Butler,2012-02-20 For nearly two decades Television Critical Methods and Applications has served as the foremost guide to television studies Designed for the television studies course in communication and media studies curricula Television explains in depth how television programs and commercials are made and how they function as producers of meaning Author Jeremy G Butler shows the ways in which camera style lighting set design editing and sound combine to produce meanings that viewers take away from their television experience He supplies students with a whole toolbox of implements to disassemble television and read between the lines teaching them to incorporate critical thinking into their own television viewing The fourth edition builds upon the pedagogy of previous editions to best accommodate current modes of understanding and teaching television Highlights of the fourth edition include New chapter and part organization to reflect the current approach to teaching television with greatly expanded methods and theories chapters An entirely new chapter on modes of production and their impact on what you see on the screen Discussions integrated throughout on the latest developments in television s on going convergence with other media such as material on transmedia storytelling and YouTube s impact on video distribution Over three hundred printed illustrations including new and better quality frame grabs of recent television shows and commercials A companion website featuring color frame grabs a glossary flash cards and editing and sound exercises for students as well as PowerPoint presentations sample syllabi and other materials for instructors Links to online videos that support examples in the text are also provided With its distinctive approach to examining television Television is appropriate for courses in television studies media criticism and general critical studies     Second Takes Andrew Repasky McElhinney,2013-09-28 Second Takes presents the history of English language cinema by focusing on cinematic remakes and on how cinema has been replaced by new forms of media Remakes with their innate plurality offer the most substance for concentrated cultural analysis of how movies reflect and shape American culture Analyzing the archetypes that recur in this culture reveals how movies are an increasingly dangerous surrogate for the actual Close readings are presented of such works as popular favorites as Cronenberg's Crash, Disney's The Parent Trap, Ferrara's Bad Lieutenant, Hitchcock's Psycho, Kubrick's A Clockwork Orange, Lynch's Twin Peaks, the film and Welles' The Magnificent Ambersons while unearthing pictures ripe for rediscovery such as One More Tomorrow, Strange Illusion and Andy Warhol's Vinyl. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Excavating Indiana Jones Randy Laist, 2020-04-16 With his signature bullwhip and fedora, the rousing sounds of his orchestral anthem and his eventful explorations into the arcana of world religions, Indiana Jones, archeologist, adventurer, and ophiophobe, has become one of the most recognizable heroes of the big screen. Since his debut in the 1981 film Raiders of the Lost Ark, Indiana Jones has gone on to anchor several sequels and a fifth film is currently in development. At the same time, the character has spilled out into multiple multimedia manifestations and has become a familiar icon within the collective cultural imagination. Despite the longevity and popularity of the Indiana Jones franchise, however, it has rarely been the focus of sustained criticism. In Excavating Indiana Jones, a collection of international scholars analyzes Indiana Jones tales from a variety of perspectives, examining the film's representation of history, cultural politics, and identity and also tracing the adaptation of the franchise into comic books, video games, and theme park attractions.

Production Design in the Contemporary American Film Beverly Heisner, 2004-01-16 While the viewer's eyes are trained on the actors, the production design sets the mood for the film. The design also subtly comments on the action and the characters, moves the plot forward, and adds to its symbolic content. The production design of 23 films of the 1980s and 1990s is analyzed here. The films are divided into five areas: realistic films set in the present day, stylized films including horror set in the present day, period films that move through several decades, and science fiction and fantasy films. Among the movies analyzed are The Silence of the Lambs, She's Got to Have It, The Fisher King, Ragtime, Barton Fink, Goodfellas, and Alien. The quality of the designs is assessed by a careful reading of the mise en scène. Often the designers' own words are used to describe the effects and the process involved in achieving them.
