New Polymer Sources

A decorative pattern consisting of a grid of purple circles of varying sizes, arranged in a way that creates a sense of depth and texture. The circles are arranged in a grid that is 10 columns wide and 6 rows high. The circles in the first row are the smallest, and they gradually increase in size towards the bottom row. The circles in the first column are the smallest, and they gradually increase in size towards the rightmost column. The circles in the bottom row are the largest, and they are arranged in a way that they appear to be overlapping the circles in the row above them. The circles in the rightmost column are the largest, and they are arranged in a way that they appear to be overlapping the circles in the column to their left. The circles in the bottom row and rightmost column are arranged in a way that they appear to be overlapping the circles in the row above them and the column to their left, respectively.
