State Healthcare and Yanomami Transformations José Antonio Kelly, 2011-10-01 Amazonian indigenous peoples have preserved many aspects of their culture and cosmology while also developing complex relationships with dominant non indigenous society Until now anthropological writing on Amazonian peoples has been divided between traditional topics like kinship cosmology ritual and myth on the one hand and the analysis of their struggles with the nation state on the other What has been lacking is work that bridges these two approaches and takes into consideration the meaning of relationships with the state from an indigenous perspective That long standing dichotomy is challenged in this new ethnography by anthropologist Jos Kelly Kelly places the study of culture and cosmology squarely within the context of the modern nation state and its institutions He explores Indian white relations as seen through the operation of a state run health system among the indigenous Yanomami of southern Venezuela With theoretical foundations in the fields of medical and Amazonian anthropology Kelly sheds light on how Amerindian cosmology shapes concepts of the state at the community level The result is a symmetrical anthropology that treats white and Amerindian perceptions of each other within a single theoretical framework thus expanding our understanding of each group and its influences on the other This book will be valuable to those studying Amazonian peoples medical anthropology development studies and Latin America Its new takes on theory and methodology make it ideal for classroom use

The Woman in the Shaman's Body Barbara Tedlock, Ph.D., 2009-09-02 A distinguished anthropologist who is also an initiated shaman reveals the long hidden female roots of the world's oldest form of religion and medicine Here is a fascinating expedition into this ancient tradition from its prehistoric beginnings to the work of women shamans across the globe today Shamanism was not only humankind's first spiritual and healing practice it was originally the domain of women This is the claim of Barbara Tedlock's provocative and myth shattering book Reinterpreting generations of scholarship Tedlock herself an expert in dreamwork divination and healing

State Formation Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2005-09-20 What is the state and how can we best study it This book investigates new ways of analysing the state The contributors argue that the state is not a fixed and definite object Our perceptions of it are constantly changing and differ from person to person What is your idea of the state if you are a refugee Or if you are living in post apartheid South Africa Our perceptions are formed and sustained by evolving discourses and techniques these come from institutions such as government but are also made by communities and individuals The contributors examine how state structures are viewed from the inside by official state bodies composed of bureaucrats and politicians and how these state manifestations are supported reproduced or transformed at a local level An outline of theoretical approaches is followed by nine case studies ranging from South Africa to Peru to Norway With a good range of contributors including Cris Shore Clifton Crais Ana Alonso and Bruce Kapferer this is a comprehensive critical analysis of anthropological approaches to the study of state formation
