Wexler, 1972 Selected historical writings with notes about each author The Historian At Work John Cannon, 2018-10-24 This volume originally published in 1980 discusses the way in which distinguished historians such as Gibbon Ranke Macaulay De Tocqueville Marx Maitland Bloch Namier Wheeler Butterfield and Braudel have regarded and tackled their discipline As well as chapters by individual authors who are experts on their chosen historian there is a substantial introduction by the editor which serves as the basis for a discussion about the problems involved in the writing of history Cold War Culture Jim Smyth, 2016-04-04 Britain in the 1950s had a distinctive political and intellectual climate It was the age of Keynesianism of welfare state consensus incipient consumerism and to its detractors the so called Angry Young Men and the emergent New Left a new age of complacency While Prime Minister Harold Macmillan famously remarked that most of our people have never had it so good the playwright John Osborne lamented that there aren't any good brave causes left Philosophers political scientists economists and historians embraced the supposed end of ideology and fetishized value free technique and analysis This turn is best understood in the context of the cultural Cold War in which ideology served as shorthand for Marxist but it also drew on the rich resources and traditions of English empiricism and a Burkean scepticism about abstract theory in general Ironically cultural critics and historians such as Raymond Williams and E P Thompson showed at this time that the thick catalogue of English moral aesthetic and social critique could also be put to altogether different purposes Jim Smyth here shows that despite being allergic to McCarthy style vulgarity British intellectuals in the 1950s operated within powerful Cold War paradigms all the same Explaining Auschwitz and Hiroshima Richard J. B. Bosworth, 2002-01-31 Explaining Auschwitz and Hiroshima explores the way in which the main combatant societies of the Second World War have historicised that experience Since 1945 debates in Germany about the past that would not fade away have been reasonably well known But in this book Richard Bosworth maintains that Germany is not unique He argues that in Britain France Italy the USSR and Japan as well as in Germany the traumatic history of the long Second World War has remained crucial to the culture and the politics of post war societies Each has felt a compelling need to interpret this past event and thus to explain Auschwitz and Hiroshima Bosworth explores the bitter controversies that have developed around a particular interpretation of the war such as disputes over A J P Taylor s Origins of the Second World War Marcel Ophul s film The Sorrow and the Pity Renzo De Felice s biography of Mussolini in the 1970s or in post Glasnost debates about the historiographies of the Commonwealth of Independent States Richard Bosworth s book is a wide ranging and thoughtful excursion into comparative history
