Narrative Fiction Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan, 2001 What is a narrative What is narrative fiction How does it differ from other kinds of narrative Shlomith Rimmon Kenan provides a synthesis of contemporary approaches to narrative fiction considering in particular Anglo American New Criticism Russian Formalism and French Structuralism Narrative Fiction Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan, 2001 What is a narrative What is narrative fiction How does it differ from other kinds of narrative Shlomith Rimmon Kenan provides a synthesis of contemporary approaches to narrative fiction considering in particular Anglo American New Criticism Russian Formalism and French Structuralism The Leprous Man Kate Simons, 2010 This book explores the extraordinarily violent and abusive nature of Stephen Donaldson's male protagonists Thomas Covenant of The Chronicles is a leper rotten and physically collapsing In Mordant's Need and The Gap series the male characters are moral lepers The Gap offers a Janus faced male lead in the form of two men who are both multiple rapists The male hero in Mordant's Need is outwardly socially acceptable but his alter egos are overly corporeal and sexually obsessed In spite of their unappealing condition all these protagonists yearn to be loved Using the psychoanalytical theories of Julia Kristeva this book identifies reasons for Donaldson's derogatory characterization and provides an insight into why these novels cannot allow their male protagonists to establish viable love relationships This study also explains why maternal characters are jettisoned from the narratives considers the problematic nature of father figures and examines the incipient undertow of psychosis

Theorizing Narrativity John Pier, José Angel Garcia Landa, 2011-09-20 Theorizing Narrativity is a collective work by an international array of leading specialists in narrative theory It provides new perspectives on the nature of narrative genre theory narrative semiotics and communication theory Most contributions center on the specificity of literary fiction but each chapter investigates a different dimension of narrativity with many issues dealt with in innovative ways including oral storytelling the law video games causality intertextuality and the theory of reading There are chapters by Gerald Prince on narrativehood and narrativity Meir Sternberg on the narrativity of the law code Werner Wolf on chance and Peter Hahn on eventfulness in fiction Jukka Tyrkkö on kaleidoscope narratives Marie Laure Ryan on transfictionality and computer games Ansgar Ninning and Roy Sommer as well as Monika Fludernik on the narrativity of drama Beatriz Penas on non standard narrativities David Rudrum on narrativity and performativity Michael Toolan on textual guidance John Pier on causality and retrospection and José Angel García Landa on retelling and represented narrations The End of Mark's Story

Danove, 2022-07-04 This volume generates a narrative grammar which unites linguistic structuralist rhetorical and reader response methods and then uses it to investigate the textual indicators for interpreting the ending of the Gospel of Mark The first part of this book generates the narrative grammar in response to significant contemporary writings on methods of narrative analysis The second part provides a detailed analysis of the Gospel's larger narrative units The analysis isolates narrative units according to a consistent set of criteria grounds the interpretation on a limited number of qualifications of the implied reader indicates the centrality of the literary and rhetorical traditions of the Hebrew Bible for interpretation clarifies the model of irony used in the narrative and accounts for the negative presentation of the disciples on narrative grounds

Poetics of Narrative Fiction Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan,1982      Current Trends in Narratology Greta Olson,2011

Current Trends in Narratology offers an overview of cutting edge approaches to theories of storytelling It describes the move to cognition the new emphasis on non prose and multimedia narratives and introduces a third field of research comparative narratology This research addresses how local institutions and national approaches have affected the development of narratology Leading researchers detail their newest scholarship while placing it within the scope of larger international trends

The Temporal Mechanics of the Fourth Gospel Douglas Estes,2008-01-01 By redefining narrative temporality in light of modern physics this book advances a unique and innovative approach to the deep seated temporalities within the Gospel of John and challenges the implicit assumptions of textual brokenness that run throughout Johannine scholarship

The Stylistics of Landscapes, the Landscapes of Stylistics John Douthwaite,Daniela Francesca Viridis,Elisabetta Zurru,2017-11-15 In treating the topic of the landscapes of stylistics this book provides a series of chapters which deal not only with physical landscapes but also with social mental historical portraits of places people and society The chapters demonstrate that all texts project a worldview even when the content appears to be only a physical description of the external world The implication is that texts attempt to produce specific effects on the reader determined by the author's worldview Contents and effects namely mental and emotional states behaviours are thus inseparable Identifying those effects and how they are produced is an eminently cognitive operation The chapters analyse a variety of linguistic devices and cognitive mechanisms employed in producing the text and accounting for the effects achieved Though the majority of the chapters have a cognitive basis a wide range of methodologies are employed including ecostylistics offering cutting edge theoretical approaches teamed up with close reading A further crucial feature of this collection is the selection of non canonical texts ranging from lesser known texts in English to significant works in languages other than English all of which are characterised by important social themes thus emphasising the importance of critical appreciation as a means of self empowerment

