The Inner Level Richard Wilkinson, Kate Pickett, 2019-01-22 A groundbreaking investigation of how inequality infects our minds and gets under our skin Why are people more relaxed and at ease with each other in some countries than others Why do we worry so much about what others think of us and often feel social life is a stressful performance Why is mental illness three times as common in the USA as in Germany Why is the American dream more of a reality in Denmark than the USA What makes child well being so much worse in some countries than others As The Inner Level demonstrates the answer to all these is inequality In The Spirit Level Richard Wilkinson and Kate Pickett put inequality at the center of public debate by showing conclusively that less equal societies fare worse than more equal ones across everything from education to life expectancy The Inner Level now explains how inequality affects us individually altering how we think feel and behave It sets out the overwhelming evidence that material inequities have powerful psychological effects when the gap between rich and poor increases so does the tendency to define and value ourselves and others in terms of superiority and inferiority A deep well of data and analysis is drawn upon to empirically show for example that low social status leads to elevated levels of stress hormones and how rates of anxiety depression and addictions are intimately related to the inequality which makes that status paramount Wilkinson and Pickett describe how these responses to hierarchies evolved and why the impacts of inequality on us are so severe In doing so they challenge the conception that humans are inescapably competitive and self interested They undermine too the idea that inequality is the product of natural differences in individual ability This book draws together many of the most urgent problems facing societies today but it is not just an index of our ills It demonstrates that societies based on fundamental equalities sharing and reciprocity generate much higher levels of well being and lays out the path towards them

Gifts and Interests Antoon Vanderveelde, 2000 According to a common understanding of economics economists attempt to understand and explain societal reality in the light of individual self interest For them a gift is no exception to this except for the slight and misleading veil of altruism which covers a purely egoistic motivation On the other hand theologians philosophers and ethicists use a more normative concept of man Man realises his best potential through deeds of selfless sacrifice that remain unknown to everyone In reality however people are either entirely egoistic nor altruistic Marcel Mauss model of the gift is interesting because it seems to escape the classical or rather modern egoism altruism dichotomy Gifts are not primarily motivated by the well being of myself or the other but rather by the desire to bring about or maintain a certain kind of social relation between giver and receiver Altruistic as well as egoistic motivations are an integral part of that relation The role of gifts in the constitution of social relations and social cohesion explains why most kinds of gifts are reciprocal and even obligatory In this book anthropologists sociologists and economists as well as philosophers focus on the question of the relevance of Mauss work on the gift for the understanding of actual social phenomena

Unhealthy Societies Richard G. Wilkinson, 2002-09-11 Among the developed countries it is not the richest societies which have the best health but those which have the smallest income differences between rich and poor Inequality and relative poverty have absolute effects they increase death rates But why How can smaller income differences raise average life expectancy Using examples from the USA Britain Japan and Eastern Europe and bringing together evidence from the social and medical sciences Unhealthy Societies provides the explanation Healthy egalitarian societies are more socially cohesive They have a stronger community life and suffer fewer of the corrosive effects of inequality As well as inequality weakening the social fabric damaging health and increasing crime rates Unhealthy Societies shows that social cohesion is crucial to the quality of life The contrast between the material success and social failure of modern societies marks an imbalance which needs attention The relationship between health and equality suggests that important social needs will go unmet without a larger measure of social and distributive justice This path breaking book is essential reading for health psychologists sociologists welfare economists social policy analysts and all those concerned with the future of developed societies

California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Motives and Expression in Religious Education Charles S. Ikenberry, 1922 Grateful Caretakers of God's Many Gifts Joseph M. Champlin, 2002 The message of stewardship invites us to give our time talent and treasure in gratitude for our abundant blessings Fostering grateful caretakers in parishes is an ongoing task that requires vision courage and trust In Grateful Caretakers of God s Many Gifts the first major revision of Fr Joseph Champlin s ground breaking sacrificial giving program

Father Champlin continues to encourage the sharing of treasure time and talent transforming parishioners into grateful caretakers of God's many gifts. Grateful Caretakers of God's Many Gifts provides a theological and biblical basis for stewardship and gives detailed guidance for sharing time, talent, and treasure. It also offers the history, foundational principles, and implementation steps for sacrificial giving, a form of stewardship. The manual likewise provides a wealth of material for sustaining and strengthening grateful caretaking in a parish on a long-term basis. Finally, it offers practical suggestions on a number of special issues in stewardship, including accountability, annual renewals, customized direct deposit of Sunday offerings, planned giving, and parish stewardship councils, and training our youth to share. Father Champlin shows that the sacrificial giving process effectively supports grateful caretakers of God's gifts: people in the parish willing to share significantly their time, talent, and treasure for the Church and the world. It has been proven in practice, is biblically and theologically sound, actively involves lay persons, touches the hearts of parishioners, is uncomplicated and inexpensive to implement, produces impressive short-term results, and provides long-term possibilities. Grateful Caretakers of God's Many Gifts builds on Father Champlin's original sacrificial giving publications in both the theory and practice of how to motivate parishioners to become active stewards of their faith. It has ongoing value for those concerned about fostering grateful caretaking in a parish.
