Power Of Words Literacy And Revolution In South China 1949 95:

The Power of Words Glen Peterson, 2011-11-01 This book is a social and political history of the struggle for literacy in rural China from 1949 until 1994 It aims to show how China's revolutionary leaders conceived and promoted literacy in the countryside and how villagers made use of the literacy education and schools they were offered Rather than focusing narrowly on educational issues alone Peterson examines the larger significance of P R C literacy efforts by situating the literacy movement within the broad context of major themes and issues in the social and political history of post 1949 China Following the recent trend toward regional and local history this book focuses on the linguistically diverse socially complex and politically awkward southeastern coastal province of Guangdong As well Peterson conducted interviews with local officials and teachers in several Guangdong counties in 1988 and 1989

Speak Not James Griffiths, 2021-10-21 A New Yorker Best Book of 2022 A Globe Mail Book of the Year A stimulating work on the politics of language LA Review of Books As globalisation continues languages are disappearing faster than ever leaving our planet's linguistic diversity leaping towards extinction The science of how languages are acquired is becoming more advanced and the internet is bringing us new ways of teaching the next generation however it is increasingly challenging for minority languages to survive in the face of a handful of hegemonic super tongues In Speak Not James Griffiths reports from the frontlines of the battle to preserve minority languages from his native Wales Hawaii and indigenous American nations to southern China and Hong Kong He explores the revival of the Welsh language as a blueprint for how to ensure new generations are not robbed of their linguistic heritage outlines how loss of indigenous languages is the direct result of colonialism and globalisation and examines how technology is both hindering and aiding the fight to prevent linguistic extinction Introducing readers to compelling characters and examining how indigenous communities are fighting for their languages Griffiths ultimately explores how languages hang on what happens when they don't and how indigenous tongues can be preserved and brought back from the brink

Legal Lessons Jennifer E. Altehenger, 2020-10-26 The popularization of basic legal knowledge is an important and contested technique of state governance in China today Its roots reach back to the early years of Chinese Communist Party rule Legal Lessons tells the story of how the party state attempted to mobilize ordinary citizens to learn laws during the early years of the Mao period 1949 1976 and in the decade after Mao's death Examining case studies such as the dissemination of the 1950 Marriage Law and successive constitutions since 1954 in Beijing and Shanghai Jennifer Altehenger traces the dissemination of legal knowledge at different levels of state and society Archival records internal publications periodicals advice manuals memoirs and colorful propaganda materials reveal how official attempts to determine and promote correct understanding of written laws intersected with people's interpretations and practical experiences They also show how diverse groups including party state leadership legal experts publishers writers artists and local officials along with ordinary people helped to define the meaning of laws in China's socialist society Placing mass legal education and law propaganda at the center of analysis Legal Lessons offers a new perspective on the sociocultural and political history of law in socialist China

A School in Every Village Elizabeth R. VanderVen, 2012-01-15 In the early 1900s the Qing dynasty implemented a nationwide school system to buttress its power Although the Communists contemporary observers and more recent scholarship have all depicted rural society as feudal and these educational reforms a failure Elizabeth VanderVen draws on untapped archival materials to show that villagers and local officials capably integrated foreign ideas and models into a system that was at once traditional and modern Chinese and Western Her portrait of education reform both challenges received notions about the modernity tradition binary in Chinese history and addresses topics central to debates on modern China including state making and the impact of global ideas on local society

Force and Contention in Contemporary China Ralph Thaxton, 2016-08-08 This book shows how memories of Mao era suffering drive popular resistance to state power in authoritarian China

Diasporic Chineseness After the Rise of China Kam Louie, Julia Kuehn, David M. Pomfret, 2013-11-26 As China rose to its position of global superpower Chinese groups in the West watched with anticipation and trepidation In this volume international scholars examine how artists writers filmmakers and intellectuals from the Chinese diaspora represented this new China to global audiences The chapters often personal in nature focus on the nexus between the political and economic rise of China and the cultural products this period produced where new ideas of nation identity and diaspora were forged

