The Pragmeme of Accommodation: The Case of Interaction around the Event of Death Vahid

Parvaresh, Alessandro Capone, 2017-06-02 This volume brings together a wide array of papers which explore among other things to what extent languages and cultures are variable with respect to the interactions around the event of death Motivated by J L Mey's idea of the pragmeme a situated speech act the volume has both theoretical and practical implications for scholars working in different fields of enquiry As the papers in this volume reveal despite the terminological differences between various disciplines the interactions around the event of death serve to provide solace not only to the dying but also to the family and friends of the deceased thus helping them to accommodate to the new state of affairs

Encyclopedia of Death & Human Experience Clifton D. Bryant, Dennis L. Peck, 2009-07-15 This two volume

Encyclopedia through multidisciplinary and international contributions and perspectives organizes defines and clarifies more than 300 death related concepts

Psychosocial Interventions in End-of-Life Care Peggy Sturman Gordon, 2015-11-19 The concept of a good death has been hotly debated in medical circles for decades This volume delves into the possibility and desirability of a good death by presenting the psychosocial measures of care as a crucial component such as religion existentialism hope and meaning making The volume also focuses on oncologic psychiatry and the influence of technology as a means to alleviate pain and suffering and potentially provide relief to those at the end of life Such initiatives are aimed at diminishing pain and are socially bolstering and emotionally comforting to ensure a peaceful closure with life as opposed to a battle waged Utilizing the most recent information from medical journals and books to present the latest on healthcare and dying today this volume crosses the boundaries of thanatology psychology religion spirituality medical ethics and public health

Death, Life and Laughter Mathew Guest, Martha Middlemiss Lé Mon, 2016-11-25 Birth death and the rituals that take us from one to the other tell us a lot about humanity and our quest to understand ourselves It is cross disciplinary analyses of the life course that have generated the most profound insights into religion and spirituality challenging the concepts and methods we commonly use to understand these universal aspects of human experience Douglas Davies work is a rare example of this kind of scholarship challenging the boundaries that separate theology from the social sciences and that divide academia from public life This book serves as a tribute to Davies work and a critical commentary on the questions that arise from it Featuring essays by renowned international scholars this book brings cutting edge research into conversation with ongoing debates about disciplinary difference and the nature of scholarship From Dust to Ashes P. Jupp, 2005-12-15

Seventy per cent of British families now choose cremation for their funerals a rapid change in traditional death customs This is the first book to investigate why cremation replaced burial It examines the political religious economic and social reasons behind personal choice and sets them in a European context This study is doubly timely with the expanding scholarly interest in death studies and the new media interest in the British way of death Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood Catalina Florina Florescu, 2013-10-29

Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood presents the accounts of mothers who have suffered a major physical and or psychically traumatic accident and as a consequence their minds and bodies have been drastically changed They live under the pressure of having discovered the alter ego of their traumatized personality and now distressed cannot embrace their unconditional maternal love Instead they enter into a phase where they face the challenge of revealing who they are as persons before accepting or motivating themselves as mothers The mothers presented in this volume also seem to have another thing in common their transnational fluid female identity as they enter into an imaginary dialog that transcends geographical and temporal perspectives on womanhood and motherhood This collection introduces and analyzes recurrent words that define a woman s body and mind today fear competition motherhood and career rights selfishness ambition destruction distance and identity By using unprecedented comparative critical approaches such as phenomenological medical feminist and re enchantinent theories and by analyzing works from literature cinema and visual arts this collection attempts to reestablish and redefine a canonical concept with the intention to revitalize an otherwise taken for granted image and role

Death Mario Erasmo, 2021-03-25 Personal and yet utterly universal inevitable and yet unknowable death has been a dominant theme in all cultures since earliest times Different societies address death and the act of dying in culturally diverse ways yet remarkably across the span of several millennia we can recognize in the customs of ancient Greece and Rome ceremonies and rituals that have enduring present day resonance For example preparing the corpse of the deceased holding a memorial service the practice of cremation and of burial in resting places are all liminal processes that can trace their origin to ancient practices Such rites described by Cicero and Herodotus among others have defined traditional modern funerals Yet of late there has been a shift away from classical ritual and sombre memorialization as the dead are transformed into spectacles Ad hoc roadside shrines virtual burials online guest books and even jazz memorial processions and firework displays have come to the fore as new modes of marking even celebrating bereavement What is causing this change and how do urbanisation economic factors and the rise of individualism play a part Mario Erasmio creatively explores the nexus between classical and contemporary approaches to dying death and interment From theme funerals in St Louis to Etruscan sarcophagi he offers a rich and insightful discussion of finitude across the ages

