Reverberations Interviews With The World:

Reverberations Robert M. Jacobson, 1974 The Imaginary Museum of Musical Works : An Essay in the Philosophy of Music Lydia Goehr, 1992-03-26 What is the difference between a performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and the symphony itself? What does it mean for musicians to be faithful to the works they perform? To answer such questions Lydia Goehr combines philosophical and historical methods of enquiry. Finding Anglo-American philosophy inadequate for the task, she shows that a historical perspective is indispensable to a full understanding of musical ontology. Goehr examines the concepts and assumptions behind the practice of classical music in the nineteenth century and demonstrates how different they were from those of previous centuries. She rejects the finding that the concept of a musical work emerged in the sixteenth century, placing its emergence instead around 1800. She describes how the concept of a work then came to define the norms, expectations, and behaviour that we now associate with classical music. Out of the historical thesis Goehr draws philosophical conclusions about the normative functions of concepts and ideals. She also addresses current debates among conductors, early music performers, and avant-gardists.

Serving Genius Thomas D. Saler, 2024-03-18 Serving Genius tells the life story of Carlo Maria Giulini, one of the most renowned and beloved conductors of the twentieth century. Detailing Giulini's extraordinary professional career, Thomas D. Saler also chronicles Giulini's personal life, including his musical awakening while growing up amid the spectacular beauty of the Dolomite mountains, his years as a student in Rome's Academy of St. Cecilia, his conscription into the Italian army during World War II, his nine months in hiding for his anti-fascist and pacifist beliefs, and his selfless devotion to his wife Marcella. A humble master who shunned the limelight, Giulini took a deeply emotional and subjective approach to making music. Saler provides a uniquely detailed analysis of Giulini's nuanced musicianship and the way he conveyed that musicianship to the orchestra through physical gestures. Meditating on the very art of conducting at which Giulini excelled, Saler discusses each of the conductor's major musical appointments, including stints with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Philharmonia Orchestra, Vienna Symphony, and Los Angeles Philharmonic. The book also addresses his repertoire of choice, leadership style, and moral framework. Drawing on extensive interviews with Giulini's family, music critics, arts administrators, orchestra members, and collaborating soloists, Serving Genius draws out the personal amid the professional life of this giant among twentieth-century conductors.

Music and Ideology in Cold War Europe Mark Carroll, 2006-11-02 This book places the radicalization of art music in early post-war France in its broader socio-cultural and political context. It pursues two general and intersecting lines of inquiry. The first details the stances towards musical conservatism and innovation adopted by cultural strategists representing Western and Soviet ideological interests at the onset of the Cold War. The second, which draws upon the commentaries of Theodor Adorno and Jean Paul Sartre recognizes that the Cold War generated a heightened political awareness amongst French musicians at the very time when the social relevance of avant garde music had become the subject of widespread debate The study considers the implications of the performance at L Oeuvre du XXe si cle an international arts festival staged in Paris in 1952 with the intention of discrediting socialist realism by means of two opposing musical types neo classicism represented by Stravinsky s Symphony in C and serialism Boulez s Structures 1a Practicing Perfection Roger Chaffin, Gabriela Imreh, Mary Crawford, 2005-04-11 The memory feats of famous musicians seem almost superhuman Can such extraordinary accomplishments be explained by the same principles that account for more ordinary everyday memory abilities To find out a concert pianist videotaped her practice as she learned a new piece for performance the third movement Presto of the Italian Concerto by J S Bach The story of how the pianist went about learning memorizing and polishing the piece is told from the viewpoints of the pianist the second author and of a cognitive psychologist the first author observing the practice The counterpoint between these insider and outsider perspectives is framed by the observations of a social psychologist the third author about how the two viewpoints were reconciled The CD that accompanies the book provides for yet another perspective allowing the reader to hear the polished performance Written for both psychologists and musicians the book provides the first detailed description of how an experienced pianist organizes her practice identifying stages of the learning process characteristics of expert practice and practice strategies The main focus however is on memorization An analysis of what prominent pianists of the past century have said about memorization reveals considerable disagreement and confusion Using previous work on expert memory as a starting point the authors show how principles of memory developed by cognitive psychologists apply to musical performance and uncover the intimate connection between memorization and interpretation symphonies by these conductors and highlights aspects which the composer might well have commended Finally Dymant suggests the importance of his conclusions for those contemporary conductors who are currently attempting to rediscover genuine performance traditions in their own re creations of the symphonies This major study is complemented with forty photographs and a frontispiece It is sure to fascinate musicians Brahms enthusiasts and those interested in the history of recorded music CHRISTOPHER DYMENT is author of Felix Weingartner Recollections and Recordings Triad Press 1976 and Toscanini in Britain The Boydell Press 2012 He has published many articles about historic conductors over the last forty years
