studies in the wider context Antifascism After Hitler Catherine Plum, 2015-02-20 Antifascism After Hitler investigates the antifascist stories memory sites and youth reception that were critical to the success of political education in East German schools and extracurricular activities As the German Democratic Republic GDR promoted national identity and socialist consciousness two of the most potent historical narratives to permeate youth education became tales of communist resisters who fought against fascism and the heroic deeds of the Red Army in World War II These stories and iconic images illustrate the message that was presented to school age children and adolescents in stages as they advanced through school and participated in the official communist youth organizations and other activities This text delivers the first comprehensive study of youth antifascism in the GDR extending scholarship beyond the level of the state to consider the everyday contributions of local institutions and youth mentors responsible for conveying stories and commemorative practices to generations born during WWII and after the defeat of fascism While the government sought to use educators and former resistance fighters as ideological shock troops it could not completely dictate how these stories would be told with memory intermediaries altering at times the narrative and message Using a variety of primary sources including oral history interviews the author also assesses how students viewed antifascism with reactions ranging from strong identification to indifference and dissent Antifascist education and commemoration were never simply state prescribed and were not as participation less as some scholars and contemporary observers claim even as educators fought a losing battle to maintain enthusiasm Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2024-12-19 Some 80 years after the end of World War two and Nazi Germany's attempt to annihilate European Jews and the Jewish culture the story of the Holocaust continues to be told in novels paintings music sculpture and film Over the past eight decades close to a thousand documentaries narrative shorts and features television miniseries and filmed statements from survivors have confronted the horrors of the past creating a recognizable iconography of persecution suffering and genocide While arguably movies and television have a tendency to overly simplify if not trivialize historical events popular culture artists also keep the past from being forgotten Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 175 cross referenced entries on films directors and historical figures Foreign language experimental and canonical films are included This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about holocaust cinema Lessons and Legacies VIII Peter Hayes, Holocaust Educational Foundation, 1991 In the courtroom and the classroom in popular media public policy and scholarly pursuits the Holocaust its origins its nature and its implications remains very much a matter of interest debate and controversy Arriving at a time when a new generation must come to terms with the legacy of the Holocaust or forever lose the benefit of its historical social and moral lessons this volume offers a richly varied deeply informed perspective on the practice interpretation and direction of Holocaust research now and in the future In their essays the authors an international group including eminent senior scholars as well those who represent the future of the field set the agenda for Holocaust studies in the coming years even as they give readers the means for understanding today's news and views of the Holocaust whether in court cases involving victims and perpetrators international national and corporate developments or fictional documentary and historical accounts Several of the essays such as one on nonarmed amidah or resistance and others on the role of gender in the behavior of perpetrators and victims provide innovative and potentially significant interpretive frameworks for the field of Holocaust studies Others for instance the rounding up of Jews in Italy Nazi food policy in Eastern Europe and Nazi anti Jewish scholarship emphasize the importance of new sources for reconstructing the historical record Still others including essays on the 1964 Frankfurt trial of Auschwitz guards and on the response of the Catholic Church to the question of German guilt bring a new depth and sophistication to highly charged sharply politicized topics Together these essays will inform the future of the Holocaust in scholarly research and in popular understanding Publisher's description

German-Jewish Life Writing in the Aftermath of the Holocaust Helen Finch, Helen Cleugh Finch, 2023 Shows how Adler Wander Hilsenrath and Kl uger intertwine transgressive political criticism with the shadow of trauma revealing new perspectives on canon formation and exclusion in postwar German literature How did German speaking Holocaust survivors pursue literary careers in an often indifferent postwar society How did their literary life writings reflect their postwar struggles This monograph focuses on four authors who bore literary witness to the Shoah H G Adler Fred Wander Edgar Hilsenrath and Ruth Kl uger It analyzes their autofictional critical and autobiographical works written between the early 1950s and 2015 which depict their postwar experiences of writing publishing and publicizing Holocaust testimony These case studies shed light on the devastating aftermaths of the Holocaust in different contexts Adler depicts his attempts to overcome marginalization as a writer in Britain in the 1950s Wander reflects on his failure to find a home either in postwar Austria or in the GDR Hilsenrath satirizes his struggles as an emigrant to the US in the 1960s and after returning to Berlin in the 1980s Finally in her 2008 memoir Ruth Kl uger follows up her earlier highly impactful memoir of the concentration camps by narrating the misogyny and antisemitism she experienced in US and German academia Helen Finch analyzes how these under researched texts intertwine transgressive political criticism with the shadow of trauma Drawing on scholarship on Holocaust testimony transnational memory and affect theory her book reveals new perspectives on canon formation and exclusion in postwar German literature

