Overcoming disabling injuries Vietnam vet Paul Bernard becomes an award winning journalist and television newsman known for holding a mirror to American society Long critical of the radical right after 9 11 Bernard attacks the Bush administration for Osama bin Laden's escape and leading the nation into a disastrous war On assignment in Iraq Bernard is killed under suspicious circumstances Interwoven with the account of his life is an interview of his mentor Professor Augustus F X Flynn by a magazine writer profiling him Frustrated by Washington's inaction the two set out to find the truth about the killing In Book Two Paul Bernard has become an oil expert and a critic of America's Middle East dependency His experiences as a correspondent in Paris and Moscow are related in this Book his coverage of the great year 1989 in Europe the Gulf War Bernard's move to television news is marked by growing clashes with the radical right culminating in his controversial stance against the Iraq War and the dramatic final events of the story Flemish and Dutch Artists in Early Modern England Mary Bryan H. Curd, 2017-07-05

By examining their production practices in a variety of genres including manuscript illustration glass painting and staining tapestry manufacture portrait painting and engraving this book explores how Netherlandish artists migrating to England in the early modern period overcame difficulties raised by their outsider status This study examines for the first time in this context the challenges of alien status to artistic production and the effectiveness of cooperation as a countermeasure The author demonstrates that collaboration was chief among the strategies that these foreigners chose to secure a position in London's changing art market Curd's exploration of these collaborations primarily follows Pierre Bourdieu's model of establishment and challenger in which dominance in a field of cultural production depends upon how much cultural political and economic capital can be accumulated and the effectiveness of the strategies used to confront competition The analysis presented here challenges received opinion that a collaborative work is only a joint effort of artists working together on a single monument by demonstrating that the participation of patrons and middlemen can also shape the final appearance of a work of art Furthermore this book shows that the strategic use of collaboration served the goal of competition by helping to establish foreign artists in the London art market and suggests that their coping strategies have implications for the study of immigrant behaviors today

Monuments of Medieval Art Robert G. Calkins, 1985 This richly illustrated and scholarly study traces the development of art through the Middle Ages from the early Christian catacombs of Italy and the treasures of Sutton Hoo to the masterpieces of Romanesque cathedrals and illuminated manuscripts

European Textiles Christa C. Mayer-Thurman, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2001 This volume catalogues the more than 250 textiles and objects made of fabric that were part of Robert Lehman's bequest to the Metropolitan Museum in 1975 Many of these textiles were used as hangings covers or upholstery to embellish the Lehman's elegant townhouse in Manhattan They represent sixty five years of assembling owning and living with historic fabrics on a day to day basis and they document an American style of living and interior decoration that has largely disappeared Among the highlights of the collection are two series of embroidered roundels from fifteenth century Flanders that illustrate the lives of Saints Martin and Catherine of Alexandria four large tapestries including the Last Supper after Bernaert van Orley that is arguably the finest Renaissance tapestry in an American collection and a number of ecclesiastical vestments and panels of magnificent silks and velvets in an array of techniques and styles that span six centuries Comparative illustrations supplement the catalogue entries Glossary bibliography and index Metropolitan Museum of Art website

Hieronymus Bosch Charles D. Cuttler, 2012-12-31 Professor Charles D. Cuttler changed from artist to art historian at New York University's Institute of Fine Arts studying under distinguished teachers such as Walter Friedlaender and Erwin Panofsky A specialist in Flemish painting he spent the major part of his career teaching at the University of Iowa He published numerous articles reviews and a well known text Northern Painting He lectured on Bosch on three continents and his retirement enabled him to devote time to further research A result is Hieronymus Bosch Late Work This new book presents Cuttler's discoveries on three late triptychs a major trio of Bosch's maturity the Haywain the Lisbon Temptation of St Anthony and the Garden of Earthly Delights He presents Bosch's unique view of Christ and salvation in union with hagiography the Devotio moderna and medieval hermeneutics a revelation of Bosch's immense erudition and overwhelming artistry Bosch reinforced his concepts with supporting casts of animals natural and demonic birds and other iconographic elements Analysis of the Berlin painting of St John the Evangelist's apocalyptic vision of the Virgin Mary the Madrid Seven Deadly Sins tondo and the Vienna drawing of the Tree Man expands our understanding of these themes Other influences affecting Bosch's art such as whether he travelled or whether he used contemporary prints whether he drew upon Dante's Inferno or religious tracts and the attitudes of his ambience are also examined. The final chapter presents the author's understanding of Bosch's religiosity and his genius in his time and place.

Culture and Comfort Katherine Grier, 2013-09-03 In Culture and Comfort Katherine C. Grier shows how the design and furnishings of the mid nineteenth century parlor reflected the self image of the Victorian middle class. Parlors provided public facades for formal occasions and represented an attempt to resolve the often opposing ideals of gentility and sincerity to which American culture aspired. The book traces the fortunes of the parlor and its upholstery from its early incarnations in palace hotels, railroad cars, steamships and photographers studios through its mid century heyday when even remote frontier homes could boast suites of red plush sofas and chairs to its slow uneven metamorphosis into the more versatile living room. The author argues that even as the home increasingly was seen as a haven from industrialization and commercialization its ties to industry and commerce in the form of more affordable machine made furniture and drapery became stronger. By the 1920s the parlor's decline signaled both a blurring of the Victorian distinctions between public and private manners and the transfer of middle class identity from the home to the automobile. Describing the department a parlor required the activities it sheltered and the marketing and manufacturing breakthroughs that made it available to all. Culture and Comfort reveals the full range of cultural messages conveyed by nineteenth century parlor materials.

Courting the Alhambra Cynthia Robinson, Simone Pinet, 2009-02-28 The ceiling paintings in the Hall of Justice of the Alhambra have not received serious scholarly attention for the past thirty years perhaps due to their difficult incorporation into a discrete program of Christian vs Islamic art categories that until recently remained unchallenged themselves. The Alhambra itself continues to elicit the interest of many scholars and several recent interpretations of the function of the Palace of the Lions which houses the paintings have been put forth. This collection brings together art historians, literary critics and historians who suggest new ways of approaching the paintings through their immediate social, historical, architectural and literary contexts proposing a porous and flexible model for the production of culture in Iberia. Contributors are Jerrylin Dodds, Ana Echevarria, Jennifer Borland, Rosa Mar, a Rodriguez, Porto, Oscar Martin, Amanda Luyster, Cynthia Robinson and Simone Pinet.

Medieval Art and Architecture at Durham Cathedral Nicola Coldstream, Peter Draper, 2024-11-01 This book contains fifteen essays that synthesize the documentary and archaeological evidence for the development of early medieval Durham and assess its archaeological potential.