Death and Survival in the Book of Job Dan Mathewson,2006-06-05 The Book of Job functions as literature of survival where the main character Job deals with the trauma of suffering attempts to come to terms with a collapsed moral and theological world and eventually re connects the broken pieces of his world into a new moral universe which explains and contains the trauma of his recent experiences and renders his life meaningful again The key is Job s death imagery In fact with its depiction of death in the prose tale and its frequent discussions of death in the poetic sections Job may be the most death oriented book in the bible In particular Job in his speeches articulates his experience of suffering as the experience of death To help understand this focus on death in Job we turn to the psychohistorian Robert Lifton who investigates the effects on the human psyche of various traumatic experiences wars natural disasters etc According to Lifton survivors of disaster often sense that their world has collapsed and they engage in a struggle to go on living Part of this struggle involves finding meaning in death and locating death s place in the continuity of life Like many such survivors Job s understanding of death is a flashpoint indicating his bewilderment or desymbolization in the early portions of his speeches and then later on his arrival at what Lifton calls resymbolization the reconfiguration of a world that can account for disaster and render death and life meaningful again Researching Death, Dying and Bereavement Erica Borgstrom,Julie Ellis,Kate Woodthorpe,2018-10-22

This book examines research on death dying and bereavement and how our approaches perceptions and expectations shapes what we can know about the end of life The contributions include personal and professional reflections and practical suggestions for conducting research in this field The volume stems from the resurgence of the international and interdisciplinary study of death in the last 20 years Within this empirical research is often viewed as sensitive but little has been written about the experience of conducting research in this area There has thus been little reflection on the opportunities and challenges faced in undertaking research as the field of death studies grows including the accommodation and recognition of cultural differences This volume seeks to in part address this gap The chapters in this book were originally published in the Mortality journal and the Death Studies journal The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Death and Burial

Sarah Tarlow,Liv Nilsson Stutz,2013-06-06 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Death and Burial reviews the current state of mortuary archaeology and its practice highlighting its often contentious place in the modern socio politics of archaeology It contains forty four chapters which focus on the history of the discipline and its current scientific techniques and methods Written by leading international scholars in the field it derives its examples and case studies from a wide range of time periods such as the middle palaeolithic to the twentieth century and geographical areas which include Europe North and South America Africa and Asia Combining up to date knowledge of relevant archaeological research with critical assessments of the theme and an evaluation of future research trajectories it draws attention to the social symbolic and theoretical aspects of interpreting mortuary archaeology The volume is well illustrated with maps plans photographs and illustrations and is ideally suited for students and researchers Natural Burial Douglas Davies,Hannah

Rumble,2012-07-26 From the 1990s the British developed an interest in natural burial also known as woodland green or ecological burial Natural burial constitutes part of a long historical legacy for British funeral innovation from Victorian cemetery monuments and garden cemeteries through the birth and rise of cremation to the many things done with cremated remains The book sets natural burial in the context of such creative dealing with death grief mourning and the celebration of life Themes from sociology and anthropology combine with psychological issues and theological ideas to show how human emotions take shape and help people consider their own death whilst also dealing with the death of those they love The authors explore the variety of motivations for people to engage with natural burial and its popular appeal using interviews with people having a relationship with one natural burial site created by the Church of England but open to all They illustrate people s understandings of life and death in the sacred secular and mixed worlds of modern Britain Death and Dying in the Working Class, 1865-1920 Michael K. Rosenow,2015-04-15 Michael K Rosenow investigates working people s beliefs rituals of dying and the politics of death by honing in on three overarching questions How did workers their families and their communities experience death Did various identities of class race gender and religion coalesce to form distinct cultures of death for working people And how did people s attitudes toward death reflect notions of who mattered in U S society Drawing from an eclectic array of sources ranging from Andrew Carnegie to grave markers in Chicago s potter s field Rosenow portrays the complex political social and cultural relationships that fueled the United States industrial ascent The result is an undertaking that adds emotional depth to existing history while challenging our understanding of modes of cultural transmission The Routledge International Handbook of Goffman Studies Michael Hviid Jacobsen,Greg

