Bodies: Prostitution and Masculinity in Chinese Fiction Paola Zamperini,2010-06-28 This important contribution to the study of early modern Chinese fiction and representation of gender relations focuses on literary representations of the prostitute produced in the Ming and Qing periods Following her heavily symbolic body the present work maps this fictional heroine's journey from innocence to sex work and beyond This crucial angle allows the author to paint a picture of gender identity sexuality and desire that is at once unitary and multi layered and that comes to illuminate some of the major themes in the construction of Chinese modernity Metro Movies Harry H. Kuoshu,2010-12-23 Metro Movies Cinematic Urbanism in Post Mao China takes readers on a comprehensive tour of the urbanization of Chinese cinema Focusing primarily on movies from the end of the twentieth century it is the first single authored work to explore the relationship between the changes in Chinese society caused in part by the advent of postsocialism the growth of cities and globalization and the transformation of Chinese cinema Author Harry H Kuoshu examines such themes as displacement cinematic representation youth subculture the private emotional lives of emerging urbanites raw urban realism and the allegorical contrast of the city and the countryside to illustrate the artistic richness and cultural diversity of this cinematic genre Kuoshu discusses the work of director Huang Jianxin whose films follow and critique China's changing urban political culture He dedicates a chapter to filmmakers who followed Huang and attempted to redefine the concept of art films to regain the local audience These directors address Chinese moviegoers' disappointment with the international adoption of Chinese art films their lack of interest in conventional Chinese films and their fascination with emerging audio video media A considerable amount of attention is given to films of the 1990s which focus on the social changes surfacing in China from the trend of hooliganism and the Beijing rock scene to the arrival of an urban pop culture lifestyle driven by expansionist commerce and materialism Kuoshu also explores recent films that confront the seedier aspects of city life as well as films that demonstrate how urbanization has touched every fiber of Chinese living Metro Movies illustrates how cinematic urbanism is no longer a genre indicator but is instead an era indicator revealing the dominance of metropolitan living on modern Chinese culture It gives new insight into contemporary Chinese politics and culture and provides readers with a better understanding of China's urban cinema This book will be an excellent addition to college film courses and will fascinate any reader with an interest in film studies or Chinese culture Surrealism and the People's Republic of China Lauren Walden,2025-11-13 This study investigates cultural exchange between the Surrealist movement and the People's Republic of China 1949 present Surrealist

art was officially prohibited under Mao's rule 1949-1976. However, the book interrogates potent tensions in clandestinely created surrealist artworks by Zhao Shou and Sha Qi who discovered the movement while studying abroad. Furthermore, Walden explores how several European Surrealists aligned Chinese calligraphy with automatism as well as Michel Leiris and Marcel Mariën's travels to Maoist China and their diametrically opposed visions of the nation. Amidst post-socialism, the book posits that the 85 New Wave consciously employed Surrealism to process the traumatic Cultural Revolution (1966-1976) and react to newfound societal freedoms. Subsequently, the volume considers why a new artistic tendency of surrealist pop emerged in the 1990s. At present, Lauren Walden reveals how Surrealism has become officialised and even promoted by Chinese authorities owing to revolutionary resonances between traditional Chinese art and the western avant-garde. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, Chinese studies, and Surrealism. Remaking China's Great Cities Samuel Y. Liang, 2014-07-25 China's rapid urbanization has restructured the great socialist cities Beijing, Shanghai, and Guangzhou into mega-cities that embrace global capitalism. This book focuses on the urban transformations of these three cities. Beijing is the nation's political and cultural capital, Shanghai is the economic and financial powerhouse, and Guangzhou is the capital of Guangdong Province and the regional center of south China. All are historical cities with rich imperial, colonial, and regional heritages, and all have been drastically transformed in the last six decades. This book examines the cities' continuous urban legacies since 1949 in relation to state governance, economic reforms, and cultural production. By adopting local historical perspectives, it offers more nuanced accounts of the current urban change than the modernization/globalization paradigm and conceptualizes the change in the context of the cities' socialist, colonial, and imperial legacies. Specifically, Samuel Y. Liang offers an overview of the urban planning and territorial expansion of the great cities since 1949, explores the production and consumption of urban housing, its spatial forms, media representations, and socio-political implications, and examines the state-led redevelopment of old urban cores and residential neighborhoods and the urban conservation movement. Remaking China's Great Cities will be of great interest to students and scholars working across a range of fields including Chinese studies, Chinese culture and society, urban studies, and architecture.

Youth Economy, Crisis, and Reinvention in Twenty-First-Century China Hui Faye Xiao, 2019-11-22 This book surveys the explosive youth culture in twenty-first-century China, an active and powerful force catalysing cultural innovations, social changes, and collective efforts re-inventing a pluralistic and multivalent youth qingnian in an age of enormous change, division, and uncertainty. Providing a comprehensive analysis of literary, cinematic, musical, televisual, and social media representations about, for, and by disparate youth groups, this book seeks to offer a systematic investigation of a trans-medial and multi-locale youth culture. In so doing, it examines contributions from high school dropouts, industrial workers, migrant laborers, and leftover women, as well as best-selling writers and filmmakers, cultural entrepreneurs, queer idols and fans and young feminist activists Observing the Chinese youths deployment of small genres such as light novels and short videos in addition to digital media this book ultimately demonstrates the renewal of cultural forms and the transformative power of networked small atomized individuals in reinventing a youthful coalition of silenced belittled and marginalized groups A thoroughly interdisciplinary study Youth Economy Crisis and Reinvention in Twenty First Century China will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese culture and society as well as Literary Studies Cultural Studies Gender Studies and Media Studies

Debating the Socialist Legacy and Capitalist Globalization in China X. Zhong, B. Wang, 2016-01-26 The first English collection of translated essays by Chinese literary scholars writers and critics this volume focuses on the legacy of socialist culture and post socialist phenomena within the context of capitalist globalization By rethinking socialism literature and culture in relation to the intellectual and cultural trends since the start of the reform and by debating the rise of the new left culture this book seeks to offer critical voices while evoking the themes of the socialist past to bear on the 21st century Chinese intellectual and cultural scenes
