Programme to Combat Racism, 1971 Namibia's Independence Struggle Cleophas Johannes Tsokodayi, 2011-01-01 Women Journalists in Namibia's Liberation Struggle Women 1985-1990 Mboono Nghidinwa, 2008-12-29 This study investigates the experiences of women journalists during the last phase of Namibia's liberation struggle against South African rule Black or white women journalists in Namibia made significant contributions to the liberation cause including the founding of a high profiled newspaper whilst others worked for media sympathetic to the apartheid government Based on interviews and deploying feminist media theory Maria Mboono Nghidinwa pays close attention to the gendered power relationships in the newsrooms of newspapers and radio stations at the time She looks at the intense political intimidations which targeted women and in particular the constraints experienced by black women journalists Namibia's Liberation Struggle Colin Leys, John S. Saul, 1995 It took 23 years of armed struggle before Namibia could gain its independence from South Africa in March 1990 SWAPO's victory was remarkable in the face of an overwhelmingly superior enemy How this came about and at what cost is the subject of this study which is based on unpublished documents and extensive interviews with a large range of the key activists in the struggle The study should be of interest to everyone concerned with southern Africa North America Ohio U Press Namibia's Red Line G. Miescher, 2012-06-18 Based on archival sources and oral history this book reconstructs a border building process in Namibia that spanned more than sixty years The process commenced with the establishment of a temporary veterinary defence line against rinderpest by the German colonial authorities in the late nineteenth century and ended with the construction of a continuous two metre high fence by the South African colonial government sixty years later This 1250 kilometre fence divides northern from central Namibia even today The book combines a macro and a micro perspective and differentiates between cartographic and physical reality The analysis explores both the colonial state's agency with regard to veterinary and settlement policies and the strategies of Africans and Europeans living close to the border The analysis also includes the varying perceptions of individuals and populations who lived further north and south of the border and describes their experiences crossing the border as migrant workers African traders European settlers and colonial officials The Red Line's history is understood as a gradual process of segregating livestock and people and of constructing dichotomies of modern and traditional healthy and sick European and African A World for All? William F. Lyrical Nationalism in Post-Apartheid Namibia Wendi A. Haugh, 2014-06-25. When Namibia gained its independence from South Africa in 1990, the new government began dismantling the divisive apartheid state and building a unified nation state. What does this new nation look like from the perspective of ordinary citizens? In Lyrical Nationalism in Post Apartheid Namibia, Wendi Haugh provides an ethnographic portrayal of the nation as imagined by people living in the former ethnic homeland of Ovamboland, with a particular focus on the lyrics of songs composed and performed by Catholic youth. The author argues that these youth draw on conflicting ideologies: hierarchical and egalitarian nationalist and cosmopolitan. From multiple sources, they construct a multi-faceted sense of national identity. She reveals how their vision of the nation, framed as neutrally national, is deeply rooted in specific local histories and cultures.

Namibia & Southern Africa Dreyer, 2016-04-29. First published in 1994, this volume includes an examination of the regional dynamics of Namibia's decolonization since early 1985 and the author's interest in southwestern Africa since he witnessed the South African invasion of Angola in 1975-76 as a delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross. The research was undertaken as part of a post-doctoral project supported by the Swiss National Science Foundation. It also includes extensive research in the region, notably in the frontline states.