Smith,2022-06-29 This book explores the fertility and enigma of Erving Goffman s sociological reasoning and its capacity to shed fresh light on the fundamental features of human sociality Thematically arranged it brings together the work of leading scholars of Goffman s work to explore the concepts and themes that define Goffman s analytical preoccupations examining the ways these ideas have shaped significant fields of study and situating Goffman s sociology in comparison to some eminent thinkers often linked with his name Through a series of chapters informed by the same inventive and imaginative spirit characteristic of Goffman s sociology the book presents fresh perspectives on his contribution to the field and reveals the value of his thought for a variety of disciplines now increasingly aware of the importance of Goffman s sociology to a range of social phenomena A fresh perspective on the legacy of one of sociology s most important figures The Routledge International Handbook of Goffman Studies will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in interactionist and micro sociological perspectives Envisaging Death Michele Aaron, 2014-07-18 Envisaging Death Visual Culture and Dying enters the expanding field of Death Studies and connects some of its key interpretive frameworks such as issues of internment practice trauma or end of life care to visual culture and more than that to visual culture's socio political geographic and aesthetic specificities Where the prevailing picture of death within this field is as a Western experience framed by its denial on one side and its sensationalism on the other this collection confronts the specifics of death's marginalisation its experience as local rather than universal and the precise relationship between the context and the cultural mediation of death Who and where you are which part of the world you live in whether you are famous or wealthy subject to natural catastrophe civil unrest or high tech healthcare has enormous influence on how your death is marked imaged and imagined As such this book addresses the socio cultural factors permeating and styling the visual and inevitably material treatment of death and dying in a broad array of personal and national settings Advanced society has been characterised by an increased distancing of death from the everyday and its distortion or invisibility within the public sphere The essays collected here return some shape and context and geo politics to the treatment of death and dying within contemporary culture and specifically within contemporary visual culture which provides an ever more dominating forum for society's depiction of and dealings with death Charting important new interdisciplinary terrain scholars and practitioners from a wide range of fields address an assortment of cultural mediations of real fictional or fictionalised death They navigate in different ways the fraught policed but always relative distance between the living and the dead which characterises these mediations a distance which works inevitably to reassure and re secure those supposedly untouched by death and dying Envisaging Death whether through discussion of the cemetery landscape the still or moving image the therapeutic or educational art practice addresses how such a distance is reinforced It also crucially explores countless cases of and increasing possibilities for the disruption of this distance With the various crises of current times be they economic environmental or regional such possibilities for this disruption and the altered dynamics of human connection that they represent can only gain in significance Corpse Care Cody J. Sanders, Mikeal C. Parsons, 2023-01-03 Corpse Care relates the history of death care in the U S to craft robust constructive practical ethics for tending the dead It specifically relates corpse care to economic environmental and pastoral concerns Death and the treatment of the dead body loom large in our collective cultural consciousness The authors explore the materiality and meaning of the dead body and the living's relationship to it All the biggest questions facing the planetary human community relate in one way or another to the corpse Surprisingly Christian communities are largely missing in the discussion of the dead having abdicated the historic role in care for the dead to the funeral industry Christianity has stopped its reflection about the body once that body no longer bears life Corpse Care stakes a claim that the fact of embodiment this incarnational truth this process of our bodily becoming is a practical ethical and theological necessity Representing Death in the News F. Hanusch, 2010-08-11 This new study maps and synthesizes existing research on the ways in which journalism deals with death Folker Hanusch provides a historical overview of death in the news looks at the conditions of production content and reception and also analyzes emerging trends in the representation of death online

The Evolution of the British Funeral Industry in the 20th Century Brian Parsons, 2018-03-28 This book examines the shifts that have taken place in the funeral industry since 1900 focusing on the figure of the undertaker and exploring how organizational change and attempts to gain recognition as a professional service provider saw the role morph into that of funeral director