Administering the Colonizer Blaine R. Chiasson, 2011-01-01 Harbin of the 1920s was viewed by Westerners as a world turned upside down The Chinese government had taken over administration of the Russian founded Chinese Eastern Railway concession and its large Russian population This account of the decade long multi ethnic and multinational administrative experiment in North Manchuria reveals that China not only created policies to promote Chinese sovereignty but also instituted measures to protect the Russian minority This multi faceted book is a historical examination of how an ethnic cultural and racial majority coexisted with a minority of a different culture and race It restores to history the multiple national influences that have shaped northern China and Chinese nationalism

Sporting Gender Yunxiang Gao, 2013-05-06 Sporting Gender is the first book to explore the rise to fame of female athletes in China in the early twentieth century Gao shows how these women coped with the conflicting demands of nationalist causes unwanted male attention and modern fame arguing that the athletic female form helped to create a new ideal of modern womanhood in China This book brings vividly to life the histories of these women and demonstrates how intertwined they were with the aims of the state and the needs of society

Art in Turmoil Richard King, Sheng Tian Zheng, Scott Watson, 2010-01-01 Forty years after China s tumultuous Cultural Revolution this book revisits the visual and performing arts of the period the paintings propaganda posters political cartoons sculpture folk arts private sketchbooks opera and ballet and examines what these vibrant militant often gaudy images meant to artists their patrons and their audiences at the time and what they mean now both in their original forms and as revolutionary icons reworked for a new market oriented age Chapters by scholars of

Chinese history and art and by artists whose careers were shaped by the Cultural Revolution offer new insights into works that have transcended their times Beyond the Amur Victor Zatsapine, 2017-03-09 Beyond the Amur describes the distinctive frontier society that emerged in the Amur a river region that shifted between Qing China and Imperial Russia as the two empires competed for resources Official histories depict the Amur as a distant battleground caught between rival empires Zatsapine by contrast views it as a unified natural economy populated by Chinese Russian Indigenous Japanese Korean Manchu and Mongol people who crossed the border in search of work or trade and who came together to survive a harsh physical environment This colourful account of a region and its people highlights the often overlooked influence of frontier developments on state politics and imperial policies and histories Beyond Suffering James Flath, Norman

Smith, 2011-04-13 China was afflicted by a brutal succession of conflicts through much of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Yet there has never been clear understanding of how wartime suffering has defined the nation and shaped its people In Beyond Suffering a distinguished group of Chinese historians draws on often fragmentary accounts of nearly forgotten incidents to piece together the multiple fronts social institutional and cultural on which wars have been fought experienced and remembered From the Blagoveshchensk Massacre to the trials of the Jiangxi Number One Children's Home these accounts of war inflicted suffering bring us closer to understanding war and militarism in China Intoxicating Manchuria Norman Smith, 2012-08-28 Intoxicating Manchuria reveals how the powerful alcohol and opium industries in Northeast China were altered by warlord rule Japanese occupation political conflict and a vigorous anti intoxicant movement Through the lens of the Chinese media's depictions of alcohol and opium Norman Smith examines how intoxicants and addiction were understood in this society the role the Japanese occupation of Manchuria played in the portrayal of intoxicants and the efforts made to reduce opium and alcohol consumption This is the first English language book length study to focus on alcohol use in modern China and the first dealing with intoxicant restrictions in the region Keeping the Nation's House Helen M. Schneider, 2011-03-01 The term home economics often conjures images of sterile classrooms where girls learn to cook dinner and swaddle dolls far removed from the seats of power Helen Schneider unsettles this assumption by revealing how Chinese women helped to build a nation one family at a time From the 1920s to the early 1950s home economists transformed the most fundamental of political spaces the home by teaching women to nurture ideal families and manage projects of social reform Although their discipline came undone after 1949 it created a legacy of gendered professionalism and reinforced the idea that leaders should shape domestic rituals of the people Understanding Literacy in Its Historical Contexts Harvey J. Graff, Alison Mackinnon, Bengt Sandin, Ian Winchester, 2009-01-10 In this detailed study of the history of universal literacy in Sweden a group of renowned scholars review and explore the possibilities for the wider circulation and broader application of central dimensions of the early literacy studies expounding upon the work of the Swedish Lutheran pastor and pioneering social historian Egil Johansson Working initially with parish registers especially examination registers from northern Sweden Johansson discovered the extraordinary usefulness of these documents to determine how literacy in Sweden occurred well before any other European nation despite the fact that Sweden was industrialized about 100 years later than the European norm Egil Johansson also developed imaginative data analysis techniques that help historians around the world to better picture the complete human cast of the past With the help of numerous contributors Johansson founded a giant database of church records and other information which now can help the understanding of preindustrial society Johansson's work spans over many aspects of literacy and social history and their respective relation to religion and gender