Narratology Susana Onega,Jose Angel Garcia Landa,2014-09-19 This text provides an excellent introduction and overview of Narratology a rapidly growing field in the humanities Literary narratologists have provided many key concepts and analytical tools which are widely used in the interdisciplinary analysis of such narrative features as plot point of view speech presentation ideological perspective and interpretation The introduction explains the central concepts of narratology their historical development and draws together contemporary trends from many different disciplines into common focus It offers a compendium of the development of narratology from classical poetics to the present The essays are all prefaced by individual forewords helping the reader to place each individual selection in context Recent developments are assessed across disciplines highlighting the mutual influences of narratology and deconstruction psychoanalysis feminism film and media studies      Time patterns in Later Dickens Sultana K. Maglavera, 2022-06-08 This study offers a series of readings of Dickens's later novels Bleak House Hard Times Little Dorrit A Tale of Two Cities Great Expectations and Our Mutual Friend. The discussions of the novels assume the basic distinction between the arrangement of events in their chronological order story and their arrangement in the narrative plot and are based on Genette's classifications of the various types of anachronies as well as on the more functionally oriented categories of anachronies. I myself suggest. The temporal organization of the narratives in upsetting the sequential order of events in specific ways invites reflection on the very nature of the notion of causality which in turn is related to two interconnected ideas that truth is not always to be found by logical reasoning and that appearances do not necessarily convey the truth. Closely related to these ideas is a Christian attitude towards time both linear and circular forms of time are subsumed and at the same time re-formulated within a Christian vision of time informed by the basic human feelings of love and compassion      Shakespeare and Contemporary Theory Neema Parvini, 2012-11-08 A complete critical introduction to New Historicist and Cultural Materialist approaches that have dominated contemporary Shakespeare theory as well as alternative new directions

Possible Worlds Theory and Contemporary Narratology Alice Bell, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2019 The notion of possible worlds has played a decisive role in postclassical narratology by awakening interest in the nature of fictionality and in emphasizing the notion of world as a source of aesthetic experience in narrative texts. As a theory concerned with the opposition between the actual world that we belong to and possible worlds created by the imagination, possible worlds theory has made significant contributions to narratology. Possible Worlds Theory and Contemporary Narratology updates the field of possible worlds theory and postclassical narratology by developing this theoretical framework further and applying it to a range of contemporary literary narratives. This volume systematically outlines the theoretical underpinnings of the possible worlds approach, provides updated methods for analyzing fictional narrative and profiles those methods via the analysis of a range of different texts including contemporary fiction, digital fiction, video games, graphic novels, historical narratives and dramatic texts. Through the variety of its contributions including those by three originators of the subject area, Lubomir Doležel, Thomas Pavel and Marie-Laure Ryan, Possible Worlds Theory and Contemporary Narratology demonstrates the vitality and versatility of one of the most vibrant strands of contemporary narrative theory      Pronouns in Literature Alison Gibbons, Andrea Macrae, 2018-01-04 This edited collection brings together an international interdisciplinary group of scholars who together offer cutting edge insights into the complex roles, functions and effects of pronouns in literary texts. The book engages with a range of text types including poetry, drama and prose from different periods and regions in English and in translation. Beginning with analyses of the first person pronoun, it moves onto studies of the subject dynamics of first and second person before considering plural modes of narration and how pronoun use can help to disperse narrative perspective. The volume then debates the functional constraints of pronouns in fictional contexts and finally reflects upon the theoretical advancements presented in the collection This innovative volume will appeal to students and scholars of linguistics stylistics and cognitive poetics narratology theoretical and applied linguistics psychology and literary criticism Other Followers of Jesus Joel Williams,1994-06-01 The Gospel of Mark includes a series of similar episodes in which he presents minor characters and their response to Jesus These individuals are neither disciples nor opponents of Jesus but rather people who are drawn in a broad sense from the crowd Mark presents these characters either as suppliants or as those who exemplify a proper response to Jesus and his way The purpose of this narrative study is to explore the effect of Mark s presentation of minor characters on the reader It traces Mark s treatment of these individuals through the narrative and shows how Mark s presentation of minor characters moves the reader toward an acceptance of the demands of following Jesus Sweet Reason Susan Wells,1996-07-15 In Sweet Reason Susan Wells presents a rhetorical model for understanding the diverse discourses of modernity Wells describes modernity as a system of texts which we are only now learning to read In order to comprehend how these texts organize our world she argues we must grasp how reason and desire interact to create meaning To this end Wells offers a rhetoric based on an understanding of meaning as intersubjectivity created through the work of language Wells elaborates this rhetoric of intersubjectivity by drawing on both J rgen Habermas s concept of communicative rationality and on Jacques Lacan s theory of desire affirming the significance of reason and desire for rhetorical studies From scientific articles to classroom altercations contemporary government hearings to Maigne s Essays Wells organizes several using rhetoric as an art and she shows how rhetoric operates in practice Susan Wells is associate professor of English at Temple University Fictional Discourse and Historical Space Andrew Wright,1987-02-16 Truth and Wonder Robert Eaglestone,2021-11-22 Truth and Wonder is an accessible introduction to Plato and Aristotle showing their crucial influence for literary and cultural studies modern languages and related disciplines It focusses on both what Plato and Aristotle say about literature and how they say it and so demonstrates the ways their philosophies still shape our reading thinking and living In the clear and engaging style for which he has become known Robert Eaglestone uses Plato and Aristotle s literary qualities to explain their thought He presents Plato s ideas through the metaphors stories and style of his dialogues and Aristotle s ideas through the significance of narrative Truth and Wonder draws on a wide range of thinkers including Hannah Arendt Martin Heidegger Jacques Derrida and Martha Nussbaum and a number of canonical writers including Phillip Sidney Percy Shelley Ng g wa Thiong o and Iris Murdoch with examples that will be familiar to students The ideas of Plato and Aristotle underlie much of Western culture continue to inspire contemporary literary and philosophical work and shape the case for the central importance of the humanities today Truth and Wonder is essential reading for students and researchers in the study of literature theory and criticism as well as for those wishing to understand the foundations of the field It will also be of interest to those studying philosophy classics and political theory Its accessible style and approach also mean it s a perfect starting point for any literary minded person who wants to know more about these two