Screening War Paul Cooke, Marc Silberman, 2010 Re examines German cinema's representation of the Germans as victims during the Second World War and its aftermath The recent discovery of German wartime suffering has had a particularly profound impact in German visual culture Films from Margarethe von Trotta's Rosenstrasse 2003 to Oliver Hirschbiegel's Oscar nominated Downfall 2004 and the two part television mini series Dresden 2006 have shown how ordinary Germans suffered during and after the war Such films have been presented by critics as treating a topic that had been taboo for German filmmakers However the representation of wartime suffering has a long tradition on the German screen For decades filmmakers have recontextualized images of Germans as victims to engage shifting social and ideological discourses By focusing on this process the present volume explores how the changing representation of Germans as victims has shaped the ways in which both of the postwar German states and the now unified nation have attempted to face the trauma of the past and to construct a contemporary place for themselves in the world Contributors See Allan Tim Bergfelder Daniela Berghahn Erica Carter David Clarke John E Davidson Sabine Hake Jennifer Kapczynski Manuel Kppen Rachel Palfreyman Brad Prager Johannes von Moltke Paul Cooke is Professor of German Cultural Studies at the University of Leeds and Marc Silberman is Professor of German at the University of Wisconsin

Holocaust Cinema Complete Rich Brownstein, 2021-10-01 Holocaust movies have become an important segment of world cinema and the de facto Holocaust education for many One quarter of all American produced Holocaust related feature films have won or been nominated for at least one Oscar In fact from 1945 through 1991 half of all American Holocaust features were nominated Yet most Holocaust movies have fallen through the cracks and few have been commercially successful This book explores these trends and many others with a comprehensive guide to hundreds of films and made for television movies From Anne Frank to Schindler's List to Jojo Rabbit more than 400 films are examined from a range of perspectives historical chronological thematic sociological geographical and individual The filmmakers are contextualized including Charlie Chaplin Sidney Lumet Steven Spielberg Quentin Tarantino and Roman Polanski Recommendations and reviews of the 50 best Holocaust films are included along with an educational guide a detailed listing of all films covered and a four part index glossary

Jurek Becker Sander L. Gilman, 2003-12-15 In the first biography of this figure Sander Gilman tells the story of Becker's life in five worlds the Polish Jewish middle class neighborhood where Becker was born the Warsaw ghetto and the concentration camps where Becker spent his childhood the socialist order of the GDR which Becker idealized resisted and finally was forced to leave the isolated world of West Berlin where he settled down to continue his writing and the new reunified Germany for which Becker served as both conscience and inspiration

Mapping the Contours of Oppression Owen Evans, 2006-01-01 Despite all the assertions towards the end of the twentieth century that the literary subject had expired along with the author the wave of autobiographies published in German after the Wende was a clear indication that on the contrary life stories were very much alive In this study Owen Evans examines the work of eight authors Ludwig Harig Uwe Saeger Ruth Kluger Gnter de Bruyn Gnter Kunert Christoph Hein Grete Weil and Monika Maron who all published personal texts after 1989 dealing either with life in Nazi Germany or the GDR and in some cases both By means of close textual analysis Evans explores the impact these regimes had on the individuals concerned and the contrasting ways in which the authors handle the autobiographical project They adopt varying textual strategies to render the self on the page with some employing overt fiction and yet in each case the project was clearly motivated by the need to treat psychological wounds inflicted on the self by totalitarianism In their mapping of the contours of oppression the texts at the heart of this study combine to offer a powerful defence of literary autobiography in Germany at least as a valuable means of tackling the legacy of totalitarianism *German Film. polities from the Nazi period examining how the very notions of majority and collective were articulated and reformulated
