Making Strange Herbert Grabes, 2008-01-01 This compact indispensable overview answers a vexed question Why do so many works of modern and postmodern literature and art seem designed to appear strange and how can they still cause pleasure in the beholder To help overcome the initial barrier caused by this strangeness the general reader is given an initial non technical description of the aesthetic of the strange as it is experienced in the reading or viewing process There follows a broad survey of modern and postmodern trends illustrating their staggering variety and making plain the manifold methods and strategies adopted by writers and artists to make it strange The book closes with a systematic summary of the theoretical underpinnings of the aesthetic of the strange focussing on the ways in which it differs from both the earlier aesthetic of the beautiful and the aesthetic of the sublime It is made amply clear that the strangeness characteristic of modern and postmodern art has ushered in an entirely new third kind of aesthetic one that has undergone further transformation over the past two decades Beyond its usefulness as a practical introduction to the aesthetic of the strange the present study also takes up the most recent cutting edge aspects of scholarly debate while initiates are offered an original approach to the theoretical implications of this seminal phenomenon

Grasping Truth and Reality Donald Le Roy Stults, 2008-08-01 When Lesslie Newbigin returned to Britain in 1974 after years of missionary service he observed that his homeland was as much a mission field as India where he had spent the majority of his missionary career He concluded that the Western world needed a missionary confrontation Instead of the traditional approach to missions however Newbigin realized that the Western world needed to be confronted theologically From his earliest days at Cambridge University Newbigin developed certain theological convictions that shaped his understanding of the Christian faith Newbigin utilizes these theological convictions as criteria for evaluating the belief system of Western culture and for providing an answer to Western culture s dilemma It is Newbigin s contention that the West is suffering from a loss of purpose because at the time of the Enlightenment it rejected a belief system that gave it purpose This was also a belief system that made it uniquely different from the rest of the world particularly Asia The Enlightenment reintroduced humanism and dualism into Western culture which resulted in the loss of purpose and the rise of skepticism Modern science and the scientific method in the form of scientism added to the problem making human reason the measure of truth and limiting facts to only that which could be verified through controlled experiment Newbigin s solution is to reintroduce the Christian belief system into Western culture in order to restore purpose and truth to Westerners and to put them into contact with true reality through Jesus Christ He desires to do this in the context of both modernism and post modernism This book will discuss Newbigin s theological convictions and how they factored into both his critique of and his solution for Western culture s spiritual and worldview problems
