Stanley,2021-08-21 In October 1888 the Welsh American explorer Henry Stanley started his African expedition to rescue the colonial governor Emin Pasha whose colony in Eastern Sudan was burning with a revolt

Stanley's expedition was tired and in search of food he sent a couple of his team members to the closest village. They came back with a couple of locals whose sight was different from other African tribes. That was one of the first encounters with pigmies, an ancient African known from Homer's Illiad. The presented book is an accurate account of Stanley's travel into the depths of Africa and his discoveries. The Last Expedition Daniel Liebowitz, Charles Pearson, 2005.

Henry Morton Stanley undertook the greatest African expedition of the 19th century to rescue Emin Pasha, last lieutenant of the martyred General Gordon and governor of the southern Sudan. Instead of ten months the trip took three years and cost the lives of thousands of people as Stanley's column hacked its way across the last great unexplored territory in Africa. Stanley's secret agenda was territorial expansion on the model of Leopold's Congo or the British East India Company. Race to Fashoda David Levering Lewis, 2001-12.

David Levering Lewis is the Martin Luther King Jr Professor of History at Rutgers University and was recently awarded a MacArthur Fellowship. W. E. B. Du Bois Biography of a Race 1868-1919 received the Bancroft, Parkman and Pulitzer Prizes and was a finalist for the National Book Award and National Book Critics Circle Award. Imperialism and the Anti-Imperialist Mind Lewis Samuel Feuer, 1989-01-01.

In this major work Lewis S. Feuer examines critical distinctions between progressive and regressive imperialism. He explores causes of anti-imperial ideologies, noting that unlike the spoliation that took place under regressive Tartar, Spanish and Nazi colonizations, civilization flourished during the progressive imperialism of Hellenic, Macedonian, Roman and modern British eras of empire building. Feuer holds that it is erroneous to blame the relative backwardness of colonial peoples on the imperialism of Western democratic nations. In case after case the character of colonial rulers determined economic development and democratic reform alike. Pursuing the theme of progress versus regression, Feuer compares the imperialism of the United States with that of the Soviet Union to the detriment of the latter in nearly every instance. His effort constitutes nothing short of a fundamentally new perspective on the lessons of modern history and the mistakes of modern analysts of international affairs. Feuer opens as well a new chapter in political psychology with his study of such anti-imperialist intellectuals as Hobson, Morel and Leonard Woolf. His portrait of Emin Pasha, the heroic Jewish governor of Equatorial Sudan, suggests a living model for Conrad's Lord Jim. Hearings United States Congress Senate, 1936.

The Story of Emin's Rescue as Told in Stanley's Letters Henry Morton Stanley, 1890.

Great African Travellers William Henry Giles Kingston, Charles Rathbone Low, 1890.

Emin Pasha, His Life and Work Emin Pasha, 1898.

Travellers in Africa Timothy Youngs, 2017-03-01.

Works of travel have been the subject of increasingly sophisticated studies in recent years. This book undermines the conviction with which nineteenth-century British writers talked about darkest Africa. It places the works of travel within the rapidly developing dynamic of Victorian imperialism. Images of Abyssinia and the means of communicating those images changed in response to social developments in Britain. As bourgeois values became increasingly important in the nineteenth century and technology advanced, the distance between the consumer and the product were justified by the scorn of African ways of eating. The book argues that the ambiguities and ambivalence of the travellers are revealed in their relation to a range of objects and commodities mentioned in narratives For instance beads occupy the dual role of currency and commodity The book deals with Henry Morton Stanley s expedition to relieve Emin Pasha and attempts to prove that racial representations are in large part determined by the cultural conditions of the traveller s society By looking at Joseph Conrad s Heart of Darkness it argues that the text is best read as what it purports to be a kind of travel narrative Only when it is seen as such and is regarded in the context of the fin de siecle can one begin to appreciate both the extent and the limitations of Conrad s innovativeness
