The Laws of the Imperialized Chung Man Anna Lo, 2024-04-30. Being the first legal corpus in the biblical canon, Exodus 19:24 is a law collection that belonged to a people living under the shadow of empire. Using an integrated approach of postcolonial studies and historical comparative analysis, this important study analyzes the relationship between the laws given to the Israelites on Mount Sinai and cuneiform law collections. Dr. Anna Lo skillfully integrates postcolonial understandings of the colonized people to explore how the similarities and differences reflect the imperialized authors wrestling with the imperial legal metanarrative and subjugation of their time. This investigation into the dynamic of acceptance, ambivalence, and resistance invites attention to this selection of Scripture as a work of conservative revolutionists. Dr. Lo's thorough work provides an important way forward for scholars to consider responses of the imperialized to empires in the past as well as to reflect on their own response to hegemonic domination today.

Arais holds secrets Avalina has long forgotten: secrets of a past based in a world of magic, mythical creatures, and a royal lineage. King, Priest, Prophet Géza Xeravits, 2018-12-24. Among the newly published texts of the Qumran Library, there are a good number with eschatological content. Some of these texts relate the eschatological activity of certain figures who seem to play an important role in the events of the eschaton. This study explores these figures. The material of this study is divided into two main parts. The first is analytical, in which the related textual material is investigated, each passage in turn. The second, systematic section, contains the evaluation and discussion of the data provided by the analyses of the first part. These analyses are especially relevant for scholars of both the Old and New Testaments and for all those interested in early Jewish thought.
