Narrating Africa:

Narrating Africa – Narrating Namibia Annette Bühler-Dietrich, Ellen Ndeshi Namhila, Agnes Simataa, Juliet Pasi, Sigrid G. Köhler, Petrus Angula Mbenzi, Coletta M. Kandemiri, Werner Hillebrecht, Bruno Arich-Gerz, Martin Kuhn, Jan Bürger, 2025-03-10 The project Narrating Africa began with an international symposium at the Deutsches Literaturarchiv in Marbach in September 2019 discussing the project and how to narrate Africa from academic perspectives. Scholars from Germany, Switzerland, and Namibia engaged in intense discussions on a wide range of texts, genres, and research methodologies for two days. This book contains some of the papers presented at the 2019 symposium as well as further presentations on narrating Africa. Like the open space project, this publication does not presume to give an answer to the difficult question of how to narrate Africa but rather it seeks to offer further insights into the field with a special focus on Namibian narrations. This book is divided into four different sections. The first part aims to provide an introductory overview to and reflections of the project's main theme, narrating Africa. In part two, identity is explored and reconsidered along various literary texts and with a particular focus on questions of gender. The third part focuses on oral literature and questions of time and memory. Finally, the last chapters are dedicated to the archive and colonialism, exploring a variety of archive materials in Marbach and in Windhoek and how they take up and shape facts and fantasies of Namibia and Africa.

African Memoirs and Cultural Representations Toyin Falola, 2023-02-14 Traditions and cultures represent a set of persisting or prevailing beliefs, social practices, oral linguistic values that define an individual's way of life. In other words, in memoir writing, the emphasis is often to propagate a unilateral need or embrace of self-identity. However, the dominant narrative and method of analysis in this study holds the notion and privileges that tradition and cultures imbibed by memoirists are sometimes subverted, refashioned, or reworked due to the strand of experiences or realities they encounter in different spaces as their narration develops. Thus, memoirists embrace indifference and open-mindedness, which is also greatly explored in the context of autobiography. The BBC's Legacy in Africa Albert Sharra, Jimmy Kainja, Anthony Mavuto Gunde, 2025-08-19 This book critically examines the historical and ongoing influence of the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) on African broadcasting, tracing its colonial roots through to its post-colonial legacy. The book details how in the 1930s the BBC established radio transmitter sites in East and Central Africa, thereby positioning itself as a model for broadcasting in British colonies and beyond. Grounded in a decolonial perspective, the book then explores the evolution of African radio structures, funding models, editorial policies, and programming strategies. In the post-colonial era, the BBC continued to train, equip, and support African broadcasters while maintaining a strong presence through African-focused programming. Some nations fully embraced the BBC model, while others developed hybrid broadcasting systems integrating British local and transnational influences. Beyond historical analysis, the book interrogates the BBC's enduring influence on African media, examining how contemporary local broadcasters negotiate, adapt, or resist its legacy. A nuanced exploration of these dynamics.

Narrating Africa Mawuena Kossi Logan, 1999-05-01 Narrating Africa George Henty and the Fiction of Empire offers a critique of colonialist discourse and focuses on George Henty's novels as a prototype of the literature that emerged with the rise of British imperialism in an attempt to assess the role of nineteenth century literature both in the perpetuation of stereotypes vis vis Africa and in the socialization of young adults Its approach is postcolonial inasmuch as it breaks traditional disciplinary boundaries by analyzing and critiquing literature within historical political economic and cultural contexts that enable the production reception and import of literary texts Indeed today's cultural economic and political hegemony of Europe and the United States over Africa has a legacy deeply rooted in nineteenth century ideologies of imperialism colonialism and race as well as in repercussions of the Atlantic Slave Trade Thus the image of Africa as the Dark continent resulting from the activities of the Atlantic Slave Trade and early Victorian explorers and missionaries won further popularity among Victorians from all walks of life through adventure stories which became one of the vehicles for the dissemination of imperialist ideologies and concept Narrating Africa George Henty and the Fiction of Empire unveils the legacy endurance and impact of colonial stereotyping with these factors in perspective Branches of Asanteism Abdul Karim Bangura,2019-10-03 Branches of Asanteism explores the epistemologies and research methodologies that have sprung from Mwalimu Molefi Kete Asante s treatises on Afrocentricity The book identifies and analyzes thirteen such epistemologies and methodologies while defining and explicating the various branches of Asante s idea of Afrocentricity African Migration Narratives Cajetan Iheka,2024-04 Examines the representations of migration in African literature film and other visual media with an eye to the stylistic features of these works as well as their contributions to debates on migration

