving. The Downstream Extremity of the Isle of Swans Mary Jo Bang, 2001 This compelling book takes its title from Samuel Beckett's Ohio Impromptu. In Beckett's play a grieving beloved seeks relief from the haunting presence of a departed lover in a place where from its single window he could see the downstream extremity of the Isle of Swans. With a bow to Beckett's style and linguistic playfulness, Mary Jo Bang's collection of poems deals compassionately and gracefully with the tangible world. Bang's savvy alliterative insistence sweeps the reader along as her poems collectively offer a world delicately structured from memorable fragments of experience, emotion, things and places inside and outside the human psyche. By Reason of Breakings Andrew Zawacki, 2002 By Reason of Breakings Andrew Zawacki's first book of poetry overwhelms and silences by virtue of its extremely austere beauty. In highly wrought lyrics, prose poems, fragments of apocrypha and splintered efforts at song, this volume is forceful and haunted by doubt. Each intimate and restrained line is a glimpse at a wisdom that defies paraphrase; each image carefully chosen and constructed. Zawacki's language summons and invites and is almost menacing in its delicate intensity. Weight is the syntax of filling empty spaces; scalpels and expired tissue fall but fire rises to fever and sere. While pursuing an explanation for the disappearance of God and for the denouement of a love affair and exploring the failure of language to compensate or console, these poems maintain their sublime power and elegance. The Very Thought of You Andy Robbins, 2010-01-01 Andy Robbins concludes in Au bout de l'anglais that Art and life are not the same. Never. He challenges the nature of both with this volume of highly personal, sensual, searching poetry that treats life as a work in progress with love in all its aspects as its driving force. Creating poems as technically skilled as they are emotionally powerful, Robbins uses a variety of formal and idiomatic dictions. Though the individual works are as unique in subject as in structure, the book is unified by a discomfort with emotional and intellectual stagnancy with ancient mythology, religious doctrines and popular culture. The book radiates the immediate energy of mind in action, question and reflection, challenging the very thought of writer and reader. Depth Theology Peter O'Leary, 2006 Depth Theology taps the religious potential of poetry to access both the interior and the exterior worlds. Inspired by depth psychology, the field of psychology devoted to the unconscious, Peter O'Leary's poems work to discover the religious knowledge of the unconscious mind. While seeking a revelatory poetry, O'Leary engages the inconclusive quality of the revealed, observing that there's a liquidy trickiness to life, an entropy of spillage. The religious imagination that evolves in this series of thirty-four poems is unclouded by dogma and richly colored by erudition while it tests the limits of human language and experience in an effort to understand our inwardness Overflowing with images of birds and other objects of day to day experience interwoven with the mythic allegorical and biblical Depth Theology charts a path to understanding our innermost worlds From Lux Contemplatio there is no place anymore for us to migrate The need yet remains Antarctica means now an interior domain Curiosity about our inner life increases A nomad's desert God is an inward generator Our outward movement yields our soul's circumincession its insitting in rotation with the divine abeyance

The Gaza of Winter Donald Revell, 1988 In Donald Revell's poems the present is often little more than an instant caught between the sadness of memory and the need to face the future's blank expanse Even the best dreams recall happiness that cannot be retrieved while the worst memories bend past love into a crazy line through darkness Anything can turn furious The crazy line through wreckage that wears my face and all the faces seems not to end And on the way even the most damaged things have one surface glazed a sudden distorting mirror that I can't help finding There I look as I did stalled in hours or places it is shame to remember The Eumenides are slow vengeance meted out by anywhere love fails in the collapse and angry dealing of self love The light presses The air presses hard and no story of mine if good enough to hold out When there is escape calm in these poems it is often in thoughts of distant lands and pasts in the works of other writers and artists the bands of light and changing shadows of Cezanne's canvases the suburban desire and deep green lawns of Cheever's fiction It is art stories the urge to tell that brings hope in these lines

Harming Others Casey Finch, 2008-06-01 Arranged in three parts Harming Others moves from a mock heroic voice in The Empire Poems to a more intimate voice in The Damaged Poems one that speaks to friends on their birthdays wedding days ordinary days The book culminates in The Forbidden Poems a retelling of the stories of the Old and New Testaments a reshaping of religion and history in the present University of Georgia Press

Mere Mortals Terese Svoboda, 2009-09-01 All of the medical technological and psychological advances of the twentieth century challenge mere mortals in Terese Svoboda's third book of poetry In Faust a mini epic in five acts the eponymous character of literary legend appears in the form of a woman who redefines what being mortal means in light of the politics of the Third World and gender In contrast Ptolemy's Rules for High School Reunions explores what happens when you do without a pact with the devil The gods Greek and otherwise also make appearances as a TV announcer in Philomela in the basement with the plumber in The Smell of Burning Pennies and in the dyslexic confusion between Dog God But it is not only the divine that charges the poems in Mere Mortals sex also suffuses and reinvents key relationships Readers of such wittily probing poems as The Root of Father is Fat and Brassiere Prison or Showcase will know why Philip Levine has described Svoboda as one light year from being the polite lovely workshop poet Mere Mortals poems first appeared in such magazines as the New Yorker New York Times Magazine Paris Review and the American Poetry Review
