Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson, 2020-01-29 In Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson places familiar often politicized questions about the crisis of African American marriage in conversation with a rich cultural archive that includes fiction by Terry McMillan and Sister Souljah music by Anita Baker and films such as The Best Man Seeking to move beyond simple assessments of marriage as good or bad for African Americans Henderson critically examines popular and influential late twentieth and early twenty first century texts alongside legislation such as the 1996

Defense of Marriage Act and the Welfare Reform Act which masked true sources of inequality with crisis laden myths about African American family formation Using an interdisciplinary approach to highlight the influence of law politics and culture on marriage representations and practices Henderson reveals how their kinship veils and unveils the fiction in political policy as well as the complicated political stakes of fictional and cultural texts Providing a new opportunity to grapple with old questions including who can be a citizen a wife and marriageable Veil and Vow makes clear just how deeply marriage still matters in African American culture

Would I Lie to You? Trisha R. Thomas,2011-07-13 Spirited successful Venus Johnston is back in the long awaited sequel to Nappily Ever After Venus feels history repeating itself and she s not loving it She ended a relationship with Clint because he couldn t commit cut off her long processed hair and started on a new path with a new boyfriend But she s been with Airic for more than two years and they still haven t set a wedding date When a temporary project takes her to Los Angeles Venus welcomes the opportunity to spend some time with her family in California and to see if a little absence makes Airic s heart grow fonder But in L A savvy ambitious Venus runs head on into a new complication the equally savvy and ambitious Jake Parsons a former rap star turned clothing designer Jake s as suave as he is successful and ten years her junior Venus s job is to create a marketing campaign for his urban wear Jake s job it seems is to distract her from her long distance romance with Airic When Venus s mother is diagnosed with breast cancer her entire world seems to crumble Everything she thought would make her happy her new look her successful career her fianc can t fix the sadness and emptiness she feels But before she throws in the towel she s offered one more chance a chance for change for growth and maybe even for a new love Will she take it Or give in to the notion that her life will always be close but no cigar Moving romantic and inspiring Would I Lie to You is one woman s happy lighthearted story of giving in instead of giving up

Sister Style Nadia E. Brown,Danielle Casarez Lemi,2021-01-19 They don t think I m viable because I m a Black woman with natural hair and no husband This comment was made by Stacey Abrams shortly before the 2018 Democratic primary after she became the first Black woman to win a majory party s nomination for governor Abrams sentiment reflects the wider environment for Black women in politics in which racist and sexist cultural ideas have long led Black women to be demeaned and fetishized for their physical appearance In Sister Style Nadia E Brown and Danielle Casarez Lemi argue that Black women s political experience and the way that voters evaluate them is shaped overtly by their skin tone and hair texture with hair being a particular point of scrutiny They ask what the politics of appearance for Black women mean for Black women politicians and Black voters and how expectations about self presentation differ for Black women versus Black men White men and White women Black women running for office face pressure often from campaign consultants and even close colleagues to change their style in order to look more like White women However as this book shows Black women candidates and elected officials react differently to these pressures depending on factors like age and incumbency Moreover Brown and Lemi delve into the ways in which Black voters react to Black female candidates based on appearance They base their argument in part on focus groups with Black women candidates and elected officials and show that there are generational differences that determine what sorts of styles Black women choose to adopt and to what extent they change their physical appearance based on external expectations

Women of Color and Hair Bias in the Work Environment Francis, Kula A., Clarke, Anna M., 2023-11-09 Professional women of color identify with various natural Black hairstyles including braids dread locs twists and other natural coiled styles Black women who work in professional settings have historically encountered negative stares remarks and biases They tend to be stereotyped on their level of professionalism and competency if they choose not to conform to mainstream hairstyles Women wearing Black hairstyles are often perceived as less beautiful and less professional than those who wear Eurocentric hairstyles Professional Black women are often challenged in these situations where they must decide how to manage their identity in the work environment Too often professional Black women apply and interview for positions where their natural hairstyle becomes the topic of interest If given the opportunity for employment subtle references may be made about their hairstyles which suggests such hairstyles are not in alignment with the professional climate of an organization This type of pressure makes Black women feel forced to conform to Eurocentric hairstyles These expectations lead to feelings of social inadequacy hurt and discouragement of individuals in their workplace The apprehensions with hair acceptance are even more concerning when considering that the notion of straight groomed hair has been largely expected not only by Whites but also by many people of color as well Women of Color and Hair Bias in the Work Environment explores the experiences of professional women of color who have had encountered feelings of uncertainty self consciousness or differing treatment and or discrimination because of their natural hairstyle choices The intent is to shine a light on the challenges professional women of color face and how these experiences impact their hiring and or work environment Covering topics such as hairstyle empowerment ethics of hair bias and diversity of hair this book serves as an invaluable resource for educators social workers psychologists organizational leadership business professionals and more This book also allows women to be encouraged by stories of professional women who have overcome the societal burdens placed on natural hair

Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Lori D. Patton, Venus Evans-Winters, Charlotte Jacobs, 2023-07-03 In the powerful essays that make up Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Black women and girls are listened to appreciated and valued in recognition of the unrelenting challenges to our existence in a world that continues to be committed to stifling our voices What these authors know intimately is that such stifling is not because what Black women and girls are saying isn't important It is precisely because it is This book names the challenges Black women and girls continue to experience as we pursue our education and offers implications and recommendations for practitioners teachers administrators and policymakers It needs to be read widely and deeply studied as much for its formations and beautiful representations of Black women and girls as its recommendations It is the truth telling we need today and a groundbreaking resource we need today and beyond Cynthia B Dillard Nana Mansa II of Mpeasem Ghana Athens

Georgia and Cape Coast Central Region Ghana While figures on Black women and girls degree attainment suggest that as a group they are achieving in society the reality is that their experiences are far from monolithic that the educational system from early on and through college imposes barriers and inequities pushing many out of school criminalizing their behavior and leading to a high rate of incarceration The purpose of this book is to illuminate scholarship on Black women and girls throughout the educational pipeline The contributors all Black women educators scholars and advocates name the challenges Black women and girls face while pursuing their education as well as offer implications and recommendations for practitioners policymakers teachers and administrators to consider in ensuring the success of Black women and girls This book is divided into four sections each identifying the barriers Black girls and women encounter at the stages of their education and offering strategies to promote their success and agency within and beyond educational contexts In Part One the contributors explore the importance of mattering for Black girls in terms of redefining success and joy centering Black girl literacy pedagogies that encourage them to thrive examining how to make STEM more accessible to them and recounting how Black girls emotions and emotional literacy can either disempower them or promote their sense of agency to navigate educational contexts Part Two uncovers the violence directed toward and the criminalization of Black women and girls and how they are situated in educational and justice systems that collude to fail them The contributors address incarceration and the process of rehabilitation and reentry the outcomes of disciplinary action in schools on women who pursue college and describe how the erasure and disregard of Black women and girls leaves them absent from the educational policies that deeply affect their lives and wellbeing Part Three focuses on how Black women are left to navigate without resources that could make their collegiate pathways smoother covers how hair politics impact their acceptance in college leadership roles particularly at HBCUs illuminates the importance of social emotional and mental health for Black undergraduate women and the lack of adequate resources and explores how women with disabilities navigate higher education The final part of this book describes transformative approaches to supporting the educational needs of Black women and girls including the use of a politicized ethic of care intergenerational love and dialogue and constructing communities including digital environments to ensure they thrive through their education and beyond
