that the development of restitutive norms has been auxiliary to the emergence of modern state sovereignty and excavates the restitutive tradition's mythical religious substrate. Bringing together texts from within and outwith the Western canon of political theory and philosophy including the writings of Grotius, Durkheim, Freud and Klein as well as Mary Shelley's Frankenstein, the book undertakes a dual task: reading literary texts as a political theorising of restitution and reading political or sociological texts as literary narratives with distinctive restitutive tropes of repair, undoing and return.

Novel Education Deborah P. Britzman, 2006. What is a novel education like? The surprising reply supposes that fiction affects the crisis of understanding work within the human professions of teaching and psychoanalysis. The studies of learning and not learning presented begin with the delicate surprise made from representing affective experiences and conflicts within self and other relations. Freud's question of presenting psychoanalysis to others and the accidental pedagogy made continues to animate our debates on the uses of affected learning. Novel Education analyzes the perils and pleasures of inviting narrating and interpreting emotional experience in learning and not learning. Drawing upon contemporary psychoanalytic debates on the relation between understanding and therapeutic action, these studies open discussion on the unusual world of psychoanalytic methods and link free association and the transference to the aesthetic conflicts made from thinking about sexuality and the difficulties of inhibition in learning, listening and the teacher's memory of remembering learning to teach. Novel Education highlights a discussion of the teacher's depression and the difficulty of formulating subjective knowledge from practices, philosophies and theories in the human professions. It raises the question of how fields of thought and practice affect themselves. How may we describe the human idiom made in pedagogical and psychoanalytic relationships? And why join learning to not learning? This thought-provoking book is essential reading on a broad range of fields for undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty members.

Approaching Psychoanalysis David Livingstone Smith, 2018-05-30. This book provides the scope and complexity of Freud's contributions and emphasizes the wide proliferation of the Lacanian approach. Experiential Learning in Organizations Laurence J. Gould, 2018-05-01. This book shows the ways in which the boundaries of the basic group relations training conference model of experiential learning have been extended to provide creative conceptual and applied links to both management and group and organizational education training and consultancy practice.

Finding a Way to the Child Margaret Rustin, 2022-12-30. Margaret Rustin's writing is characterised not only by its subject matter which is diverse but by her imaginative sensitivity to the emotional lives of children and young people, the depth of her understanding and her original insights into the complexities of child and adolescent psychotherapy. Here a selection of her work edited by Kate Stratton and Simon Cregeen is brought together in a collection which focuses mainly on clinical issues and concerns the dynamics of the interaction between patient and therapist in the consulting room, the task of assessment, the particular needs of children and young people whose early development has been distorted by trauma, loss or neglect and the framework and skills required for effective psychoanalytic work with parents Illustrated by vivid narratives detailing the strains and possibilities of the therapeutic encounter this book is a record of clinical work and thinking over 50 years of psychoanalytic practice It will prove essential reading for psychoanalysts and child analysts child psychotherapists all those training as mental health professionals in work with children and parents and anyone with an interest in deepening their understanding of the emotional lives of children and young people On Freud's Mourning and Melancholia

Thierry Bokanowski, 2018-05-08 Both melancholia and mourning are triggered by the same thing that is by loss The distinction often made is that mourning occurs after the death of a loved one while in melancholia the object of love does not qualify as irretrievably lost The Uninvited Guest James V. Fisher, 2018-05-30 This book brings together a deep thoughtfulness about the insights of psychoanalysis and its application to work with troubled couples with an original and closely argued reading of some classic plays about marriage It will be of use to readers interested in psychoanalysis and literature
