New Perspectives on Mutual Dependency in Care-Giving Adéla Souralová, 2016-03-09 Many scholars see caregiving relationships as being based on mutual dependency or interdependency Extensively cited notions of the global care chain or international division of reproductive labour have prepared the ground for analysis of global interdependencies in several domains This book goes further by taking mutual dependency as a starting point for analysing all relationships Using the example of Vietnamese families in the Czech Republic and the Czech native nannies it shows how paid caregiving is contextualized in terms of various relationships between three types of actors employer employee caring for the child and mother child All of these ties are based on ontologically different principles and each of them operates as a piece of a puzzle which is meaningful only in relation to each other Souralov considers caregiving to be a formative activity that establishes ties between the concerned actors whose subjectivities are mutually shaped in the daily practice of caregiving With its stress on mutuality in care work this ground breaking book illuminates the new forms of interpersonal interethnic and intergenerational relationships and highlights the mechanisms and processes in which kinship ties are negotiated and reproduced