Heady,2016-03-03 Because Victorian authors rarely discuss conversion experiences separately from the modes in which they are narrated Emily Walker Heady argues that the conversion narrative became in effect a form of literary criticism Literary conventions in turn served the reciprocal function as a means of discussing the nature of what Heady calls the heart change Heady reads canonical authors such as John Henry Newman Charles Dickens Charlotte Bront George Eliot and Oscar Wilde through a dual lens of literary history and post liberal theology As Heady shows these authors question the ability of realism to contain the emotionally freighted and often jarring plot lines that characterize conversion In so doing they explore the limits of narrative form while also shedding light on the ways in which conversion narratives address and often disrupt the reading communities in which they occur Apartheid and Racism in South African Children's Literature 1985-1995

Configurations of Migration Jennifer Leetsch,Frederike Middelhoff,Miriam Wallraven,2023-10-24 In a global context in which phenomena of migration play an ever more important role the ways individual and collective experiences of migration are covered in the media represented in culture and interpreted are coming under increasing scrutiny This book explores the complex relationship between creative engagements with migration on the one hand and forms of knowledge about migration on the other inquiring into the ways aesthetic practices are intertwined with knowledge structures The book responds to three pressing research questions First it analyses how fictional texts plays images films and autobiographical accounts mediate forms of knowledge about migration Second it identifies the ways in which specific media approaches and aesthetic practices influence people s ideas about and awareness of migratory experiences in a globalized world Finally it delineates how historical perspectives help us compare epistemological approaches to migration in the nineteenth twentieth and early twenty first centuries and how these approaches affect the way critics and the public responded to and thought about different forms of forced migration Bringing together renowned scholars working across disciplines it investigates the possibilities and limitations that different media present when it comes to reflecting on communicating and imagining experiences of migration and how these representations in turn create ways of knowing and understanding migration

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike,2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse It is an anthology of historical reflections critical essays and interviews by film critics historians theorists and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms

Nigerian Film Culture and the Idea of the Nation Tsaaio, James Tar, Ugochukwu, Françoise, 2017-09-17 Collectively the essays brought together in this book represent a discursive confluence on Nollywood as a local film culture with a global character aspiration and reach The governing concern of the book is that texts including film texts are animated by a particular sociology and anthropology which gives them concrete existence and meaning The book argues that Nollywood the Nigerian video film text is deeply rooted in the sub soil of its social and cultural milieu Nollywood is therefore engaged in the relentless negotiation and re negotiation of the everyday lives of the people against the backdrop of their cultural traditions social contradictions and the politics of their ethnic national identity longing and belonging The essays weave an intricate and delicate argument about the critical role of Nollywood to the idea of nationhood and the logic of its narration with implications for language politics and culture in Africa The book is a valuable addition to the critical discourse on the important place of film and cinema studies in national engineering processes

Afro-Nordic Landscapes Michael McEachrane, 2014-04-24 Afro Nordic Landscapes Equality and Race in Northern Europe challenges a view of Nordic societies as homogeneously white and as human rights champions that are so progressive that even the concept of race is deemed irrelevant to their societies The book places African Diasporas race and legacies of imperialism squarely in a Nordic context How has a nation as peripheral as Iceland been shaped by an identity of being white How do Black Norwegians challenge racially conscribed views of Norwegian nationhood What does the history of jazz in Denmark say about the relation between its national identity and race What is it like to be a mixed race black Swedish woman How have African Diasporans in Finland navigated issues of race and belonging And what does the widespread denial of everyday racism in Nordic societies mean to Afro Nordics This text is a must read for anyone interested in issues of race in the Nordic region and Europe writ large As Paul Gilroy writes in his foreword it is a book that should be studied with care and profit inside the Nordic countries and also outside them by the broader international readership that has been established around the study of racism and critical race theory
