Pub desc Food Practices in Transition Gert Spaargaren, Peter

Oosterveer, Anne Loeber, 2013-06-17 This edited volume presents and reflects upon empirical evidence of sustainability induced and related transition in food practices The material collected in the various chapters contributes to our understanding of the ways in which ideas and preferences sociotechnological developments and changes in the governance of food interact and become visible in practices of consumption retail and production Food Policy Tim Lang, David Barling, Martin Caraher, 2009-03-19 For over half a century food policy has mapped a path for progress based upon a belief that the right mix of investment scientific input and human skills could unleash a surge in productive capacity which would resolve humanity's food related health and welfare problems It assumed that more food would yield greater health and happiness by driving down prices increasing availability and feeding more mouths In the 21st century this policy mix is quietly becoming unstuck In a world marred by obesity alongside malnutrition climate change alongside fuel and energy crises water stress alongside more mouths to feed and social inequalities alongside unprecedented accumulation of wealth the old rubric of food policy needs re evaluation This book explores the enormity of what the new policy mix must address taking the approach that food policy must be inextricably linked with public health environmental damage and social inequalities to be effective Written by three authors with differing backgrounds one in political science another in environmental health and health promotion and the third in social psychology this book reflects the myriad of perspectives essential to a comprehensive view of modern food policy It attempts to make sense of what is meant by food policy explores whether the term has any currency in current policy discourse assesses whether current policies help or hinder what happens judges whether consensus can triumph in the face of competing bids for understanding looks at all levels of governance across the range of actors in the food system from companies and the state to civil society and science considers what direction food policies are taking not just in the UK but internationally assesses who and what gains or loses in the making of these food policies and identifies a modern framework for judging how good or limited processes of policy making are This book provides a major comprehensive review of current and past food policy thinking and proposing the need for what the authors call an ecological public health approach to food policy Nothing less will be fit for the 21st century

Social Innovation and Sustainability Transition Geoff Desa,Xiangping Jia,2022-11-09 This book uses a historical and modern lens to reimagine the role that Extension could potentially play in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies The establishment of statewide extension systems was once seen as a way to ensure that Land Grant Universities would be accessible and responsive to all of a state s residents Extension systems continue to offer a front door to a major public university in almost every county of the United States but they tend to be viewed primarily as a way to translate science or distribute information from the university to the public This books argues for the importance of Extension and shows that we are conceiving of this system too narrowly Only by retelling the stories of the Extension and getting people to see themselves as part of the story can we imagine a different future in which state universities and land grant colleges engage more authentically and equitably in two way relationships with their local constituents in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies Chapter Palatable disruption the politics of plant milk chapter Feeding the melting pot inclusive strategies for the multi ethnic city chapter A carrot isn t a carrot isn t a carrot tracing value in alternative practices of food exchange chapter Virtualizing the good life reworking narratives of agrarianism and the rural idyll in a computer game and chapter Workable utopias for social change through inclusion and empowerment Community supported agriculture CSA in Wales as social innovation are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International license via link springer com

Geriatric Nutrition John E. Morley,David R. Thomas,2007-05-30 In a vicious cycle poor nutritional health leads to acute and chronic disease and disease states are catastrophic to nutritional health The magnitude of nutritional depletion from any cause depends to a large extent on the nutritional reserves an individual has accumulated over time In our increasingly older population nutritional reserves are

The African Food System and Its Interaction with Human Health and Nutrition Per Pinstруп-Andersen,United Nations University,2010 Hunger malnutrition poor health and deficient food systems are widespread in Sub Saharan Africa While much is known about African food systems and about African health and nutrition our understanding of the interaction between food systems and health and nutrition is deficient Moreover the potential health gains from changes in the food system are frequently overlooked in policy design and implementation The authors of The African Food System and its Interactions with Human Health and Nutrition examine how public policy and research aimed at the food system and its interaction with human health and nutrition can improve the well being of Africans and help achieve the United Nations Millennium Development Goals MDGs Several of the MDGs focus on health related challenges hunger alleviation maternal infant and child mortality the control of HIV AIDS tuberculosis and malaria and the provision of safe water and improved sanitation These challenges are intensified by problems of low agricultural and food system productivity gender inequity lack of basic infrastructure and environmental degradation all of which have direct and indirect detrimental effects on health nutrition and the food system Reflecting the complexity and multidisciplinary nature of these problems and their solutions this book features contributions by world renowned experts in economics agriculture health nutrition food science and demography Contributors Harold Alderman World Bank Christopher B Barrett Cornell University Kathryn J Boor Cornell University Laura K Cramer Cornell University Stuart Gillespie International Food Policy Research Institute Anna Herforth Cornell University Dorothy Nakimbugwe Makerere University Rebecca Nelson Cornell University Onesmo K ole MoiYoi Kenyatta University and Kenya Agricultural Research Institute Per Pinstrup Andersen Cornell University and the University of Copenhagen Marie T Ruel International Food Policy Research Institute David E Sahn Cornell University Barbara Boyle Torrey Population Reference Bureau E Fuller Torrey Stanley Medical Research Institute Joachim von Braun University of Bonn Speciosa Wandira Concave International Derrill D Watson Cornell University

