Attraction of Opposites David Maybury-Lewis,Uri Almagor,2025-10-01 The Attraction of Opposites considers a puzzling phenomenon Why do societies all over the world organize their social thought and institutions in patterns of opposites The essays collected in this volume examine contemporary societies throughout the world that organize their social theories or institutions in binary form Through analysis of these rich materials the distinguished contributors explore the enduring human attraction to dualism They consider whether this is due to the natural twoness of things and if not why polarity should play such a prominent role in both ancient cosmologies and modern philosophies in early empires and in modern two party systems This study of dual organization tells us something important about human beings illuminating a mode of thought and social organization that has represented an attractive option throughout human history

German Ethnography in Australia Nicolas Peterson,Anna Kenny,2017-09-21 The contribution of German ethnography to Australian anthropological scholarship on Aboriginal societies and cultures has been limited primarily because few people working in the field read German But it has also been neglected because its humanistic concerns with language religion and mythology contrasted with the mainstream British social anthropological tradition that prevailed in Australia until the late 1960s The advent of native title claims which require drawing on the earliest ethnography for any area together with an increase in research on rock art of the Kimberley region has stimulated interest in this German ethnography as have some recent book translations Even so several major bodies of ethnography such as the 13 volumes on the cultures of northeastern South Australia and the seven volumes on the Aranda of the Alice Springs region remain inaccessible along with many ethnographically rich articles and reports in mission archives In 18 chapters this book introduces and reviews the significance of this neglected work much of it by missionaries who first wrote on Australian Aboriginal cultures in the 1840s Almost all of these German speakers in particular the missionaries learnt an Aboriginal language in order to be able to document religious beliefs mythology and songs as a first step to conversion As a result they produced an enormously valuable body of work that will greatly enrich regional ethnographies

The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier,2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists

Dictionary of Concepts in Cultural Anthropology Robert H. Winthrop, 1991-11-18 The field of cultural anthropology describes and interprets the thought and behavior of contemporary and near contemporary societies Inherently pluralistic it offers a framework in which the distinctive perspectives of each cultural world can be appreciated Robert Winthrop's dictionary describes the major concepts that have shaped the discipline both historically and theoretically It sets modern anthropology in its proper context within the broader intellectual tradition Eighty entries review the key concepts culture race nature symbolism adaptation the primitive etc that have established the fundamental problems and issues guided research and served as the focus for debate in key areas of the discipline The entries which range from 2 000 to 6 000 words in length are both thorough in treatment and contemporary in relevance Some entries are primarily of historical significance while others describe recent developments Each entry contains an annotated bibliography and a guide to additional reading on the subject While this is not primarily a technical lexicon many terms have been glossed and explained Designed to be useful to students of anthropology this dictionary will assist those in other disciplines to find their way through the anthropological labyrinth

Ecologies of Participation Zayin Cabot, 2018-04-30 In this daring debut Zayin Cabot challenges the wise homebodies of academia A profoundly interdisciplinary approach to comparative scholarship Ecologies of Participation offers a methodology whereby we can face our shared planetary predicament It is grounded in process philosophy and asserts the importance of a new ontology of agency It traces the importance of L vy Bruhl and L vi Strauss's early work while offering new insight into the ontological turn in anthropology This book sets out to destabilize modern reductionist trends toward scientific materialism without falling into postmodern cultural constructivism It does not assume the givenness of nature or culture By advancing a multi ontology approach this work offers robust interventions into decolonial and critical studies Cabot takes contemporary scholarship in new and exciting directions offering an unstable ground from which to examine our shared worlds both human and other Throughout the last chapters of the book these threads are illuminated through a detailed ethics of comparison and participation

Beyond Nature and Culture Philippe Descola, 2013-08-01 Gives to anthropological reflection a new starting point and will become the compulsory reference for all our debates in the years to come Claude L vi Strauss on the French edition Beyond Nature and Culture has been a major influence in European intellectual life since its French publication in 2005 Here finally it is brought to English language readers At its heart is a question central to both anthropology and philosophy what is the relationship between nature and culture Culture as a collective human making of art language and so forth is often seen as essentially different from nature which is portrayed as a collective of the nonhuman world of plants animals geology and natural forces Philippe Descola shows this essential difference to be not only a Western notion but also a very recent one Drawing on ethnographic examples from around the world and theoretical understandings from cognitive science structural analysis and phenomenology he formulates a sophisticated new framework the four ontologies animism totemism naturalism and analogism to account for all the ways we relate ourselves to nature By thinking beyond nature and culture as a simple dichotomy Descola offers a fundamental reformulation by which anthropologists and philosophers can see the world afresh A compelling and original account of where the nature culture binary has come from where it might go and what we might imagine in its place

Somatosphere The most important book coming from French anthropology since Claude Lévi Strauss's Anthropologie Structurale Bruno Latour author of An Inquiry into Modes of Existence Descola's challenging new worldview should be of special interest to a wide range of scientific and academic disciplines from anthropology to zoology Highly recommended

