Devotional Intelligence and Jewish Religious Thinking Phillip Stambovsky, 2019-07-05 This groundbreaking neo Maimonidean work establishes on independently philosophical grounds the intellectual warrant of Jewish religious thinking as devotional intelligence It demonstrates the purchase and intellectual authority of such thinking by appeal to two dialectically interrelated principles on the one hand the metaphysical principle that knowing is of being and on the other sacral attunement a normative principle Part I distinguishes this study from leading work in contemporary philosophy of Judaism It introduces the game changing bid to privilege intelligence in the onto epistemological Aristotelian sense over epistemologically orchestrated post Enlightenment reason when it comes to assessing the intellectual soundness of religious thinking Part II distills contemporary elements of Aristotle's onto epistemological psychology of intelligence that Maimonides incorporated in his philosophy of Jewish religious thinking Further it finds in Hegel a bridge between Maimonides account of devotional intelligence and a modern Maimonidean science of knowing dedicated to religious thinking Part III turns to sacral attunement foregrounding the normative devotional aspect of devotional intelligence It probes the intentionality of both onto epistemological attunement and the sacred relative to the factor of the transcendent In the process it identifies and applies elements of an existential phenomenology of fundamental attunement that thematize defining realities of the sacral attunement unique to normative Jewish covenantal praxis A related analysis of the sacred in religious thinking follows which segues to a chapter on the factor of the transcendent as a seminal constituent of meaning in both the sciences and religion Part IV applies and amplifies key findings in light of a signature Jewish devotional theme the divine names approached from a signally Maimonidean apophatic position indexed to the factor of the transcendent as the unconditioned condition Kant of intelligible meaning as such Distinguishing what the divine names indicate from what they refer to the essay concludes by substantiating the intellectual warrant of Jewish religious thinking as a devotional intelligence of the relation of identity in difference between the attributive names and the Tetragrammaton

The Study of Judaism Aaron W. Hughes, 2013-09-04 The relationship between Jewish studies and religious studies is a long and complicated one full of tensions and possibilities Whereas the majority of scholars working within Jewish studies contend that the discipline is in a very healthy state many who work in theory and method in religious studies disagree For them Jewish studies represents all that is wrong with the modern academic study of religion too introspective too ethnic too navel gazing and too willing to reify or essentialize data that it constructs in its own image In this book Aaron W Hughes explores the unique situation of Jewish studies and how it intersects with religious studies noting particular areas of concern for those interested in the field s intellectual health and future flourishing Hughes provides a detailed study of origins principles and assumptions documenting the rise of Jewish studies in Germany and its migration to Israel and the United States Current issues facing the academic study of Judaism are discussed including the role of private foundations that seek inroads into the academy
