Narcissism And The Text Studies In Literature And The Psychology Of Self:

Narcissism and the Text Lynne Layton, Barbara A. Schapiro, 1987-12-01 Narcissism and the Text Lynne Layton, Barbara A. Schapiro, 1986 Narcissism, Melancholia and the Subject of Community Barry Sheils, Julie Walsh, 2017-11-06 This book brings together the work of scholars and writer practitioners of psychoanalysis to consider the legacy of two of Sigmund Freud's most important metapsychological papers On Narcissism (1914) and Mourning and Melancholia (1917). These twin papers conceived in the context of unprecedented social and political turmoil mark a point in Freud's metapsychological project wherein the themes of loss and of psychic violence were becoming incontrovertible facts in the story of subject formation. Taking as their concern the difficulty of setting apart the inner and the outer worlds as well as the difficulty of preserving an image of the coherently bounded subject, the psychoanalytic frameworks of narcissism and melancholia provide the background coordinates for the volume's contributors to analyse contemporary subjectivities in new psychosocial contexts. This collection will be of great interest to all scholars and practitioners of psychoanalysis and the psychotherapies, social and cultural theory, gender and sexuality studies, politics and psychosocial studies.

Wordsworth and Feeling Kim G. Blank, 1995-10 Wordsworth and Feeling returns to Wordsworth's personal history in order to locate and contextualize some of the most remarkable poetry in the English language. In this study, G. Kim Blank details how this poetry evolves out of Wordsworth's radical subjectivity, but the most pressing feature of that subjectivity is the cluster of subjects: loss, guilt, suffering, endurance, death, which appears throughout much of his poetry up until 1802.

The Jew of Malta: A Critical Reader Robert A. Logan, 2013-03-28 Christopher Marlowe's drama The Jew of Malta has become an increasingly popular source for scholarly scrutiny, staged productions, and most recently a filmed version. The play follows the sometimes tragic, sometimes comic, often outrageous fortunes of its villainous protagonist, the Jew Barabas. In recent years, the play has provoked as much interpretive controversy as any work in the Marlowe canon. This unique volume is therefore especially timely, providing fresh, varied approaches to the many enigmatic elements of the play.

Literature and the Relational Self Barbara Ann Schapiro, 1995-07-01 Literature and the Relational Self is a tribute to the rich complexity of human nature as poets, novelists, and relational models of contemporary psychoanalysis mutually attest. Psychoanalytic psychologist, while psychoanalytic relational perspectives have had a major impact on the clinical world, their value for the field of literary study has yet to be fully recognized. This important book offers a broad overview of relational concepts and theories and examines their implications for understanding literary and aesthetic experience as it reviews feminist applications of relational model theories and considers D. W. Winnicott's influential ideas about creativity and symbolic play. The eight incisive essays in this volume apply these concepts to a close reading of various nineteenth and twentieth-century literary texts: an essay on Wordsworth, for instance, explores the poet's writing on the imagination in light of Winnicott's ideas about transitional phenomena, while an essay on Woolf and Lawrence compares identity issues in their work. from the perspective of feminist object relations theories The cultural influences that have led to the development of the relational paradigm in the sciences at this particular historical moment have also affected contemporary art and literature Essays on John Updike Toni Morrison Ann Beattie and Alice Hoffman examine self other relational dynamics in their texts that reflect larger cultural patterns characteristic of our time The author reviews feminist applications of relational model theories and applies these models to works by William Wordsworth Virginia Woolf John Updike Toni Morrison and others

Trans-generational Trauma and the Other Sue Grand, Jill Salberg, 2016-12-19 Often our trans generational legacies are stories of us and them that never reach their terminus We carry fixed narratives and the ghosts of our perpetrators and of our victims We long to be subjects in our own history but keep reconstituting the Other as an object in their own history Trans generational Trauma and the Other argues that healing requires us to engage with the Other who carries a corresponding pre history Without this dialogue alienated ghosts can become persecutory objects in psyche politics and culture This volume examines the violent loyalties of the past the barriers to dialogue with our Other and complicates the inter subjectivity of Big History Identifying our inherited narratives and relinquishing splitting these authors ask how we can re cast our Other and move beyond dysfunctional repetitions in our individual lives and in society Featuring rich clinical material Trans generational Trauma and the Other provides an invaluable guide to expanding the application of trans generational transmission in psychoanalysis It will appeal to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic psychotherapists and trauma experts

Dialogues at the Edge of American Psychological Discourse Heather Macdonald, David Goodman, Brian Becker, 2017-09-15 This book explores the discipline of psychology through in depth dialogues with scholars who have lived at the turbulent edges of mainstream psychology in the USA and who have challenged the most cherished theoretical frameworks It includes researchers whose work has been widely esteemed in recent decades but has ultimately not been taken up to reconstitute the theoretical direction of the field This volume chronicles perspectives from select scholars on the current states of their respective areas of the field their understanding of how their work has been metabolized and their concerns about the conceptual frames that currently set the theoretical boundaries of the discipline These authors demand a reinterpretation of thresholds to allow for a less monological emphasis in the adoption of particular frameworks and to demonstrate historical social economic and political consequences of their chosen frameworks The contents of the volume will assist theoreticians and clinicians in their understanding of how particular kinds of knowledge are determined accepted and produced in the field at large