Choice Experiments in Holism Ton Otto, Nils Bubandt, 2011-08-02 Experiments in Holism Experiments in Holism Theory and Practice in Contemporary Anthropology presents a series of essays that critically examine the ongoing relevance of holism and its theoretical and methodological potential in today's world Contributions from a diverse collection of leading anthropologists reveal how recent critiques of the holistic approach have not led to its wholesale rejection but rather to a panoply of experiments that critically reassess and reemploy holism The essays focus on aspects of holism including its utilization in current ethnographic research holistic considerations in cultural anthropology the French structuralist tradition the predominantly English tradition of social anthropology and many others Collectively the essays show how holism is simultaneously central to and problematically a part of the theory and practice of anthropology Experiments in Holism reveals how contemporary attempts to rescale and retool anthropology entail new ways of coming to terms with anthropology's heritage of holism seeking to obviate its current excesses while recapturing its critical potential to meet the challenges of our contemporary world

The Composition of Worlds Philippe Descola,2023-10-18 In this autobiographical reflection the distinguished anthropologist Philippe Descola looks back on his intellectual career and examines both the central themes of his work and the key questions that have shaped anthropological debates over the past forty years A student of L vi Strauss Descola conducted ethnographic research among the Achuar of the upper Amazon in the late 1970s focusing on how native societies relate to their environment In this book he sheds fresh light on the evolution of his thinking from structuralism to an anthropology beyond the human on the critique of the modern separation between nature and society and above all on the genesis and scope of his major work Beyond Nature and Culture This synthesis of the ways in which humans view their relationships with non humans proposes four schemas for the composition of worlds animism naturalism totemism analogism that characterize our ways of inhabiting the earth Presented in the form of an extended conversation with Pierre Charbonnier this book is both a lucid introduction to the work of one of the most original anthropologists writing today and an impassioned plea for ontologies that are more accommodating of the diversity of beings

Sensing Disaster Dr. Matthew Lauer,2023-03-07 In 2007 a three story high tsunami slammed the small island of Simbo in the western Solomon Islands Drawing on over ten years of research Matthew Lauer provides a vivid and intimate account of this calamitous event and the tumultuous recovery process His stimulating analysis surveys the unpredictable entanglements of the powerful waves with colonization capitalism human animal communication spirit beings ancestral territory and technoscientific expertise that shaped the disaster s outcomes Although the Simbo people had never experienced another tsunami in their lifetimes nearly everyone fled to safety before the destructive waves hit To understand their astonishing response Lauer argues that we need to rethink popular and scholarly portrayals of Indigenous knowledge to avert epistemic imperialism and improve disaster preparedness strategies In an increasingly disaster prone era of ecological crises this provocative book brings new possibilities into view for understanding the causes and consequences of calamity the unintended effects of humanitarian recovery and mitigation efforts and the nature of local knowledge

Going the Whiteman's Way David McKnight,2004 Modern anthropologists unlike their classical predecessors have observed Australian Aborigines in the field rather than from the study None however has spent as long as David McKnight in a single community During a period of 35 years involving some 20 fieldtrips he has lived with the Mornington Islanders of northern Queensland for over five years This intellectual tour de force combines dense ethnography about Australian kinship and marriage the heart of their world with major anthropological debate about theories of kinship It thereby provides a unique and important contribution to kinship studies McKnight shows how young Aborigines became increasingly determined to marry according to their own inclinations defying the authority of the elders who accused them of going the Whiteman s Way Aboriginal Peoples and Birds in Australia Philip A. Clarke,2023-04-03 Australia is home to many distinctive species of birds and Aboriginal peoples have developed close alliances with them over the millennia of their custodianship of this country Aboriginal Peoples and Birds in Australia Historical and Cultural Relationships provides a review of the broad physical historical and cultural relationships that Aboriginal people have had with the Australian avifauna This book aims to raise awareness of the alternative bodies of ornithological knowledge that reside outside of Western science It describes the role of birds as totemic ancestors and spirit beings and explores Aboriginal bird nomenclature foraging techniques and the use of avian materials to make food medicine and artefacts Through a historical perspective this book examines the gaps between knowledge systems of Indigenous peoples and Western science to encourage greater collaboration and acknowledgment in the future Cultural sensitivity Readers are warned that there may be words descriptions and terms used in this book that are culturally sensitive and which might not normally be used in certain public or community contexts While this information may not reflect current understanding it is provided by the author in a historical context This publication may also contain quotations terms and annotations that reflect the historical attitude of the original author or that of the period in which the item was written and may be considered inappropriate today Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are advised that this publication may contain the names and images of people who have passed away Encountering Aboriginal Languages William McGregor,2008 A - Airports British Library,2012-05-21 No detailed description available for A Airports Language George Melville Bolling,Bernard Bloch,2002 Proceedings of the annual meeting of the Society in v 1 11 1925 34 After 1934 they appear in Its Bulletin Social Anthropology and Australian Aboriginal Studies Ronald Murray Berndt,Robert Tonkinson,1988 Shifts of emphasis from 1961 1986 in the study of Aboriginal economy kinship gender issues religion law and social anthropology papers by C Anderson J A Barnes R M Berndt and R Tonkinson I Keen F Merlan H Morphy and N M Williams annotated separately
