Narrative Structure In Wilhelm Raabes Die Chronik Der Sperlingsgasse:

Narrative Structure in Wilhelm Raabe's Die Chronik Der Sperlingsgasse Charlotte L. Goedsche, 1989 This investigation is the first book devoted exclusively to Die Chronik der Sperlingsgasse 1854-55. Raabe's first work is widely recognized as a precursor to his later masterpieces and anticipates developments in the modern novel but misreadings and contradictions abound in the secondary literature. The present study seeks to clarify and interpret. It focuses on four elements of narrative structure: time, space, narrators and readers, and discusses the function of these elements and their implications for the reading process.

Encyclopedia of German Literature Matthias Konzett, 2015-05-11 Designed to provide English readers of German literature the opportunity to familiarize themselves with both the established canon and newly emerging literatures that reflect the concerns of women and ethnic minorities, the Encyclopedia of German Literature includes more than 500 entries on writers, individual work and topics essential to an understanding of this rich literary tradition. Drawing on the expertise of an international group of experts, the essays in the encyclopedia reflect developments of the latest scholarship in German literature, culture and history and society. In addition to the essays, author entries include biographies and works lists, and works entries provide information about first editions, selected critical editions and English language translations. All entries conclude with a list of further readings.

Wilhelm Raabe Florian Krobb, 2017-12-02 Wilhelm Raabe (1831-1910) is one of the major figures of 19th century German Realist writing, acknowledged as an innovator both stylistically and thematically. But until now there has been little concentration on the international and postcolonial dimensions of Raabe's work: his literary critique of colonialism, his engagement with modernization and globalization, his involvement in 19th century German discourses about America, Africa and Asia, and the links between international and national issues in his writing. In Raabe International contributions from many eminent critics address Raabe both as a writer on world affairs and as a subject himself for translation and comment outside of Germany.

Ego-Alter Ego John Pizer, 2020-05-01 German Poetic Realists drew on the Romantic motif of the Double in a manner consistent with the central dictum of Poetic Realism as articulated by its chief theorists Julian Schmidt and Otto Ludwig. Schmidt and Ludwig argued that contemporary authors should above all strive for psychological and aesthetic totality in their narrative representations, turning away from the Romantic fantastic but also avoiding the fragmentary approach to the portrayal of everyday life that Ludwig found in early Naturalism. The poetic presentation of reality adheres to quotidian life but strives to show it in all its many dimensions. While Romantic Doppelgänger are often preternatural figures, the Poetic Realists configure egos and their narrative Others/alter egos who are also sometimes physical Doubles to portray characters in their psychological comprehensiveness. After offering an overview of the Romantic Double motif and its connections to the theory of Poetic Realism, John Pizer analyzes the work of Annette von Droste Hülshoff, Otto Ludwig, Conrad Ferdinand Meyer, Gottfried Keller, Theodor Storm and Wilhelm Raabe.

Germanic Notes ,1989 Social Integration and Narrative Structure Nancy A. Kaiser,1986 Defining realism as a category of literary communication this study delineates three distinct patterns of reader experience within 19th century German Realism In considering the interaction of text and reader as constructing the world which a realistic novel is often said to reflect or describe the author coordinates an analysis of the social systems constituted within the texts with a consideration of the narrative structure The first pattern connects village tales by Auerbach with Freytag's Soll und Haben A second pattern of reader experience demonstrated in three novels by Fontane exposes and manipulates the mechanisms of social integration The final pattern two works from Raabe's Braunschweig Trilogy undermines the middle class reality it evokes Out of Place John B. Lyon,2016-11-17 In late nineteenth century Germany the onset of modernity transformed how people experienced place In response to increased industrialization and urbanization the expansion of international capitalism and the extension of railway and other travel networks the sense of being connected to a specific place gave way to an unsettling sense of displacement Out of Place analyzes the works of three major representatives of German Realism Wilhelm Raabe Theodor Fontane and Gottfried Keller within this historical context It situates the perceived loss of place evident in their texts within the contemporary discourse of housing and urban reform but also views such discourse through the lens of twentieth century theories of place Informed by both phenomenological Heidegger and Casey as well as Marxist Deleuze Guattari and Benjamin approaches to place John B Lyon highlights the struggle to address issues of place and space that reappear today in debates about environmentalism transnationalism globalization and regionalism