Food Wars Tim Lang, Michael Heasman, 2015-10-16 In the years since publication of the first edition of Food Wars much has happened in the world of food policy This new edition brings these developments fully up to date within the original analytical framework of competing paradigms or worldviews shaping the direction and decision making within food politics and policy The key theme of the importance of integrating human and environmental health has become even more pressing In the first edition the authors set out and brought together the different strands of emerging agendas and competing narratives The second edition retains the same core structure and includes updated examples case studies and the new issues which show how these conflicting tendencies have played out in practice over recent years and what this tells us about the way the global food system is heading Examples of key issues given increased attention include nutrition including the global rise in obesity as well as chronic conditions hunger and under nutrition the environment particularly the challenges of climate change biodiversity loss water stress and food security food industry concentration and market power volatility and uncertainty over food prices and policy responses tensions over food democracy and citizenship social and cultural aspects impacting food and nutrition policies

Urban Food Planning Rositsa T. Ilieva, 2016-09-13 This highly original work examines the rise of the urban food planning movement in the Global North and provides insights into the new relationship between cities and food which has started developing over the past decade It sheds light on cities as new spaces for food system innovation and on food as a tool for sustainable urban development Drawing insights from the literature on socio technical transitions the book presents examples of pioneering urban food planning endeavours from North America and Western Europe especially the Netherlands and the UK These are integrated into a single mosaic helping to uncover the conceptual analytical design and organizational innovations emerging at the interface of food and urban policy and planning The author shows how promising seeds of transition to a shared urban food planning agenda are in the making though the urban food planning niche as a whole still lacks the necessary maturity to lastingly influence mainstream planning practices and the dominant agri food system regime Some of the strategic levers to cope with the current instability and limitations of urban food planning and effectively transition it from a marginal novelty to a normalized domain of policy research and practice are systematically examined to this end The conclusions and recommendations put forward have major implications for scholars activists and public officials seeking to radically transform the co evolution of food cities and the environment

than fifteen countries this volume examines the impact of the double disease burden on health care regimes resource allocation strategies for prevention and control on the wealthiest nations in the region as well as the smallest Pacific islands

Food Wars Michael Heasman, Tim Lang, 2004-04-26 Food Wars is a heartening book which calls for a radical change in the way the world feeds itself It offers a blueprint for a future where nobody goes to bed hungry Derek Cooper founder presenter of the BBC s Food Programme An important book that should be read by everyone who cares about how the way food is produced affects our own health as well as that of the environment and our national economies Marion Nestle author of Food Politics and Paulette Goddard Professor of Nutrition Food Studies and Public Health New York University The emergence of global markets has a far reaching impact on what we eat and on health food security social justice and quality of life What matters now is not just what we eat but how and where it has been produced distributed and processed and the assumptions upon which this production is based a global politics of food and health Food Wars argues that two conflicting paradigms one developing food through integrating the life sciences the other though ecology are battling to replace the dominant industrial productionist model of the 20th century both grappling to attract investment public support and policy legitimacy over the appropriate use of biology and food technologies

Agrifood Transitions in the Anthropocene Allison M. Loconto, Douglas H. Constance, 2024-02-01 The greatest challenges of the twenty first century stem from the fact that we are now living in a new epoch the Anthropocene The human footprint on the planet can no longer be denied One of the greatest and most essential human innovations agriculture is being increasingly recognised as a leading contributor to climate change According to global governance bodies the world will need to feed a predicted nine billion people by 2050 However in this Anthropocene we must address the environmental inequalities in how these people will be fed This book explores our current societal struggles to transition towards more sustainable agrifood systems It suggests that debates around sustainable agriculture must be social as well as technical exploring the growth of social movements campaigning for more democratic food systems However as each chapter demonstrates both the problems and the solutions in sustainable agriculture are highly contested Using the term agrifood to capture the nexus between research governance and the environment knowledge environment governance this book provides an in depth and wide ranging account of current research around agricultural production and food consumption The book introduces the Anthropocene along with the fundamental question that it poses about human nature interactions It outlines the core concerns related to agriculture and food and the debates around the need for agrifood system transitions Each chapter investigates controversies in the field through case studies These contributions offer a call for sociologists of agriculture and food to engage with the controversies unfolding in the Anthropocene

Livestock in a Changing Landscape, Volume 1 Henning Steinfeld, Harold A. Mooney, Fritz Schneider, Laurie E. Neville, 2013-03-06 The rapidly changing nature of animal production systems especially increasing intensification and globalization is playing out in complex ways around the world Over the last century livestock keeping evolved from a means of harnessing marginal resources to produce items for local consumption to a key component of global food chains Livestock in a Changing Landscape offers a comprehensive examination of these important and far reaching trends The books are an outgrowth of a collaborative effort involving international nongovernmental organizations including the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization UN FAO the International Livestock Research Institute ILRI the Swiss College of Agriculture SHL the French Agricultural Research Centre for International Development CIRAD and the Scientific Committee for Problems of the Environment SCOPE Volume 1 examines the forces shaping change in livestock production and management the resulting impacts on landscapes land use and social systems and potential policy and management responses Volume 2 explores needs and draws experience from region specific contexts and detailed case studies The case studies describe how drivers and consequences of change play out in specific geographical areas and how public and private responses are shaped and implemented Together the volumes present new sustainable approaches to the challenges created by fundamental shifts in livestock management and production and represent an essential resource for policy makers industry managers and academics involved with this issue

Nutrition Policy In Transition: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Nutrition Policy In Transition : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Nutrition Policy In Transition : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