Heroic Tropes Pierrette Daly, 1993 Of Bourignon and Guyon the correspondence of Abelard and Heloise the letters of Sevigne to her daughter and the autobiographical works of Rousseau and Sand Daly traces recurring patterns of narrative innovation that seem convincingly linked to both the author's gender and the gender of characters Her final chapter analyzes theoretical writings by Cixous and Kristeva in terms of the fictional paradigms she has established As it addresses heroic narratives of the

The Prose of Sasha Sokolov Elena Ivanovna Kravchenko, 2013 Hailed as one of the most significant writers in contemporary Russian literature Sasha Sokolov 1943 nevertheless remains one of its most hermetic Despite a considerable scholarly interest in his work no comprehensive book length study has yet been published on Sokolov With the focus on his three main texts School for Fools Between Dog and Wolf and Palisandriia this groundbreaking monograph is an exploration of Sokolov's aesthetics in which language is shown to embody reality rather than express it In her study Elena Kravchenko invites us to examine how language and art affect our perception of the real that fading away into its reflections finds its essence Elena Kravchenko is an independent researcher whose doctoral thesis School of Slavonic and Eastern European Studies UCL laid a foundation for this monograph

The Truth About Freud's Technique Michael Guy Thompson, 1995-07-01 In this unusual and much needed reappraisal of Freud's clinical technique M Guy Thompson challenges the conventional notion that psychoanalysis promotes relief from suffering and replaces it with a more radical assertion that psychoanalysis seeks to mend our relationship with the real that has been fractured by our avoidance of the same Thompson suggests that while avoiding reality may help to relieve our experience of suffering this short term solution inevitably leads to a split in our existence M Guy Thompson forcefully disagrees with the recent trend that dismisses Freud as an historical figure who is out of step with the times He argues instead for a return to the forgotten Freud a man inherently philosophical and rooted in a Greek preoccupation with the nature of truth ethics the purpose of life and our relationship with reality Thompson's argument is situated in a stunning re-reading of Freud's technical papers including a new evaluation of his analyses of Dora and the Rat Man in the context of Heidegger's understanding of truth In this remarkable examination of Freud's technical recommendations M Guy Thompson explains how psychoanalysis was originally designed to re-acquaint us with realities we had abandoned by encountering them in the context of the analytic experience This provocative examination of Freud's conception of psychoanalysis reveals a more personal Freud than we had previously supposed one that is more humanistic and real

Psychoanalysis and Development Massimo Ammaniti, Daniel N. Stern, 1994-10 Examines the growth of representation and narratives in the history and practice of psychoanalysis Explores the close and necessary relationship between Freud's theories of representation the building of an internal mental world allowing us to give meaning to our experiences and narration the idea that personal experience might assume the character of a narrative and illustrates how they have developed the language of therapy and affected the practice of both psychoanalysis and developmental psychology Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Memories of War in Early Modern England Susan Harlan, 2016-09-23 This book examines literary depictions of the construction and destruction of the armored male body in combat in relation to early modern English understandings of the past Bringing together the fields of material culture and militarism Susan Harlan argues that the notion of spoiling or the sanctioned theft of the arms and armor of the vanquished in battle provides a way of thinking about England's relationship to its violent cultural inheritance She demonstrates how writers reconstituted the spoils of antiquity and the Middle Ages in an imagined military struggle between male bodies An analysis of scenes of arming and disarming across texts by Christopher Marlowe and William Shakespeare and tributes to Sir Philip Sidney reveals a pervasive militant nostalgia a cultural fascination with moribund models and technologies of war Readers will not only gain a better understanding of humanism but also a new way of thinking about violence and cultural production in Renaissance England

Shakespeare's Hyperontology Harald William Fawcner, 1990 Utilizing a number of poststructuralist devices H W Fawcner employs an ontodramatic line of approach in order to suggest that a single hidden pattern of hyperontological suggestion organizes Shakespeare's entire imaginative outlook in Antony and Cleopatra

Thomas Hardy, Femininity and Dissent J. Thomas, 1998-11-11 Drawing on aspects of Foucauldian feminist theory Thomas Hardy Femininity and Dissent offers original and detailed readings of six critically undervalued novels Desperate Remedies A Pair of Blue Eyes The Hand of Ethelberta A Laodicean Two on a Tower and The Well

Beloved demonstrating Hardy's peculiarly modern appreciation of how individuals negotiate the forces which shape their sense of self Tracing his interest in the evolutionary debate and the woman question this book reveals a new politically engaged rather than a grimly pessimistic Hardy
