Nudes 1st Edition:

Nude Siren Peter Richards, 2003-05-01 New poems from the award winning author of Oubliette Naked Moon
Domenic Stansberry, 2025-08-22 Edgar Award winner Domenic Stansberry is one of the most talented crime novelists working today His novels are dark lyrical and widely acclaimed and Naked Moon is no exception as it captures the sense of dread paranoia and quiet despair that cling to a man and a part of a city living on borrowed time Set in San Francisco in the crumbling vestiges of Italian North Beach Domenic Stansberry's latest novel plunges once again into the noir underworld of Dante Mancuso This new installment of Stansberry's critically acclaimed series Naked Moon unearths a past Mancuso had hoped to escape Before becoming a private investigator Dante worked for a secret corporate security firm known simply as the company that prized effectiveness over legality When Dante left it was not on good terms So he made sure to take enough inside information to keep himself safe from reprisal Dante however has his own secrets for example he doesn't ask his cousin Gary questions about how he keeps the family warehousing business the one where Dante is a silent partner in the black while everyone else's has failed When SFPD Detective Leanora Chin starts asking questions Gary turns to the company for help which they're willing to provide so long as Dante agrees to settle his past debts by doing them one last favor the type of favor that could drag him under for good Nude Walker Bathsheba Monk, 2011-03-01 I think the most beautiful things in the world are things in flux says Kat Warren Bineki the heroine of Nude Walker Everything about Kat's world is in flux She hails from Warrenside Pennsylvania a once prosperous town named after her mother's family With the death of the steel industry Warrenside has fallen on hard times when its economy falters Kat and her parents are among the few citizens still eking out a living there And then there's Kat's love life As the young beautiful granddaughter of a proud old guard industrialist she has plenty of suitors and a longtime boyfriend certainly she has no business falling in love with Max Asad After all Max is the aloof only son of a newly arrived Lebanese entrepreneur who despite the resistance of Warrenside's traditionalists has bought up most of its dilapidated downtown and is trying to get it off life support But when Max and Kat return from Afghanistan where both served with the National Guard they share a series of intriguing encounters and soon neither can deny that their romance has changed them Kat forfeits her social standing by declaring love for a bitterly resented foreigner and when Max's heart wins out he jeopardizes his father's dreams for a brighter better Warrenside As their families feud sometimes comically sometimes ferociously the old town braces for an epic flood and the city's denizens try frantically to realize their ambitions with love lust insurance fraud hallucinations any means of outrunning their obsolescence Above all Nude Walker is a story of forbidden love seen through the prism of post industrial America Bathsheba Monk writes with flinty wit and warm spirit but she's unlike other writers we know In a voice as true as it is disarming she depicts the kaleidoscopic tensions between generations and cultures As Library Journal said about her Monk makes us see that we are all exiles in a changing world In Nude Walker she offers an unlikely romance about the fantastical myths we

The Naked Neuron Rhawn Joseph, 2013-12-01 In the beginning there was not only life but the ability to communicate and eventually to cooperate among the most basic primeval creatures In The Naked

Neuron Dr Joseph an internationally respected neuroscientist and author of the highly praised The Right Brain and the Unconscious Discovering the Stranger Within takes us on an intriguing journey through time as he traces the evolution of communication and language from the most primitive single celled animals to our earliest ancestors to humans today As he so clearly demonstrates we are linked to all levels of animals in a common bond of sensing feeling and communication Be it singing wolves dancing bees or writhing rock and roll dancers all communicate a treasure chest of meaning in the absence of the spoken word Approximately 700 million years ago a unique type of cell came into being the neuron This naked neuron or nerve cell lacked a protective fatty sheath Still it marked a monumental and world altering development since it would become the building block of the brain The naked neuron generated a revolutionary change resulting in a greater complexity and subtlety of thought Dr Joseph vividly depicts how neurons conferred on early humans advanced powers of mental and sensory acuity including the gift of remembering one's past and contemplating the future Although humans possess much of the same ancient brain tissue as our fellow primates Dr Joseph reveals to us the singular features of the human brain that have enabled humans uniquely to develop complex spoken language He holds us spellbound revealing that although the new and old brain tissue are couched within the same brain each often has difficulty understanding the impulses and language of the other This ground breaking book draws on Dr Joseph's brilliant and original research and theories fusing the latest discoveries made in neuroscience sociobiology and anthropology He illuminates how the languages of the body and brain enhance intuitive understanding and spur a thirst for knowledge for its own sake The human body and brain together are a veritable living museum which contains billions of cells with a long evolutionary history As this unforgettable book shows it is the communication of this panoply of cells the residues of the past merged with the musings of the present that gives rise to life love art science literature and the ceaseless desire to search for and acquire knowledge