Chieftains Into Ancestors David Faure, Ts'ui-p'ing Ho, 2013 Chieftains into Ancestors describes the intersection of imperial administration and chieftain dominated local culture in the culturally diverse southwestern region of China Contemplating the rhetorical question of how one can begin to rewrite the story of a conquered people whose past was never transcribed in the first place the authors combine anthropological fieldwork with historical textual analysis to build a new regional history

Eating Bitterness Kimberley Ens Manning, Felix Wemheuer, 2011-01-01 When the Chinese Communist Party assumed power Mao Zedong declared that not even one person shall die of hunger A little over a decade later China was in the midst of the most devastating famine in modern history Between 1957 and 1962 the years commonly associated with Mao's Great Leap Forward some 30 million peasants died of starvation and exhaustion Rather than exploring why party leaders stumbled so badly in their attempts to modernize China the contributors to this landmark collection draw on newly available sources to show how men and women in rural and urban settings experienced the changes during this period Eating Bitterness lifts the curtain of officially propagated images of mass mobilization to expose the uneven and deeply contested nature of state society relations in Maoist China It also illuminates the role that history writing and memory have played in shaping narratives of the recent past

Smokeless Sugar Emily M. Hill, 2010-10-20 Part history part biography and part mystery story Smokeless Sugar traces the formation of a national economy in China through an intriguing investigation of the 1936 execution of an allegedly corrupt Cantonese official Feng Rui a Western educated agricultural expert introduced modern sugar milling to China in the 1930s as a key component in a provincial investment program Before long however he was accused of colluding with smugglers to pass foreign sugar off as a domestic product Emily Hill makes the case that Feng was in fact a scapegoat in a multi sided power struggle in which political leaders vied with commercial players for access to China's markets and tax revenues

Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King, 2013-01-15 In Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King discusses pivotal works of fiction published under the watchful eye of China's Communist regime between 1945 and 1980 Addressing questions of literary production King looks at how writers dealt with shifting ideological demands what indigenous and imported traditions inspired them and how they were able to depict a utopian Communist future to their readers as the present took a very different turn Early red classics were followed by works featuring increasingly lurid images of joyful socialism and later by fiction exposing the Mao era as an age of irrationality arbitrary rule and suffering a Golden Road that had led to nowhere Banished to the Great Northern Wilderness Ning Wang, 2017-02-10 Following Mao Zedong's Anti Rightist Campaign of 1957-58 Chinese intellectuals were subjected to re education by the state In Banished to the Great Northern Wilderness Ning Wang draws on labour farm archives interviews and memoirs to provide a remarkable look at the suffering and complex psychological world of banished Beijing intellectuals Wang's use of these newly uncovered Chinese language sources challenges the concept of the intellectual as renegade martyr showing how exiles often declared allegiance to the state for self preservation While Mao's campaign victimized the banished many of those same people also turned against their comrades Wang describes the ways in which the state sought to remould the intellectuals and he illuminates the strategies the exiles used to deal with camp officials and improve their chances of survival Empire and Environment in the Making of Manchuria Norman Smith, 2017-02-10 Since the seventeenth century Chinese Japanese Manchu Russian and other imperial forces have defied Manchuria's unrelenting summers and unforgiving winters to fight for sovereignty over the natural resources of Northeast Asia Until now historians have focused on rivalries between the region's imperial invaders Empire and Environment in the Making of Manchuria examines the interplay of climate and competing economic and political interests in the region's vibrant and violent cultural narrative In this unique and compelling analysis of Manchuria's environmental history contributors demonstrate how geography shaped the region's past Families that settled this borderland reaped its riches while at the mercy of an unforgiving and hotly contested landscape As China's strength as a world leader continues to grow this volume invites exploration of the indelible links between empire and environment and shows how the geopolitical future of this global economic powerhouse is rooted in its past
